MRS. EMELIUS SAYS FATHER WAS DRUNK

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer tonight; colder Wednesday afternoon or night; brisk to high westerly winds.
Sun rises 7:03 a. m.; sets 4:12 p. m.
Moon sets 5:36 p. m.
High tide 12:15 a. m.; 12:15 p. m.
Temperatures: Boston 32, New York 30, Chicago 34, Denver 30, Los Angeles 48, San Francisco 46.

BOSTON AMERICAN

10 O'CLOCK EDITION

VOL. 9-No. 262. BOSTON, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1912. Registered in U. S. Patent Office. PRICE ONE CENT.

MELLEN IN CONGRESS ACCUSED OF RAFT

MRS. EMELIUS IS WITNESS AT MAINE TRIAL

COURTHOUSE, Houlton, Me., Dec. 14.—Mrs. Belle Emellus, wife of the Rev. Charles N. Emellus, daughter of Mrs. Annie Jacobson and brother of Edgar Jacobson, all three of whom are on trial for the murder of Augustus Jacobson, took the witness stand today for the defence. The man alleged to have been murdered was the father of the clergyman's young wife.

Mrs. Emellus testified that on the day before it is claimed Jacobson was shot and killed she met him in the road with fishing tackle and a gun. She said she thought her father had been drinking. She tried to induce him to go home but he would not do it.

Mrs. Emellus was dressed in a natty tailored black suit with small black hat to match. When questioned on direct examination she was very calm and replied to the questions in a clear and firm voice. She said she was twenty-nine years old, and that the accused minister is her second husband.

Met Father on Road.

Q.—Were you at the Lotherian parsonage on the day that your father died? A.—Yes, there was a luncheon there for the visiting pastors.

Q.—Where did you go that evening? A.—To church.

Q.—Then where? A.—I walked home with a neighbor.

Q.—Did you meet your father? A.—Yes; he met me on the road; he was driving.

Q.—Did you notice his condition? A.—I think he had been drinking.

Q.—Did he turn around? A.—Yes, and came up to me. I got in the carriage. He had a jug, gun, fishing rod and a blanket.

Q.—Who was with you? A.—Mr. Trousen.

Q.—Did you notice anything unusual or peculiar about your father at that time? A.—He was sitting in an unnatural position, his voice was not natural, his head was bowed.

The witness had been directed by the court to state anything unusual about her father's conduct, but not to state any

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

WORKMEN FLEE CAVE-IN DANGER IN BOYLSTON ST.

Workmen employed in the construction of a six-story building at No. 569 Boylston street—which is at Copley square—were forced to quit work today because one of the side walls of the structure which had been completed had been forced three inches out of plumb by the strong winds that have prevailed of late.

Should the wall fall it would tumble onto the foundation of the building built for a structure at Nos. 571-576 Boylston street where there are about fifty men at work. These men stuck to their job.

Building Inspector Homa and Supervisor Tanner looked over the wall today preparatory to making a report as to what could be done. Daniel Dewar, the contractor, said that he had shored up the wall strongly and he didn't think that there was any immediate danger of the wall falling, at least. He said he was ready to do whatever the building department thought best in the matter.

Pedestrians in that section of the city gave Boylston street at that point a wide berth when they learned of the leaning wall.

HUNT RELATIVES OF "ERNEST C. HANSON"

Relief Hospital authorities and the Boston police are trying to learn the home and facts of a delirious patient who is thought to be named Ernest C. Hanson. The patient, about forty-five years old, was found in a doorway on Blackstone street, unconscious, last Friday night. He is stricken dangerously with double pneumonia. In his ravings he says: "I'm Ernest C. Hanson." Tied he shutters about "Alice Hanson," and about "347 Essex street, Lynn." The patient has iron-gray hair, is smooth-faced and wore ordinary clothing when found.

YOUNG DENIES GUILT IN OPERA HOUSE BLOW-UP

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10.—Michael J. Young of Boston, a member of the Iron Workers' International executive board, took the stand in his own defence at the dynamite conspiracy trial today and denied all knowledge of or connection with the McNamara dynamite conspiracy.

McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, said that McNamara sent him with explosives to get instructions from Young at Boston as to what building he should dynamite. McManigal testified that he went to Young, told him his mission, and that Young took him to the new Opera House, then being built in Boston, and showed him where he wanted the explosive.

McManigal said that he blew this job on the night of March 27, 1909.

McManigal said McNamara sent him back to Young early in April, 1911, with more explosives, and that Young took him to Springfield, Mass., and showed him where he wanted explosives placed in the municipal group of buildings then going up.

McManigal blew up the base of the municipal tower the night of April 4, 1911, according to his confession. Young was the first of the forty-one defendants to testify, who is charged with active participation in any of the explosions.

As a member of the executive board of the International Union, he is charged with conspiring in the board's action in suspending publication of the Union's expenditures.

"A number of letters that passed between Young and McNamara have been introduced by the government, which says that the letters are incriminating. In a letter written by Young several days after the Springfield explosion he told McNamara he did not "Want to write much about local conditions now. I will see you Monday, April 17."

Young denied all of these things today. He said his correspondence never referred to dynamiting.

12,000 STRIKE, BRITAIN FACES COAL FAMINE

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Paralysis of industrial life and a coal famine are threatened as a result of the strike on the Northeastern railway. Many industrial plants were compelled to close today because of lack of fuel and numerous collieries were shut down because the output could not be carried away.

At noon today 12,000 men were idle and it was estimated that by night this number would be increased to at least 15,000. The Northeastern line is disorganized. The suggestion was made that the government intercede. It was proposed that Sir George Askwith, the "strike-breaker" of the Board of Trade, mediate.

The strike is ostensibly for personal liberty, not a matter of wages and hours. Engineer Knox of the Northeastern was reduced in rank because he was drunk on duty. His fellows demand his immediate reinstatement, insisting that he had a right to get drunk so long as he attended to his work. The railway officials refused to restore to Knox the position as express engineer, and the men struck.

ARREST CAPTAIN OF WINIFREDIAN

Captain Frederick Shepherd of the Leyland liner Winifredian was arrested today by United States authorities on the charge that he carried a wireless equipment on the vessel in connection with which there was not sufficient communication between the bridge and operator in the radio room. Shepherd was held in $500 for a hearing on January 12. This is the second arrest under a law that was passed following the Titanic disaster.

AUSTRALIA HITS AMERICAN TRUSTS

MELBOURNE, Dec. 10.—By 41 to 25, the House of Representatives of Australia today passed a bill aimed at the International Steel Trust and the American Beef Trust. The new law gives the government the power to regulate trusts, monopolies and combines.

MELLEN GIVEN CHANCE TO TELL ALL TO THE GRAND JURY OF THE PEOPLE

The following telegram was sent to Charles S. Mellen this morning by the Boston AMERICAN.

Later in the day it was learned that Mr. Mellen is now in Boston and a copy of the telegram was sent to him here. Mr. Mellen read the AMERICAN'S offer, but said he would take time to consider it.

Boston, December 10.

C. S. Mellen, President, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, New Haven, Ct.

In view of the fact that your request to the United States District Attorney at New York to go before the Grand Jury and make a complete statement of all the negotiations in the New York, New Haven & Hartford-Grand Trunk Railroad deal, and other railroads and steamship lines in which you say you are the only person who knows all the facts and can give the actual truth about the various mergers and all the financial operations of your company.

And in view of the further fact that the United States District Attorney at New York has ignored your request and will not let you appear before the Grand Jury, the Boston AMERICAN herewith offers an opportunity for you to reach THE REAL GRAND JURY OF THE PEOPLE through the circulation of four hundred thousand daily, the Grand Jury that wants to know and has the right to know all the facts that you say you alone have knowledge of.

The Boston AMERICAN herewith opens to you its columns for such statement as you may wish to make.

And the AMERICAN agrees to publish your statement in detail, whether it makes one column or forty columns, providing you give the information you say you have at your disposal, without cost to you and without cost to the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

The AMERICAN will pay the expense of stenographers, telegraph tolls and any other that may be necessary for you to furnish the statement. The AMERICAN feels sure that such statement by you will do much to clarify the present railroad situation in New England.

Please reply by telegram to the Boston AMERICAN at our expense.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN, 80 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

DEATH OF RICH MAN HASTENED BY BOOK DEAL

The death of Francis W. Stanley of Peabody, secretary of the American Glue Company, one of the big corporations of the country, it was reported today, was hastened by his entanglement with the audacious "de luxe" book agents who raided Boston and all of New England out of millions of dollars.

The name of Mr. Stanley, who died two years ago, is one of many new names that have come to the attention of the detectives who are working up the evidence against the "de luxe" scoundrels. They have found that death, insanity, nervous prostration and financial ruin have followed in the wake of the venders of the dishonest wares.

Mr. Stanley, who was worth a quarter of a million dollars, bought books to the amount, it is said, of $25,000. Some of the cases were never opened. He was not even a great reader, it is said. The book companies brought suit against him and a compromise was effected, the books being shipped back to the companies.

How much money was paid to get the matter fixed up did not become public. His property was left to his son, Mrs. Rufus H. Brown. Mr. Stanley had formerly been in the leather business with her husband, and it was in that business that he made most of his money.

STEAMER IS SUNK BY BATTLESHIP ON THE BRITISH COAST

DAVENPORT, England, Dec. 10.—The British battleship Centurion sunk a steamer in a collision off the British coast this afternoon, according to a wireless dispatch received here. The battleship's bow was damaged, the dispatch stated, and it is believed from this that the Centurion ran head-on into the steamer. The first report from the battleship gave no details as to the loss of life.

'JIM CROW' SLEEPING CARS IN MISSISSIPPI

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 10.—A decision handed down today by the State Supreme Court holds that the "jim crow" law applies to sleeping cars on railroads as well as day coaches, and that if railroads wish to accommodate negro passengers with sleeping cars they must furnish separate cars entirely.

"NICK" LONGWORTH TO BE A BANKER

CINCINNATI, Dec. 10.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, recently defeated for re-election, is to become the head of a great banking and trust company in Cincinnati, it was learned this afternoon.

N. Y. Clearing House Methods Are Bared in Money Trust Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Determined to show the control which the big clearing house institution possesses or are attempting to acquire over the bank of the country, the Pujo money trust investigating committee of the House today turned its inquiry in the direction of the New York Clearing House Association.

Walter E. Frew, chairman of the New York clearing house committee, and president of the Corn Exchange Bank, was the first witness.

Mr. Frew admitted that the New York clearing house rule, which receives banks into membership according to the amount of capital they possess, and does not take into consideration their surplus, might be fairer if "surplus were included in the specifications." Frew denied that a big surplus was necessary to make a bank safe.

"You think a bank without a surplus is as safe as an institution that has one?" asked Untermeyer.

"If it sustained a loss it is not; if it has no loss, it is," said Frew.

Frew said the question of surplus as a factor in determining the admissibility of new members to the clearing house had not been agitated.

"Are not the powers of the clearing house committee arbitrarily," asked Untermeyer.

"I don't think so," said Frew.

"Is there any reason why a bank should resign through the clearing house at all?" asked Untermeyer.

"Yes," said Frew. "It facilitates business."

Frew said he could not recall any case where a New York clearing house bank had been suspended and had survived the shock.

HOSFORD INDICTED UPON 94 COUNTS IN FOUR TRUE BILLS

Four secret indictments, totalling ninety-four counts, were returned by the Suffolk Grand Jury at 9:30 today against Edward H. Hosford, the Malden Sunday school superintendent, charged with larceny of $25,000 from Frank Paige, a Boston business man.

Hosford was rearrested by Inspector Farrell McCarthy on a secret indictment warrin when he came into the lower court to plead to the original charge. He was taken up to the Superior Criminal Court detention room to await arraignment on the indictments. The lower court charge was dismissed.

One of the four indictments charges Hosford with uttering in twenty counts and with forging in the same number. Another indictment contains eleven counts of uttering and the same of forging. The third indictment has thirtyone counts of larceny and the fourth indictment is in one count of larceny.

The general charge against Hosford has been that he obtained loans from Mr. Paige by means of doctored bills of lading of the James Donovan Shipper Company, of which he was treasurer. He has been out on $10,000 bail.

HAYWARD HEIR SEEKS SHARE OF $1,000,000 FUND

The well-meant effort of William E. Hayward, a Brookline millionaire, formerly of Indianapolis, to provide for himself, his wife and two married daughters for life, resulted today in the entire family coming before Judge Morton in the Supreme Judicial Court because one of the daughters thinks that the mother is unfair.

This daughter is Mrs. Evadne H. Hibben of Brookline. She asks that her mother and Charles K. Meyers, formerly private secretary to her father, be removed as trustees of the millionaire-dollar trust fund which William E. Hayward created to support his family.

Mrs. Hibben declared, in her bill, that Meyers is dominated and controlled in the trusteeship by her mother, that her mother is hostile to her and that she is not getting her share of the trust income.

Incidentally, it was brought out that Meyers was formerly a $75-a-month clerk on the Wabash Railroad. He rose to $150 a month, became Mr. Hayward's private secretary and now is co-trustee of a million-dollar fund.

Created Trust Last Year.

Mr. Hayward created this trust on December 28, 1911. He thought he had the whole family provided for. He put all his property, over a million, into a trust fund.

He provided that, after the living expenses of his wife and himself were paid, the net income should be divided between the parents and their two married daughters, Mrs. Hibben of Brookline and Mrs. Susan H. Schneider of Philadelphia.

In court the family was in three groups. One "group" was composed of Mr. Hayward, who watched rather dismally this court argument over the trust fund that he had thought so fair.

Hayward Sits Alone.

With a button of the Loyal Legion of Honor, Mr. Hayward sat by himself.

In another group were Mrs. Hibben, her husband, Dr. Hibben, son of an Indianapolis street railway director, and Moorfield Storey, head of the Anti-Imperialist Association, counsel for Mrs. Hibben.

Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Schneider, Meyers, their counsel, and John P. Frenzel, president of the Indiana Trust Company, of Indianapolis, were the third group.

GOETHALS MAY BE AMAJOR-GENERAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Senator Saulsbury of Tennessee today introduced a bill to enable the President to appoint an additional major-general in the United States army. If the bill becomes a law it is believed this honor will be conferred upon Colonel George W. Goethals, the builder of the Panama Canal.

BEARS RESUME ATTACK; RALLY FOLLOWS DROP

The public declined to buy when prices, based upon estimated values, grew attractive. There was little support to the market by banking interests and the bear pressure has been continuous as well as aggressive.

Some issues sold down to the lowest prices touched in months, in early trading.

Amalgamated Opens Lower.

Amalgamated Copper opened one point lower in the big market and within ten minutes showed a net decline of 1¼. Bears assailed Consolidated Gas and it was another weak feature, losing a point and a half on the first sale.

American Can went down 1¼ right off the reel. It remained one of the most vulnerable stocks on the list. It was derisively called "sleeve" by some traders. D. G. Reid has gone on a trip over the Rock Island lines, and will visit Texas. Ther. was heavy selling of Western Union. It had a point on the first transaction.

During the first half-hour there were a number of prominent stocks which declined.

Rally Comes Quickly.

After half an hour a better tone prevailed. Heeding recovered all its early loss, and gains of ½ were made by Louisville & Nashville and Great Northern preferred. Steel also rallied fractionally.

The New York Curb market was weak.

The London copper market was easy; spot and futures closing 2s. 6d. lower, with spot sales 500 and futures 1,300 tons.

One prominent American banker blames the recent heavy liquidation in stocks upon the Harriman lines merger decision by the United States Supreme Court, saying that it was a blow not only to the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, but to every railroad system in the country.

Tone Weak in Boston.

The Boston market was quite broad and active, but the tone was weak. It opened with coppers going down.

At the end of the first hour American Zinc was ¼ lower, Butter & Superior 2¼, Copper Range 1¼, Tamarack 3 points, Superior 2 points, Calumet & Arizona 4 points, Mohawk 3 points, Granby 2¾ and Nevada Consolidated 1¼.

TAKE UP CONTEST OF BOWMAN'S SEAT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The House today by a vote of 165 to 114 decided to take up the contest involving the seat of Representative Bowman (Republican) of the Eleventh Pennsylvania District, who is alleged to have been illegally elected. The contestant for the seat is George R. McLean.

MORGAN IS FLAYED FOR HOLDING UP GR. TRUNK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Charges of graft against Charles S. Mellen, head of the New Haven road, were made today by Representative O'Shaunessy of Rhode Island, when he denounced the New Haven Railroad before the House Rules Committee in Washington, calling it: "A monstrosity of a water-logged corporation."

He declared that the people riding between New York and Boston are left "At the mercy of a corporation which thinks more of its strangulation of real and threatened competition than it does of human life."

Representatives of five States in all a dozen municipalities gathered here today to tell the House Rules Committee in whose hands temporarily rests the fate of the O'Shaunessy resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the alleged Grand Trunk-New Haven traffic monopoly, why the measure should be favorably reported. The tiny room allotted for the meeting was packed when Chairman Henry finally called the session to order.

Representative O'Shaunessy made the opening statement, saying:

President Says of the Grand Trunk went to his death on the Titanic and it appears that honor died with him, so is sacred promises and pledges were concerned. A generous people, whose State has been torn wide open, have been outrageously betrayed. The photographs which I now introduce tells the story more eloquently than any words of mine.

The Rhode Island representative then produced several photographs showing present conditions along the New Haven road and continued:

A striking coincidence of the chased attitude of the Grand Trunk officials is the recent visit to London of J. P.

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

FEAR AMERICANS KILLED IN MEXICO.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 10.—Fears are felt here that James Little and Sam Bailey, two American mining engineers employed by the Greene copper interests, have been killed by Yaqui Indians while examining ore properties near Nazattan.

BIKE RACERS AHEAD OF RECORD.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—At 2 p. m. the 38th hour, the 15 teams in the bicycle race had covered 782 miles being then 9 miles ahead of record set by Halstead and Drobach, 1911.

INVESTIGATION TO BEGIN DEC. 17.

Washington, Dec. 10.—It is believed that the investigation of the Senate probably will begin in December according to a statement by Chairman Clapp today.

TUFTS HEAD URGES FUND OF $1,000,000

If Tufts College wishes to remain in the front rank of American colleges, it must have an endowment fund of $1,000,000 to supply able teachers and adequate equipment, according to the statement submitted today by President William L. Hooper.

REPORT IRISH CROWN JEWELS RESTORED

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A rumor is current in London that the Irish crown jewels mysteriously stolen from Dublin Castle in 1907, have been placed intact in their original position.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN BOSTON DECEMBER 9, 1912

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, DECEMBER 9, 1912.

Largest Circulation in New England, DAILY and SUNDAY.

The Best of All "Shows" for the Tired New England Business Man

The Boston Chamber of Commerce Is Preparing to Put It On in April—It Will Run Three Months—There Will Be No Tickets for Speculators—The Scenes Will Be Laid Along the Panama Canal and in the Republics of South America—Mr. New England Business Man, DO NOT MISS THIS SHOW!

Six weeks ago on this page the AMERICAN suggested to the Boston Chamber of Commerce a "friendship" excursion by New England merchants and manufacturers to the Pacific republics of South America, soon to be brought in touch with us by the opening of the Panama Canal.

The Chamber of Commerce has undertaken such an excursion and has embarked in the enterprise with ALL THE DASH AND COURAGE THAT HAS CHARACTERIZED THE CHAMBER OF RECENT YEARS. The "friendship" excursion will be made. The AMERICAN has no doubt that it will establish a NEW MARK IN THE SUCCESS OF SUCH ADVENTURES.

We are glad to observe, too, that the Chamber of Commerce excursion is receiving the hearty indorsement and the splendid support of the NEWSPAPERS OF NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND.

This, in our opinion, is quite as it should be. When we speak of "Boston" in trade or commerce, we do not have in mind Boston the city, alone, but that greater Boston which stands for ALL NEW ENGLAND. The opening of the Canal and the trade that must come from that wonderful creation cannot help Boston without helping Burlington, cannot mean much to Boston without meaning a lot to Bangor, cannot be a boon to Boston without being a MUCH GREATER BOON TO ALL NEW ENGLAND.

It seems to this newspaper, in the month of December, that the WISE merchant will be he who engages his booking for this excursion IMMEDIATELY. The start will be made in April. There are signs today that the requests for reservations will finally exceed—AND EXCEED GREATLY—the capacity of special trains and steamship.

MR NEW ENGLAND BUSINESS MAN, BE A MEMBER OF THIS FRIENDSHIP EXCURSION!

Go for the good of New England! Go for the improvement of New England business! Go to make friends with our neighbors of the South American republics! Go for your own good!

And, if you cannot go, send one of the brightest and most capable of the younger men in your business.

The AMERICAN today urges a speedy reservation of tickets because, for one thing, of the enthusiasm with which the suggestion has been taken up among the shoe men.

The shoe, leather and allied trades have already gained a foothold in South American countries, and this without a personal canvass of the field, although the big men of the business think little or nothing of a trip to Europe. They will go to South America in numbers. We feel that their enthusiasm for the project will have its good effect upon their friends and acquaintances in other lines.

Not everybody, we observe, will be PERMITTED TO JOIN THE PARTY.

The present requirements are that the would-be excursionist must know something of South American markets, must have goods to sell to the South American and must have some knowledge of routes and rates to South America.

The journey will take a little more than three months. The route will be to Panama, across the isthmus by way of the Canal route, down the west coast of South America, across the southern portion of the continent, and up the Atlantic Coast.

We know of no finer Christmas present that the New England business man can make to New England than a ticket for this excursion—TO BE USED BY HIMSELF.

Considering the time, the service, the enterprise, and all the honest and innocent fun that must go with it, the cost of the trip will be trifling.

The United States Should Own the Home of Thomas Jefferson

Copyright, 1912, by American-Journal-Examiner.

The first man in the history of the United States is George Washington. The second man undoubtedly is Thomas Jefferson. This may be said, while admitting that Lincoln was in his later day as great and as useful to his country as either.

The nation owns the home of Washington, takes care of it and maintains it for the benefit of all the people.

The nation SHOULD do the same with the home of Thomas Jefferson, writer of the Declaration of Independence.

Thomas Jefferson's home is now the private property of Mr. Jefferson M. Levy, a member of Congress from New York State.

Mr. Levy is an amiable and a rich gentleman.

He was named for Thomas Jefferson, but he is not related to Thomas Jefferson. He would not be giving up "the home of his ancestors" if he consented to sell his property to the United States.

There may have been some exaggeration in the statements as to Mr. Levy's failure to keep the Jefferson home in first-class order, or about difficulties encountered by citizens anxious to visit the historic residence.

There is no denying, however, that the people ought to own that place, and that Mr. Levy for a fair price should give his consent to ownership by the people. He has, of course, derived no income from the place, and perhaps a fair estimate of the value of the place—assuming, as we safely may, that Mr. Levy would not be willing to make any profit out of it—would be the price paid for it originally by Mr. Levy's family with five per cent. added from the day of purchase to the present day.

Should that seem too high a price, a fair sum could be agreed upon by an impartial committee.

Congressman Levy, in common with all the other inhabitants of the United States, shares the benefit of the magnificent work done by Thomas Jefferson. We are inclined to believe that upon thinking it over carefully he will be willing to share ownership of the Thomas Jefferson ho[illegible] with all the people of the United States.

Jenkins, He's a Lively Guy

By TAD

GO ON PHIL ADDA BOY
WELL THAT STUFF DON'T GO WITH ME
WELL" HE NEVER ALWAYS COUNTS THAT WAY
JENKINS NEIGHBORS BELONG TO A BOWLING CLUB WHICH MEETS 5 NIGHTS A WEEK AND THEY MEET
HURRY FRED WE MIGHT BE LATE
JENKINS IS AT THE OFFICE 14 HOURS A DAY AND WORKS THE WHOLE NIGHT THROUGH BEFORE A HOLIDAY— THEN JUST GETS HOME IN TIME TO HOOK THE WIFE'S DRESS FOR THE BIG GAME
LUCKY DOG THAT FELLOW
GEE WHIZ!! YOU ALWAYS SEE JENKINS AT EVERY BIG GAME
HOW DOES HE DO IT?
FOOT BALL TO DAY PRICES $3. 5. 10
LIFE'S JUST ONE ROUND OF PLEASURE WITH HIM
AND OF COURSE THE NEIGHBORS SEE HIM

Modern Woman Is Not Decadent, but Is a Great Improvement on Her Grandmother

Those About Whom Diatribes Are Printed as Gamblers, Drunkards, Grasping or Spendthrifts Seldom Are Met in Real Life, but Instead One Meets Many Who Really Understand Housekeeping.

By DOROTHY DIX

"I OFTEN wonder," said the gray-haired woman with the shrewd eyes and the tender mouth, "if I have the most peculiar circle of acquaintances in the world—if I am privileged to associate with a bunch of female saints and lady angels while other people are condemned to the society of women fiends and fools.

"When I go to church I hear the preacher berate women for race suicide and gambling and drinking, and tell how they prefer Pomeranian pups to babies, and declaim about how the hand that used to rock the cradle is now sending the world to perdition as fast as it can go.

"When I attend a lecture I hear some learned sociologist and student of economics tell how woman's wastefulness and extravagance and her laziness and shiftlessness are at the bottom of the real high cost of living.

"When I pick up a magazine I read diatribes about the women, and especially the young women, who throw their husbands' hard-earned money away as if it was so much junk; who scorn to go to market, but let the butcher and the grocer send them what they will and charge what they like; who dress beyond their means, and have no idea of the cost of anything, so that they are cheated right and left by shopkeepers and dressmakers and milliners, and who are a sad, degenerate lot compared with their domestic, frugal grandmothers.

"Now, I'm not denying that this decadent type of woman exists. I can only say that if she does, I have never met her, and I'd like to know where she lives, for I'm much of the opinion that she is like Sairy Gamp's Mrs. 'Arris—there ain't no sich a person outside of the realms of imagination.

In my opinion, the modern woman, and especially the woman who is so modern that she is still in her twenties, is just as much an improvement on her grandmother as a woman and a wife and an economist and a manager as steam heat is over an open grate, or electricity is over candles, or a porcelain-lined bathtub is over the washtub in the kitchen of a Saturday night.

"Of course, there are rich women who spend money with both hands, who maintain splendid establishments with dozens of servants, and have scores of dresses and yards of pearl ropes. And it's a good thing for them to do these things. Every person they hire they enable to make an honest living. Every dress they have gives work to a lot of other women, and helps along the merchants who sell the goods. They put money in circulation, and it's a thousandfold better for them to spend than to hoard up their money in a savings bank. It's the duty of the rich to spend, and a millionaires should be praised for it rather than blamed.

"But the rich women do not represent womanhood. They are the exception, not the rule. And so far as my acquaintance goes, I do not know two women who are not deathly afraid of debt and who do not strive with might and main not only to live within their income, but to save. Wherever you go among people of moderate means, the talk among the women is about how to cut down bills, and they are exchanging recipes for eggless cakes and new ways of cooking cheap cuts of meat.

"When a woman is extravagant and runs her husband in debt, it is nearly always because he tells her nothing of his business affairs, and she doesn't know what she can afford and what she can't afford. Men spend money far more freely than women do, and that it isn't the wives who ruin their husbands is abundantly proven by the fact that the majority of men never begin to save anything until after they are married.

"And those selfish, sordid, grasping girls who look at a man's bank account before they look at him, that we hear so much about. Where are they? I've never met one of them, but I do know a dozen beautiful, highly born, highly educated girls, raised in luxurious homes, who fell in love with fine young fellows who had their way to make in the world, and these girls joyously married the men of their choice, and are living in Harlem flats and doing their own cooking and baby tending—yes, and their laundry work, too, when it's necessary. And they are bending every energy of heart and mind to help their husbands, and having the time of their life doing it.

"And these young women who are reckless spenders—where are they? Where are these guileless, unsophisticated, ignorant young creatures, who don't know what anything should cost and can't tell the difference between silk and wool, or rose point and cotton edging? If women don't know the cost of things, why does the bargain counter flourish? Ask any merchant how women haggle over a few cents in price if you want to know how they count the pennies.

As for the women of the past knowing so much more about shopping than the girl of the day, believe me, the most fluffy-headed little schoolgirl can give her grandmother points on buying that would make the old lady's cap strings stand on end.

"As for myself, I have always astounded highly my own ability to get a hundred cents' worth out of a dollar, but nowadays when I really want to make five dollars spraddle over the size of ten, I turn my money and commission over to my nineteen-year-old niece. She's got energy and strength to scour basements and hunt up cheap stores in side streets, and I haven't. And who knows the value of things to the last nickel.

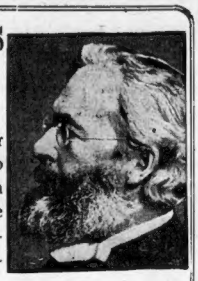
"As for cooking, the modern woman is making a science of it, whereas in my youth we made a drudgery of it. When I married I had never even so much as boiled an egg, and how my poor husband survived my bridal cooking only the Providence that tempers the wind to the shorn lamb can tell. But now you rarely meet a girl who hasn't studied cooking in a public school or taken a domestic science course, and who can't turn out a meal that would be a credit to anybody. And among the well-to-do, but not rich, nearly every girl who doesn't go into business learns how to trim her hats and make her gowns.

"My life brings me in contact largely with women, and particularly with young women, and I hardly know one who is not doing her duty wisely and conscientiously in life, and so I want to know where all these parasitic women are that we hear so much about. I've never met them. Have you?

Dr. Parkhurst's Article

—ON—

Lax Parents—Fewer Boys Would Go Wrong if American Children Were Dealt With as Severely as Are Chinese Lads



Written for the Boston American by

DR. C. H. PARKHURST

A FEW days ago I attended a meeting at which one of the speakers was a young man who is the principal worker in a boys' club. He is one who understands himself and also the boys he is dealing with, as well as their relation to their home life.

He commenced his remarks by saying: "Fathers and mothers, I know your boys better than you do, and it is high time you commenced to know them yourselves. You let them run the streets and haven't them with you enough of the time to find out what kind of things they are, or to make them better than what they are. You think they are all right, but they are not. They are all wrong, a good many of them, and you haven't found it out, and it is your business to find it out, and you are unfaithful parents because you haven't."

This was plain talk, but for the sake of illustrating what he meant and in order to back up his statement, he went on further to say:

Shocked Mother Did Not Understand Her Boy Was Bad

"I had occasion recently to talk with the mother of one of my club-boys about a crime which he had committed. She was greatly shocked and could not understand how a boy so dear and so good as her son Charlie could ever have done such a thing. I said to her he may be very dear, but he is not so good as you think; on the contrary, he is bad from away back, and gambles every evening."

We could, to the advantage of the boys and to the comfort of the home, introduce a little of the Chinese method of discipline. When our Oriental brethren have lived for a while out from under the depressing influence of the Manchu regime they will be able to give us as good lessons in certain directions as we are able to give them in other directions. Their method of keeping the boys straight may be a little harsh and may sometimes result in injustice, but their policy has in it not only severity but an amount of reasonableness.

If a Chinese boy misbehaves it is not charged to native depravity, nor to the police, but to his parents, and next to them to the schoolmaster; and that, not only while the boy is in school, but after leaving school, the idea being that if his teacher had dealt with him properly Solomon's epigram would hold true: "Bring up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

This prolonged period of accountability must be a good deal of a stimulus to parents and schoolmasters.

President of the Chinese Republic Tells a Story

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first President of the Chinese Republic, is authority for the following story: "A son in an evil moment killed his father, when the punishment inflicted was as follows: Not only was the son beheaded, but also an uncle suffered the death penalty. The schoolmaster was exiled for 2,000 miles, and the neighbors occupying the three houses on either side of the murdered man's dwelling were condemned to leave their homes and not to take up residence within 1,000 miles of the village in which the murder occurred."

One of the results of this strict discipline is seen in the prevalent integrity of the Chinese. Honesty is a part of a Chinaman's education. In commercial circles his word is understood to be as good as his bond. Honesty is a thing that can be taught just as well as geography or arithmetic; and American schoolmasters would be likely to lay themselves out somewhat strenuously in cultivating the primary virtues, if they felt that they were liable to exile to the Dry Tortugas in case one of their boys before or after graduation killed his father or traded on corporate finances.

Parents Responsible for Boys and Their Crimes

If parents and teachers, parents particularly, are responsible for character of their boys, then they are responsible for their boys' behavior and their boys' crimes when they commit them. If that is the case, why should not punishment be meted out to the parents of criminal boys if it can be shown that family discipline has been of the careless and neglectful kind?

What a stirring there would be among dry, parental bones if American jurisprudence were to be flavored with a dash of the kind that is in vogue in the Middle Kingdom!

THE HERO

By Percy Shaw

THE hero filled the stage,
And Oh, his eyes flashed blue,
As in a Jovian rage
He ran the villain through.
"My word is law," he cried.
"Let him who dares gainsay."
He glanced from side to side;
The supers slunk away.

What poise was in his mien,
What power was in his stride;
He stirred the martial scene
With thrills of manly pride.
The Matinee Girl snared,
Her heart with tremors shook;
Enthralled her senses snared
The rapture of her look.

"At last!" she softly sighed
"Here's my ideal, 'tis plain.
"How often have I tried
"To find him but in vain!
"Would I might see him when
"He walks upon the street.
"How he would dwarf the men
"Tis my sad fate to meet."

A good wish always wins;
She met him as he rolled
A carriage built for twins.
The while beside him strolled
A lady large, who said,
With glances icy cold:
"You push those twins ahead
"Exactly as you're told."

One Hundred Ways to Earn Money at Home

A Fifty-Page Booklet by Mabel Barclay Ury

Will be sent postpaid to any address upon receipt of ten cents in stamps to cover cost of mailing and handling. Address BOSTON AMERICAN PROMOTION DEPARTMENT, No. 8 Winthrop square, Boston.

MRS. EMELIUS SAYS FATHER WAS DRUNK

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer tonight; colder Wednesday afternoon or night; brisk to high westerly winds.
Sun rises 7:03 a. m.; sets 4:12 p. m.
Moon sets 5:36 p. m.
High tide 12:15 a. m.; 12:15 p. m.
Temperatures: Boston 32, New York 30, Chicago 34, Denver 30, Los Angeles 48, San Francisco 66.

BOSTON AMERICAN

10 O'CLOCK EDITION

VOL. 9—No. 262. BOSTON, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1912. Registered in U. S. Patent Office. PRICE ONE CENT.

MELLEN ACCUSED OF GRAFT IN CONGRESS

MRS. EMELIUS IS WITNESS AT MAINE TRIAL

COURTHOUSE, Houlton, Me., Dec. 14.—Mrs. Belle Emelius, wife of the Rev. Charles N. Emelius, daughter of Mrs. Annie Jacobson and brother of Edgar Jacobson, all three of whom are on trial for the murder of Augustus Jacobson, took the witness stand today for the defence. The man alleged to have been murdered was the father of the clergyman's young wife.

Mrs. Emelius testified that on the day before it is claimed Jacobson was shot and killed she met him in the road with fishing tackle and a gun. She said she thought her father had been drinking. She tried to induce him to go home but he would not do it.

Mrs. Emelius was dressed in a natty tailored black suit with small black hat to match. When questioned on direct examination she was very calm and replied to the questions in a clear and firm voice. She said she was twenty-nine years old, and that the accused minister is her second husband.

Met Father on Road.

Q.—Were you at the Lutheran parsonage on the day that your father died? A.—Yes, there was a luncheon there for the visiting pastors.

Q.—Where did you go that evening? A.—To church.

Q.—Then where? A.—I walked home with a neighbor.

Q.—Did you meet your father? A.—Yes; he met me on the road; he was driving.

Q.—Did you notice his condition? A.—I think he had been drinking.

Q.—Did he turn around? A.—Yes, and came up to me. I got in the carriage. He had a bag, gun, fishing rod and a blanket.

Q.—Who was with you? A.—Mr. Frouns.

Q.—Did you notice anything unusual or peculiar about your father at that time? A.—He was sitting in an unnatural position, his voice was not natural, his head was bowed.

The witness had been directed by the court to state anything unusual about her father's conduct, but not to state any

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

WORKMEN FLEE CAVE-IN DANGER IN BOYLSTON ST.

Workmen employed in the construction of a six-story building at No. 589 Boylston street—which is at Copley square—were forced to quit work today because one of the side walls of the structure which had been completed had been forced three inches out of plumb by the strong winds that have prevailed of late.

Should the wall fall it would tumble onto the foundation being built for a structure at Nos. 573-576 Boylston street where there are about fifty men at work. These men stuck to their job.

Building Inspector Roma and Supervisor Tanner looked over the wall today preparatory to making a report as to what could be done. Daniel Dewar, the contractor, said that he had shored up the wall strongly and he didn't think that there was any immediate danger of the wall falling, at least. He said he was ready to do whatever the building department thought best in the matter.

Pedestrians in that section of the city gave Boylston street at that point a wide berth when they learned of the leaning wall.

HUNT RELATIVES OF "ERNEST C. HANSON"

Relief Hospital authorities and the Boston police are trying to learn the home and facts of a delirious patient who is thought to be named Ernest C. Hanson. The patient, about forty-five years old, was found in a doorway on Blackstone street, unconscious, last Friday night. He is stricken dangerously with double pneumonia. In his ravings he says: "I'm Ernest C. Hanson." Then he shutters about "Alec Hanson" and about "347 Essex street, Lynn." The patient has iron-gray hair, is smooth-faced and wore ordinary clothing when found.

YOUNG DENIES GUILT IN OPERA HOUSE BLOW-UP

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10.—Michael J. Young of Boston, a member of the Iron Workers' International executive board, took the stand in his own defence at the dynamite conspiracy trial today and denied all knowledge of or connection with the McNamara dynamite conspiracy.

McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, said that McNamara sent him with explosives to get instructions from Young at Boston as to what building he should dynamite. McManigal testified that he went to Young, told him his mission, and that Young took him to the new Opera House, then being built in Boston, and showed him where he wanted the explosive.

McManigal said that he blew this job on the night of March 27, 1909.

McManigal said McNamara sent him back to Young early in April, 1911, with more explosives, and that Young took him to Springfield, Mass., and showed him where he wanted explosives placed in the municipal group of buildings then going up.

McManigal blew up the base of the municipal tower the night of April 4, 1911, according to his confession. Young was the first of the forty-one defendants to testify, who is charged with active participation in any of the explosions.

As a member of the executive board of the International Union, he is charged with being present and voting to give J. J. McNamara $1,000 a month for "organizing purposes." Young is also charged with concurring in the board's action in suspending publication of the Union's expenditures.

"A number of letters that passed between Young and McNamara have been introduced by the government, which says that the letters are immaterial. In a letter written by Young several days after the Springfield explosion he told McNamara he did not "Want to write much about local conditions now. I will see you Monday, April 17."

Young denied all of these things today. He said his correspondence never referred to dynamiting.

12,000 STRIKE, BRITAIN FACES COAL FAMINE

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Paralysis of industrial life and a coal famine are threatened as a result of the strike on the Northeastern railway. Many industrial plants were compelled to close today because of lack of fuel and numerous collieries were shut down because the output could not be carried away.

At noon today 12,000 men were idle and it was estimated that by night this number would be increased to at least 15,000. The Northeastern line is disorganized. The suggestion was made that the government intercede. It was proposed that Sir George Askwith, the "strike-breaker" of the Board of Trade, mediate.

The strike is ostensibly for personal liberty, not a matter of wages and hours. Engineer Knox of the Northeastern was reduced in rank because he was drunk on duty. His fellows demand his immediate reinstatement, insisting that he had a right to get drunk as long as he attended to his work. The railway officials refused to restore to Knox his position as express engineer, and the men struck.

ARREST CAPTAIN OF WINIFREDIAN

Captain Frederick Shepherd of the Leyland liner Winifredian was arrested today by United States authorities on the charge that he carried a wireless equipment on the vessel in connection with which there was not efficient communication between the bridge and operator in the radio room. Shepherd was held in $500 for a hearing on January 12. This is the second arrest under a law that was passed following the Titanic disaster.

AUSTRALIA HITS AMERICAN TRUSTS

MELBOURNE, Dec. 10.—By 41 to 25, the House of Representatives of Australia today passed a bill aimed at the International Steel Trust and the American Beef Trust. The new law gives the government the power to regulate trusts, monopolies and combines.

MELLEN GIVEN CHANCE TO TELL ALL TO THE GRAND JURY OF THE PEOPLE

The following telegram was sent to Charles S. Mellen this morning by the Boston AMERICAN.

Later in the day it was learned that Mr. Mellen is now in Boston and a copy of the telegram was sent to him here. Mr. Mellen read the AMERICAN'S offer, but said he would take time to consider it.

Boston, December 10.

C. S. Mellen, President, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, New Haven, Ct.

In view of the fact that your request to the United States District Attorney at New York to go before the Grand Jury and make a complete statement of all the negotiations in the New York, New Haven & Hartford-Grand Trunk Railroad deal, and other railroads and steamship lines in which you say you are the only person who knows all the facts and can give the actual truth about the various mergers and all the financial operations of your company.

And in view of the further fact that the United States District Attorney at New York has ignored your request and will not let you appear before the Grand Jury, the Boston AMERICAN herewith offers an opportunity for you to reach THE REAL GRAND JURY OF THE PEOPLE through its circulation of four hundred thousand daily, the Grand Jury that wants to know and has the right to know all the facts that you say you alone have knowledge of.

The Boston AMERICAN herewith opens to you its columns for such statement as you may wish to make.

And the AMERICAN agrees to publish your statement in detail, whether it makes one column or forty columns, providing you give the information you say you have at your disposal, without cost to you and without cost to the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

The AMERICAN will pay the expense of stenographers, telegraph tolls and any other that may be necessary for you to furnish the statement. The AMERICAN feels sure that such statement by you will do much to clarify the present railroad situation in New England.

Please reply by telegram to the Boston AMERICAN at our expense.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN, 80 Summer Street, Boston Mass.

DEATH OF RICH MAN HASTENED BY BOOK DEAL

The death of Francis W. Stanley of Foxboro, secretary of the American Glue Company, one of the big corporations of the country, it was reported today, was hastened by his entanglement with the audacious "de luxe" book agents who raided Boston and all of New England out of millions of dollars.

The name of Mr. Stanley, who died two years ago, is one of many new names that have come to the attention of the detectives who are working up the evidence against the "de luxe" scoundrels. They have found that death, insanity, nervous prostration and financial ruin have followed in the wake of the vendors of the dishonest wares.

Mr. Stanley, who was worth a quarter of a million dollars, bought books to the amount, it is said, of $65,000. Some of the cases were never opened. He was not even a great reader. It is said. The book companies brought a suit against him and a compromise was effected, the books being shipped back to the companies.

How much money was paid to get the matter fixed up did not become public. His property was left to his aunt, Mrs. Rufus H. Brown. Mr. Stanley had formerly been in the leather business with her husband, and it was by that business that he made most of his money.

STEAMER IS SUNK BY BATTLESHIP ON THE BRITISH COAST

DEVENPORT, England, Dec. 10.—The British battleship Centurion sunk a steamer in a collision off the British coast this afternoon, according to a wireless dispatch received here. The battleship's bow was damaged, the dispatch stated, and it is believed from this that the Centurion ran head-on into the steamer. The first report from the battleship gave no details as to the loss of life.

'JIM CROW' SLEEPING CARS IN MISSISSIPPI

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 10.—A decision handed down today by the State Supreme Court holds that the "Jim crow" law applies to sleeping cars on railroads as well as day coaches, and that if railroads wish to accommodate negro passengers with sleeping cars they must furnish separate cars entirely.

"NICK" LONGWORTH TO BE A BANKER

CINCINNATI, Dec. 10.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, recently defeated for re-election, is to become the head of a great banking and trust company in Cincinnati, it was learned this afternoon.

N. Y. Clearing House Methods Are Bared in Money Trust Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Determined to show the control which the big clearing association possesses or are attempting to acquire over the bank of the country, the Pujo money trust investigating committee of the House today turned its inquiry in the direction of the New York Clearing House Association.

Walter E. Frew, chairman of the New York clearing house committee, and president of the Corn Exchange Bank, was the first witness.

Mr. Frew admitted that the New York clearing house rule, which receives banks into membership according to the amount of capital they possess, and does not take into consideration their surplus, might be fairer if "surplus were included in the specifications." Frew denied that a big surplus was necessary to make a bank safe.

"You think a bank without a surplus is as safe as an institution that has one?" asked Untermyer.

"If it sustained a loss it is not; if it has no loss, it is," said Frew.

Frew said the question of surplus as a factor in determining the admissibility of new members to the clearing house had not been agitated.

"Are not the powers of the clearing house committee autocratic," asked Untermyer.

"I don't think so," said Frew.

"Is there any reason why a bank should clear through the clearing house at all?" asked Untermyer.

"Yes," said Frew. "It facilitates business."

Frew said he could not recall any case where a New York clearing house bank had been suspended and had survived the shock.

HOSFORD INDICTED UPON 94 COUNTS IN FOUR TRUE BILLS

Four secret indictments, totalling ninety-four counts, were returned by the Suffolk grand jury at 9:30 today against Edward H. Hosford, the Malden Sunday school superintendent, charged with larceny of $25,000 from Frank Paige, a Boston business man.

Hosford was rearrested by Inspectors Farrell and McCarthy on a secret indictment warrin when he came into the lower court to plead to the original charge. He was taken up to the Superior Criminal Court detention room to await arraignment on the indictment. The lower court charge was dismissed.

One of the four indictments charges Hosford with uttering in twenty counts and with forging in the same number. Another indictment contains eleven counts of uttering and the same of forging. The third indictment has thirtyone counts of larceny and the fourth indictment is in one count of larceny.

The general charge against Hosford has been that he obtained loans from Mr. Paige by means of doctored bills of lading of the James Donovan Shipper Company, of which he was treasurer. He has been out on $10,000 bail.

HAYWARD HEIR SEEKS SHARE OF $1,000,000 FUND

The well-meant effort of William E. Hayward, a Brookline millionaire, formerly of Indianapolis, to provide for himself, his wife and two married daughters for life, resulted today in the entire family coming before Judge Morton in the Supreme Judicial Court because one of the daughters thinks that the mother is unfair.

This daughter is Mrs. Evaline H. Hibben of Brookline. She asks that her mother and Charles E. Meyers, formerly private secretary to her father, be removed as trustees of the millionaire-dollar trust fund which William E. Hayward created to support his family.

Mrs. Hibben declared, in her bill, that Meyers is dominated and controlled in the trusteeship by her mother, that her mother is hostile to her and that she is not getting her share of the trust income.

Incidentally, it was brought out that Meyers was formerly a $75-a-month clerk on the Wabash Railroad. He rose to $12,000 a month, because Mr. Hayward's private secretary and now is co-trustee of a million-dollar fund.

Created Trust Last Year.

Mr. Hayward created this trust on December 28,1911. He thought he had the whole family provided for. He put all his property, over a million, into a trust fund.

He provided that, after the living expenses of his wife and himself were paid, the net income should be divi ed between the parents and their two married daughters, Mrs. Hibben of Brookline and Mrs. Susan H. Schneider of Philadelphia.

In court the family was in three groups. One "group" was composed of Mr. Hayward, who watched rather dismally this court argument over the trust fund that he had thought so fair.

Hayward Sits Alone.

With a button of the Loyal Legion of Honor, Mr. Hayward sat by himself.

In another group were Mrs. Hibben, her husband, Dr. Hibben, son of an Indianapolis street railway director, and Moorfield Storey, head of the Boston Bar Association, counsel for Mrs. Hibben.

Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Schneider, Meyers, their counsel, and John P. Frenzel, president of the Indiana Trust Company of Indianapolis, were the third group.

GOETHALS MAY BE AMAJOR-GENERAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Senator Sanders of Tennessee today introduces a bill to enable the President to appoint an additional major-general in the United States army. If the bill becomes a law, it is believed this honor will be conferred upon Colonel George W. Goethals, the builder of the Panama Canal.

BEARS RESUME ATTACK; RALLY FOLLOWS DROP

The public declined to buy when prices, based upon estimated values, grew attractive. There was little support to the market by banking interests and the bear pressure has been continuous as well as aggressive.

Some issues sold down to the lowest prices recorded in months in early trading.

Amalgamated Copies Lower.

Amalgamated Copper opened one point lower for the big market and within ten minutes showed a net decline of 1⅛. Beans assailed Consolidated Gas and it was another weak feature, losing a point and a half on the first sale.

American Can went down 1¼ right off the reel. It remained one of the most vulnerable stocks on the list. It was derisively called "sleve" by some traders. D. G. Reid has gone on a trip over the Rock Island lines, and will visit Texas. There was heavy selling of Western Union. It lost a point on the first transaction.

During the first half-hour there were a number of prominent stocks which declined.

Rally Comes Quickly.

After half an hour a better tone prevailed. Reading recovered all its early loss, and gains of ½ were made by Louisville & Nashville and Great Northern preferred. Steel also rallied fractionally.

The New York Curb market was weak.

The London copper market was easy, spot and futures closing 2s. 6d. lower, with spot sales 300 and futures 1,200 tons.

One prominent American banker blames the recent heavy liquidation in stocks upon the Harriman lines merger decision by the United States Supreme Court, saying that it was a blow not only to the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, but to every railroad system in the country.

Tone Weak in Boston.

The Boston market was quite broad and active, but the tone was weak. It opened with copper going down.

At the end of the first hour American Zinc was ⅜ lower, Butte & Superior 2⅜, Copper 1⅛, Tamarack 3 points, Superior 2 points, Calumet & Arizona 4 points, Mohawk 3 points, Granby 2⅜ and Nevada Consolidated 1½.

TAKE UP CONTEST OF BOWMAN'S SEAT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The House today by a vote of 165 to 114 decided to take up the contest involving the seat of Representative Bowman (Republican of the Eleventh Pennsylvania District), who is alleged to have been illegally elected. The contestant for the seat is George B. McLean.

MORGAN IS FLAYED FOR HOLDING UP GR. TRUNK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Charges of graft against Charles S. Mellen, head of the New Haven road, were made today by Representative O'Shaunessy of Rhode Island, when he denounced the New Haven Railroad before the House Rules Committee in Washington, calling it: "A monstrosity of a water-logged corporation."

He declared that the people riding between New York and Boston are left "At the mercy of a corporation which thinks more of its strangulation of real and threatened competition than it does of human life."

Representatives of five States at half a dozen municipalities gathered here today to tell the House Rules Committee in what hands irresponsibly rests the fate of the O'Shaunessy resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the alleged Grand Trunk-New Haven traffic monopoly, why the measure should be favorably reported. The tiny room allotted for the meeting was packed when Thomas Henry Ball, called the session to order.

Representative O'Shaunessy made the opening statement, saying:

President Hays of the Grand Trunk went to his death on the Titanic and it appears that honor died with him, so its sacred promises and pledges were concerned. A serious people, whose state has been torn wide open, have been outrageously betrayed. The photographs which I now introduce tells the story more eloquently than any words of mine.

The Rhode Island representative then produced several photographs showing present conditions along the New Haven road and continued:

A striking coincidence of the closed attitude of the Grand Trunk officials is the recent visit to London of L. F.

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

FEAR AMERICANS KILLED IN MEXICO.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 10.—Fears are felt here that James Little and Andrew Sayre, two American mining engineers employed by the Greene copper interests, have been killed by Yaqui Indians while examining ore property near Mazatlan.

BIKE RACERS AHEAD OF RECORD.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—At 2 p. m., the 38th hour, the 15 teams in the bicycle race had covered 782 miles, being the 9 miles ahead of record set by Halstead and Drobsack, 1911.

CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS DECREASE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Democratic campaign subscriptions decreased 5 per cent during the campaign, according to the report of the campaign funds committee of the Senate, which will be given out by Chairman Clapp today.

TUFTS HEAD URGES FUND OF $1,000,000

If Tufts College wishes to remain in the front rank of American colleges, it must have an endowment fund of $1,000,000 to supply able teachers and adequate equipment, according to the statement submitted today by President William L. Hooper.

REPORT IRISH CROWN JEWELS RESTORED

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A report in London that the Irish crown jewels mysteriously stolen from Dublin Castle in 1907, have been placed intact in their original position.

NEW ENGLAND DEMANDS GRAND TRUNK INQUIRY

Continued from First Page.

Morgan, who no doubt conferred with the executives of the Grand Trunk railway in that city. The suppression of corporate rivalry by the New Haven, which followed, is characteristic of that road's management under President Mellen. His gobbling up of railroads, trolley and steamship lines has left one of the richest territories of the world at the mercy of his absolute and domineering graft.

"A Water-Logged Corporation."

I contend that it is time for a complete and thorough investigation, not only of the recent exhibition of a vicious practice, but of all the transactions on the part of this railway company, which has given to the people a monstrosity of a 'water-logged corporation, with a corresponding diminution of effective public service.

Representative O'Shaunessy then considered the large number of wrecks which recently have occurred on the New Haven road and the trolley lines controlled by it, concluding with the statement:

When answer can be made to the action of Mayor Fiske of Mount Vernon, N. Y., who picked with his bare fingers thirty-six rusty spikes within a quarter of a mile from the rotten ties of the New Haven road. The highest American civilization is to be found travelling between New York and Boston, and is left at the mercy of a corporation which thinks more of its stranglation of real and threatened competition than it does of human life.

William C. Bliss, chairman of the Rhode Island Public Utilities Committee, followed Representative O'Shaugnessy with an account of how the New Haven road has broken faith with every people, and has failed to complete many improvements and extensions, "trying, as they said, to the approach of Winter."

"Find Out Real Reason."

Bliss closed with an impassioned plea for a congressional investigation of the road. "The Grand Jury," he said, "may probe in secret, but the New England people are entitled to public investigation of the corporation which now holds them in its power. The approach of Winter is no valid excuse for the abandonment of the Rhode Island improvement. Congress should find out the real reason."

After Bliss had introduced in evidence a large number of photographs showing the present condition of the New Haven road in Rhode Island the committee recessed until 2 o'clock in order to secure a larger room, to hold meetings.

New Haven Official Tells Story.

The announcement that the Grand Trunk had refused to sanction the agreement with the New Haven was made by Vice-President Buckland of the New Haven, in a statement before the hearing began.

Mr. Buckland also said:

That the traffic agreement between the New Haven and the Grand Trunk had nothing whatever to do with the cessation of work in New England by the Canadian road.

And that by the terms of the proposed agreement, the Grand Trunk received nothing whatever from the New Haven.

Vice-President Buckland issued a lengthy statement along these lines. It is possible that President Mellen himself will be called upon to take the stand before the rules committee.

The list of those to appear before the Rules Committee includes Norman H. White of Massachusetts; Henry F. Davidson, representing Worcester, Mass.; Lynn H. Wilson, representing Connecticut; Colonel Robert P. Rodman of Rhode Island; Mr. Macleod of the Massachusetts Railroad Commission, and Mayors of Providence, Pawtucket and Woonsocket, R. I.

President E. J. Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk waited at the Waldorf-Astoria today, ready to appear as a witness, if he were called in the Federal Grand Jury investigation of the New Haven deal in New York. He said:

I am perfectly willing to go before the Grand Jury and tell them all about the whole matter. I am willing to waive immunity and will give them all of the information I possess at any time they desire. There seems to be a misunderstanding about this whole situation, for really there was no attempt to break any of the laws whatever.

Between the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Grand Trunk there is no traffic agreement consideration or understanding in any form, but there is an agreement under consideration between the Central railroad of Vermont and the New York, New Haven & Hartford. I am chairman of the Central Vermont's board, and I have had a number of talks with Mr. Mellen about a traffic agreement. However, there has been nothing wrong in any of them, and I am willing to tell the Grand Jury about them at any time.

Diamond Rings

$15 $50 $35 $100

Lowest Prices in Boston
Quality Considered.
ESTABLISHED 1839.

The E. B. HORN CO.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL JEWELERS
420 WASHINGTON STREET

Filene's Automatic Bargain Basement

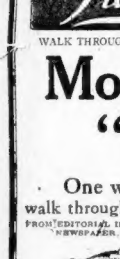
WALK THROUGH DAILY—CHRISTMAS GIFTS AT SAVINGS

More About "Spugs"

One way of being a "Spug" is to walk through this different kind of store—the Automatic Bargain Basement. ¶ Here are hundreds of practical gifts—not only that, but better gifts at less cost. ¶ Here you will find hundreds of hints for "the Promotion of Useful Giving."

FROM EDITORIAL IN BOSTON MORNING NEWSPAPER, OF DEC. 7TH.

Bath Robes for Gifts to Men and Women



MEN'S BLANKET BATH ROBES, heavy weight, all seams taillored, matched, neck cord and girdles, good colorings. $5 grade $3.65

WOMEN'S BEACON BLANKET ROBES, sailor collar, wool girdle, some satin trimmed. Good variety of colors. $3 grade $2.25

Christmas Suggestions

SILK PETTICOATS, Pompadour or plain colors. $3 grade $2

MEN'S SILK HALF HOSE and SILK FOUR-IN-HANDS, in attractive gift boxes. 69c grade 45c

WOMEN'S DOUBLE NET JABOTS, with and without stock, in ecru or white, trimmed with shadow laces. 59c grade 39c

18-INCH SLEEPING DOLLS, fully dressed, satin effect dress, legs and arms jointed $1

SAMPLE LEATHER HANDBAGS — Many styles and leathers. One or two of a style. $3.50 to $4 grades $2.25

PEARL NECKLACES—French wax fillet beads. Round white stone. Paved catches. Attractive case. $2.50 grade $1.75

Hundreds of Other Bargain Lots

For Men, Women and Children

Mrs. Emelius, Wife of Accused Minister, Who Testified Today

WEBBER, HOME AGAIN, DENIES BECKER PLOT

Continued from First Page.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—"Bridgy" Webber, one of the four informers in the Becker murder trial, returned with his wife today from a trip to Havana with the amazing statement that there was no plot to kill Herman Rosenthal, so far as he knows. He persisted in this statement in the face of scoundrels that he had testified differently as a witness in the Becker trial and in trial of the four gunmen.

Webber is bitter against his fellow informers—Rose, Vallon and Shepps—particularly Scheppe. He says he never would have confessed and had just paid Max D. Rosar, a lawyer, $10,000 for defence when he heard Jack Rose had confessed. Then he "got in line."

No mention of killing Herman Rosenthal was ever made to him, Webber declared, but he had talked with Rose about buying Rosenthal off or scaring him out of town. The gunmen, according to Webber, were employed to "throw a scare into Rosenthal" and two of them got drunk and killed him instead.

Webber came back after a stay of a few days in Havana, he said, because of the notoriety following newspapers publications announcing his arrival in that city. He denied that he had been called back to testify in the aldermanic graft investigation.

Webber is filled with remorse and cannot sleep. His thoughts, he said are confinually on the five men in the Sing Sing death house, sent there partly upon evidence he gave. Webber declared that it would kill him if they are electrocuted.

Webber's sensational statement that he knew of no plot was outlined to Assistant District Attorney Moss, who conducted the prosecution.

Mr. Moss was surprised and said:

It is the first time I ever heard such a story. I understand Webber wants to live in New York. Perhaps he is trying to make his stay here more peaceful by placating the friends of the men convicted of the murder of Rosenthal.

DINNER TO BRYCE AT ASTOR FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Members of the american committee for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of peace among english speaking peoples, in 1914-15, have announced plans for a reception and dinner in honor of Ambassador Bryce, retiring, at the Hotel Astor Friday evening.

19 THE SEMI-WEEKLY SALE

Sirloin Steak & Roast 18c
Short Chops..12½c
Fores of Lamb..7c

T. D. BAKER CO
PROVISIONERS
721-723 Washington St

Continued from First Page.

conclusions as to his state of mind. The court took this precautionary measure owing to the announcement made by the defence that the witness would show that her father made statements on that night which indicated that Jacobson was acting strange.

Q.—What did your father say? A.—He said he was going to the lake and fish.

Q.—That was late? A.—Yes.

Q.—You pleaded with him not to go? A.—Yes, I asked him to go to bed.

Q.—That was the last you saw of him? A.—Yes.

Smiles as Wife Testifies.

The witness explained how the next morning she went to church.

"I was to be baptized that morning," she added.

Q.—Was anybody in your home Sunday evening? A.—Yes, Edgar came in after church.

The accused pastor smiled very often when his wife turned her eyes toward him. The accused sat within ten feet of the witness.

Q.—Did you endeavor to find out where your father was? A.—Yes, I called Mrs. Tremeon on the phone.

Q.—Who else was in the house? A.—Mother.

Q.—Do you know who drove into the yard that night? A.—Mamma told me when she went to bed, after 11.

Attorney Shaw stated in his opening that the accused pastor drove into the yard at that time, but did not get out of the carriage.

Tony Perry Writes Newspaper He Will Commit Suicide

The AMERICAN has received the following letter from Medford from a man who says he is about to commit suicide.

Medford, December 9, '12.

Dear Editor: I would like for you to make public I am going to do away with myself. I don't want anybody to blame for it. Life is not worth living now, the only thing living for I have laid it. Perhaps when you get this I will be no more. I intend to take Poison for I think it is the best way. From a Man—with a broken hart. Yours.

Tony Perry, of Medford, Mass.

This is my second attempt. I will make sure this time.

As if to carry the assurance that the letter is genuine, a picture postcard of Egg Light, Boston Harbor, addressed to "Toney Perry, Medford, Mass., is enclosed. The card is postmarked "Revere, September 11, 1912," and is signed, "From your mother."

Shepard Norwell Company

That our patrons may be aware of our

OPENING AND CLOSING HOURS

They will remain as always

OPENING 8:30 O'CLOCK—CLOSING 5:30 O'CLOCK

We believe such best suits our clientele, and that later hours would be a move in the wrong direction.

Bears Trimmed by 'Tomato Can Bulls,' Says Tom Lawson

Thomas W. Lawson, Boston banker, broker and exposer of the "system," today issued a statement on the market, in which he says:

It takes no expert to tell the matter with the market. Those bears who sold reams of Steel at 80 and Union and Reading at 175 are being "squeezed," "trimmed," "run-in" and "slaughtered" by those Wall Street tin-horn, tomato-can bulls, just as has been advertised so many times.

Presently, for the thousandth time, we will read of their enormous losses, and, for the two-thousandth time, that they are broke again.

I never wager, but I have a client who will bet ten to one that the real bears, the ones who know why they sold, and who know why instead of taking of profits they sold more, and who know why they are selling more now, will not cover a share until next Friday, the 13th. My client will bet ten to one more that they buy Steel in the 60s on that day.

FEDERAL BUILDING CHARWOMEN ASK INCREASE IN PAY

The charwomen employed in the Boston Federal Building have forwarded a petition, through Congressman Roberts of Chelsea, to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, asking for an increase in pay. They now receive $25 a month. Inability to secure other work, the high cost of living, the abolition of sick benefits and the fact that when one of the women is ill her work is done by those remaining, while her pay goes back to the department, are their reasons.

The women sweep and wash the corridors of the building in the middle of the night. They arise at any hour from 11 o'clock to 1. Between the hours of 1 and 6 a. m. the hardest kind of labor is performed, scrubbing the floors on their hands and knees.

PROBE ASSESSORS' CHARGES ON REVERE TOWN FINANCES

A committee of three today began an investigation of the charges made at the Revere town meeting by Assessor Colcord, who condemned the bookkeeping methods of Town Treasurer Arthur G. Tapley and declared that if certain statements of the town treasurer are true, he had in the treasury on April 1, 1911, about $20,000, mostly borrowed money, and added, "then we suggest that he is short in his accounts from $18,000 to $22,000." Tapley certainly received the amounts from the respective sources enumerated in the 1910 table, and the town never voted a dollar of it away."

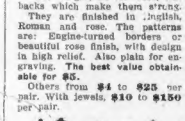
Assessor Regee declared he was tired of hearing town officials villified by Colcord, and branded his declarations as false. He said in one instance the latter was a million dollars out of the way in his figurings.

CANNOT PAY $750, SAYS MRS. SHONTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Millis Brooke Shontz, wife of Theodore P. Shontz, has filed an affidavit in the Supreme Court in which she says she is unable to pay a counsel fee of $750 in a former attorney. She got an order from Justice Blijur delaying the trial of a suit brought against her until she can arrange to have Yorke Allen substituted as her attorney in place of Hebert P. Quail. Mrs. Shontz has been sued by the executors of Robert Hoe to enforce a contract for the purchase of the Schuyler Arms Apartments.

Christmas Gifts at

Stowell's



14 Kt. Gold Link Buttons

Special $5 per pair

Good weight, 14 kt. Gold, flat backs which make them strong. They are finished in English, Roman and rose. The patterns are: Engine-turned borders or beautiful rose finish, with design in high relief. Also plain for engraving. The best value obtainable for $5.

Others from $4 to $25 per pair. With jewels, $10 to $150 per pair.

A. Stowell & Co. Inc.
24 Winter St., Boston
Jewellers for 90 Years

BOSTON AMERICAN

$40,000 CONTEST

GOOD FOR 5 VOTES

VALUELESS AFTER Tuesday, Dec. 24.

Name PUBLIC PUBLIC

Street and No. PUBLIC PUBLIC

City or Town PUBLIC PUBLIC

Send votes in one bundle. Keep 5-vote coupons separate from 25-vote coupons. Write plainly or stamp outside wrapper candidate's name, address and district number, and total votes, and be sure to enclose coupons in package. Write or stamp only 2 or 4 coupons to each bundle. If possible, candidates should use rubber stamps with name, address and district number.

BERKSHIRES ASK QUICK EXTENSION OF STREET LINE

The Railroad Commission today gave a hearing on the petition of the Berkshire Street Railway Company for a further extension of time within which to construct certain extensions of its line in North Adams and Pittsfield, as required under the legislative act of 1910, which gave the New Haven railroad direct control of the Berkshire trolley system.

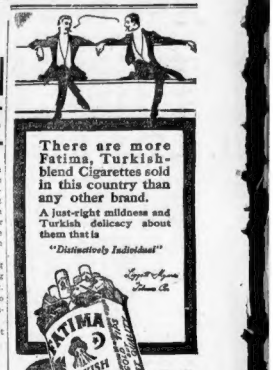
This is the bill which drove the opening wedge into the State's policy of keeping steam railroads and street railways apart. In return the New Haven promised to make certain extensions, including extensions in North Adams and Pittsfield.

Guy C. Lamson, counsel for the street railway company, said:

Now that the locations have finally been granted the street railway company should like extension to October 1, 1913, within which to complete the extensions.

Mayor Kelton B. Miller of Pittsfield declared that an extension to July 1 would give the street railway company sufficient time to complete its work. In any event, he said, that city insists that the Wahconah street extension be completed by July 1.

The board took the matter under consideration.



There are more Fatima, Turkish-blend Cigarettes sold in this country than any other brand.
A just-right mildness and Turkish delicacy about them that is "Distinctively Individual"
Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.
FATIMA
TURKISH CIGARETTES
20 for 15¢

The circulation of the AMERICAN is 300,000 more than its next highest competitor and 100,000 more than all the other evening papers of Boston combined.

Ginter's Christmas Sale

CUT PRICE OFFERINGS, WEEK OF DEC. 9th—14th

Groceries, Teas, Coffees, Wines

Here's Figure Facts That Prove ⅓ Savings

$2.00 Cash Here Equals $3.00 at Most Credit Grocers

Free Quick Delivery. Complete Free Christmas Price List Just Out, Write.

BUTTER 36c LB — Finest Quality Creamery, Choicest quality. Received Daily

EGGS Strictly Fancy 40c Value Per Doz. 30c

60c TEAS 35c — "Golden Rose" Spring Bud Pickings, Formosa, Oolong, English Breakfast or Green and Black Mixed. 60c Other Sizes.

40c COFFEE 29c — "Golden Rose," Rich Mocha and Java Type, worth 40c lb. Try It!

Flour Sale	"Golden Rose" Finest Minnesota Patent. More Loaves From Least Flour. Reg 75c	Bbl. 5.89
Peach Sale	One Garland "Garden" Brand Fancy California Lemon Cling, Heavy Syrup, No. 2½ Can. Doz. $1.50	Can 17½c
Soap	KIRKMAN'S BORAX 5 Bars	19c
Peerless Milk	LARGE CAN	8c
Catsup	BLUE LABEL Pt. Bot.	9c
Corn	Early Maine, New Tender, Creamy Can	8c
Peas	Early June, 16c value Can	12c
Tomatoes	Large, Whole, Red Ripe Fruit. CAN	10c
Sardines	Fjord Queen Imp. Net Weight. Key Can	10c
Olive Oil	Pure Virgin Italian Imported. Pt. Can	37c
Peanut Butter	Pure New	Lb. 11c
Gelatine	Pink or White	Pkg. 10c
Crackers	Butter Thins Cheese Wafers Macaroon Snaps Perfetto	10c Pkg. 7½c
Hecker's Buckwheat	10c Pkg.	8c
Shaker Salt	10c PACKAGE	8c
Crisco	The Popular Shortening	Can 23c
Raisins	Seeded or Seedless LB. PACKAGE	9c
Prunes	Meaty Sound, Choice 10c VALUE	Lb. 8c
Rolled Oats	Rush 5 Lb. Bag	18c
Rye Flour	Cushman or Ceresota	Bbl. 5.17c
Lard, Pure	No. 5 Pail 75c	Lb. 15c
Bacon	Sugar Cured	Lb. 20c
Shoulders	Sugar Cured	Lb. 15c
	Butter Thins Cocoanut Taffy Macaroon Snaps	10c val. Lb. 12½c

Wine. Liquor Dept.

Our Beautiful, Convenient Stores offer you Dignified Service, Purest and Finest Qualities. Besides we save you 1-3. $2.00 Orders delivered by express 15 miles. $5.00 orders Throughout New England.

FINEST OLD IMPORTED DOMESTIC WHISKIES

G. O. Blake Original	89c	Duffy's MALT WHISKY Bot.	83c
Hunter Rye	ORIGINAL BOTTLING 90c	Aquinas Malt Finest Pt. Bot. 37c	Qt. 73c
Green River	WHISKY Orig. Bot. 95c	Scotch Usher's O. V. S. Bot.	89c
Hermitage Rye	Bot. 95c	Scotch Old Clenlivet	Bot. 87c
Banquet Rye	Pt. Qt. 97c	Scotch Black & White	1.03
Mentor	WHISKY Pt. 1.25 Val. 37c Qt.	73c	Irish Wm. Jameson's Bot. 95c

Special Vintage IMPORTED—DOMESTIC WINES

Cal. Wines	Port, Sherry, etc., 50c Val. Bot.	25c	Sherry Pasmo Imported 1.00 Val. Bot. 47c
Vintage Wines	Sherry, Bot.	30c	Duff Gordon Sherry 69c
Port	Imported Tarragona, 1.00 Val. Bot.	47c	Champagne Tripoville Sec. or ½ Bot. 50c. Bot. 97c

Other Well Known Specials

Brandy	Hennessy Vintage Bot.	1.39	Gin, Booth's Old Tom Bot. 87c
Cooking Brandy	Rich. Pure Qt.	73c	Gin Robt. Leeds Old Tom or Dry 73c
Rum	Guerra Sarlay Pt. Bot. Domestic 37c	Qt. 73c	Gin Pure Holland Type Quart 73c
Alcohol	Pure Drugglists Pt.	39c	Beer Schlitz Milwaukee Dozen 1.10

The Ginter Co

FREE DELIVERY Order 'Phone Rich. 941

Union St., Cor. Elm — Dynamic Market — 18 Canal Opp. Haymarket Square — 163 Summer St. — South Terminal

495 Washington St. — Est. West & Temple Pl. — Specialty Shop Agents — 122 Tremont St.

NO LADY WILL SMOKE, AVERS MRS. SLATER

By SYBIL WARNE.

Mrs. Mabel Hunt Slater, a wealthy widow and one of Boston's leaders in society, has come out emphatically against women smoking. The habit is growing in Boston.

A woman should not do it, says Mrs. Slater, "and a lady will not."

Mrs. Slater, owner of the Slater mills at Webster and with a handsome home at Milton, says that she would feel dreadfully embarrassed if her daughters should take up the habit.

This is what Mrs Slater has to say on the subject:

What She Says.

I do not smoke because my grandmother did not smoke, and I sincerely hope that my daughters will not smoke. They are to follow the good examples of those who have gone before them.

The habit of smoking may be growing, and one must not condemn this habit without some reason back of it. We want to do it with justice to ourselves and with due regard to the tastes of those who participate in it.

It is so unwomanly. It is just what a woman should not do and it is what a lady will not do.

No one wants to be too severe. But anyway, does it not seem to the common sense of the most liberal minded woman, a perversion of taste.

But don't let us be unjust. I should feel it dreadfully if my daughters took up with such a habit. There are many others who would feel the same way. It is really a symptom of future degeneracy and nothing can reasonably explain it away.

Society Is Stirred.

Boston society is stirred over the growing habit of well-known women smoking cigarettes in public.

The matter took a new start last week, when a prominent woman member of society, after a sumptuous luncheon at a popular hostelery in this city, sat down in the reception room, took out, in the most nonchalant way, a box of small cigarettes, and looked around the room to see if other women were smoking.

As no one was smoking, she whispered to a friend, who sat by her. The question undoubtedly was: "Do not the women of Boston smoke?"

The reply was not audible, but shortly after this a few other women took the hint and reached over to the dainty cigarette case and began smoking.

Nothing was said at the time by the other society women, who are not really opposed to smoking of cigarettes, but are much alarmed at the way that it is gaining headway publicly in Boston.

This well-known person has a young son of nine years who sits at her side and watches his mother smoke. He wants to know the time when he can smoke. This has caused no end of comment among society women.

LADIES, FOLLOW THIS EXPERT'S ADVICE AND FOIL PICKPOCKET HORDES BUSY IN SHOPPING DISTRICTS

The first two pictures show the correct and incorrect ways of carrying a handbag safely. It should be carried under the arm with one hand on the clasps. At right is shown how a pickpocket, under cover of a newspaper, unclasps a handbag making it easy for a confederate, as shown in the last picture, to steal its contents.

Attorney James N. Clark of Protective Association Tells How You Can Keep Money Safe.

If the women readers of the AMERICAN will read carefully and heed sedulously the advice that follows, from James N. Clark, a Boston attorney, who is an expert on the ways of pickpockets, they will not be robbed while carrying their boys on shopping trips.

Place a rubber band on the clasp of your handbag. Carry the bag under your arm, with your hand over the clasp. Watch out for the man who hums. Be on the alert for the man who jostles you. Don't display money or jewels.

This is the golden season of the pickpockets. You will foil them if you follow Mr. Clark's admonitions.

The sure way to foil a pickpocket—grasp a rubber band about the little clips on the opening of your handbag—so that even when they are sprung apart, the rubber holds the opening shut.

This is the advice to Boston's women shoppers of James N. Clark, attorney for the association which protects the big Boston stores from pickpockets.

If this simple rule were followed by all women, the pickpocket's gains would be diminished by much more than half, according to Mr. Clark.

Under the attorney's direction, photographs were made illustrating how to carry your handbag—how not to carry it—and some of the cleverest methods employed by the pickpocket in his work.

Mr. Clark outlined some simple rules which are designed to tell the men and women shoppers, or anyone else who gets into a crowd, how to protect themselves.

First—If you are a woman, wrap a rubber band about the clips on your handbag. If you are a man, carry your money in your hip pocket.

Second—Women, carry your handbag tucked under your arm, opening upward, your hand clasped over the fastening. Never allow it to dangle from your wrist or elbow.

Third—Never carry money or valuables in an outside pocket of your coat. The "two-fingered thief" can slip everything out of the pocket without you knowing it.

Fourth—Keep your eye on any person you hear humming near you. Pickpockets are apt to hum or whistle softly just as they go to work.

Fifth—If a person jostles you, look quickly at his hands. If he has taken your money, and you can catch his hand, you may recover it. Otherwise, if you grab the man himself, he will have passed your money to a confederate and you will be unable to get it back.

Sixth—If a man jostles you and his hands seem empty, look at your pocketbook. He has probably snapped it open and his confederate is watching his chance to slip your money out.

Seventh—If you see a suspicious man reading a newspaper, watch him. Pickpockets often cover their thefts by holding a newspaper over their hands.

Eighth—Pickpockets sometimes slit open a pocketbook, or even cut through your coat to an inside pocket to get a pocketbook. If you feel any unusual movement, investigate it instantly.

"People often steal under the impulse of a sudden temptation," he said. "The thieves come from all classes. I know one man who has arrested the wives of four different millionaires for shop-lifting.

NURSE LEONARD IS NOW SEEKING TO BE DEPORTED

Miss Amelia M. Leonard, who as a nurse attended a number of people in Boston, some of whom died suddenly, is now at Manhattan State Hospital on Ward's Island, New York, seeking deportation from this country. Miss Leonard escaped from the State hospital at Worcester on September 28 and was found later in Hotel Vanderbilt, New York. In several cases she attended the nurse was accused of larceny.

Dr. E. V. Scribner of the Worcester Hospital has been trying in vain to have her returned to his custody. He even sought aid from the United States authorities. They took up the matter to see if they could not deport the woman, she being a native of Scotland. The matter of deportation was put up to Miss Leonard.

"I'd rather be deported than go back to Massachusetts," replied the nurse. No decision has yet been reached by the United States authorities.

TO REVISE TRIAL OF WOMAN LONG DEAD

PARIS, Dec. 10.—An effort to obtain the revision of the trial of Mme. LeFarge, a young and beautiful woman, who was sentenced to imprisonment for life in 1840 for the murder of her husband by poisoning him with arsenic, is about to be made by a powerful committee of scientific men, writers and politicians which has just been formed. The case of Mme. LeFarge was very similar to that of Mrs. Maybrick. Mme. LeFarge died in 1855, two years after she had been pardoned by Napoleon III.

HELD FOR RUNNING A BANK OF HIS OWN

Havhanis Der Abaronnian, an Armenian iron moulder, twenty-seven years of age, No. 44 Highland avenue, Needham, was arrested today on the charge of conducting a banking business without authority at Newton Upper Falls. The authorities say he violated the banking laws by a system of loans, deposits, etc., among his friends.

FIREBUG SUSPECT RELEASED BY POLICE

After being detained by the Quincy police over night as a firebug suspect, Harry R. Ashland of No. 85 School street, Charlestown, was released today without the formality of a court-martial. His arrest followed ten incendiary fires in that city within a month, but the police admitted they did not have the right man.

FIRE EXPLODES 26 AUTO TANKS; LOSS OF $45,000

WESTFIELD, Dec. 10.—A series of explosions of gasoline tanks in twenty-five automobiles that were destroyed by fire today in the garage of Beyers, Lay & Hayes, off Elm street, shook adjoining buildings and endangered the lives of scores of firemen. Three alarms summoned the entire fire department, and the damage will be $45,000.

The garage was a large wooden structure and for years was used as an opera house. The fire started in the rear of the structure and spread rapidly. Before the arrival of the apparatus the flames caught on a two-story tenement house, which was destroyed.

Another building, occupied by the Veteran Firemen's Association, was damaged. The organization's hand engine, used at firemen's musters, was damaged beyond repair. Burning brands set fire to a number of roofs, but men and women with buckets of water stopped the flames from spreading further.

QUARREL OVER CAN OF TOMATOES LEADS TO FATAL SHOOTING

A dispute over a 10-cent can of tomatoes ended in a probably fatal shooting at the North End today. Antonio Scoulo, thirty-three, is on the dangerous list at the City Hospital with a bullet in his head. Vincenzio Tanzo, thirty-five, of No. 7 Thacher court, an at the Hanover street station, charged with assault with intent to kill.

Scoulo was arranging his Christmas stock in his grocery store at No. 2 Thacher court. Tanzo is alleged to have come in and taken a 10-cent can of tomatoes. There was a quarrel. The police charge that Tanzo hastened to his home a few doors away, returned to the grocery store with a thirty-two-calibre rifle and fired.

Wellesley Student Used New Method to Recover Book Loaned

One thing they emphasize at Wellesley is courtesy in little things, like returning borrowed books and other consideration of personal rights. How invariably successful this is the following advertisement in the Wellesley College News shows:

LOST.

Will the person who borrowed "The Admirable Tinker" from me last Spring, please return it immediately. Berenice Van Slyke, 38 Nonotuck.

Miss Van Slyke was vice-president of the Junior Class last Spring, but she doesn't see why she should lose her loaned books on that account.

WILSON SAW SHIP UNLOAD 180 CATTLE

The British tramp steamer Hoyle Bank arrived in port today from South American ports via Bermuda. At Bermuda 180 head of cattle from Argentine Republic were unloaded. President-elect Woodrow Wilson and his two daughters were interested spectators of this difficult work. They had ridden down to the shore on their bicycles. While the cattle were being driven from the steamer, forty stampeded and jumped overboard, and the crew of the steamer had to take small boats to round them up.

PARK POLICEMEN JOIN "DIP" SQUAD

Detective Sergeants Finn and Albert and Patrolman Connolly of the Metropolitan Park police began today their annual Winter school of practice on pickpockets, under the tutelage of Chief Inspector John McGarr. In Summers the three "park cops" are stationed at Revere Beach to protect the crowd from "dips" and pickpockets. When the beach season closes they are transferred to Boston police headquarters, to be paid still by the State, but to work with the police inspectors in the shopping district.

OPEN TWO DAYS' FAIR FOR SOUTH END NURSERY

The annual two days fair for the benefit of the South End Day Nursery, opens today at the Copley-Plaza. The setting is unusually pretty by reason of the decorations for the Weld ball last night, which were donated by Mrs. Weld to the fair today.

One of the most interesting features of the fair will be "The King of Life Readers," Professor Bra-Gan-Va, the celebrated Hindu of Bombay, who is touring this country.

The lunch, the pivot-bridge and whist and the chafing dish supper are other strong drawing cards, to say nothing of the many beautiful articles to be on sale, and the numberless pretty girls who will be selling them.

The well-known society women who are to pour for the lunch hour on Tuesday are Mrs. Robert M. Minot, Mrs. Thomas Aspinwall, Mrs. Robert D. Andrews and Mrs. Stewart Kershaw.

Those to pour on Wednesday are Mrs. Eugene N. Foss, Mrs. Albert L. Croll, Mrs. Prescott Bilodeau and Mrs. Kara C. Fitch. Mrs. George Faulenan and Mrs. S. Parker Bremer are also to assist at the chafing dishes.

Music is furnished by the Arion Quartet.

GERMANIC ELECTION.

The members of the Germanic Museum Association at Harvard have elected as President, Adolphus Busch of St. Louis; vice-presidents, Frederick P. Fish of Boston and Hugo Reisinger of New York; secretary, C. S. Houghton of Boston.

MRS. C. D. PAGE ARGUES BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Mrs. Christina D. Page of No. 416 Marlboro street, prominent in many women's organizations and advanced as a successor to Police Commissioner O'Meara by Boston muckrakers, the Women's Board of Trade and the Women's Homestead Association appeared today as an advocate before the full bench of the Supreme Court.

It was the first time in the history of the court that a woman has argued a case before it. Mrs. Page presented new phases of the suit brought by her friend, Mrs. Sarah C. Shapley, seeking the removal of Frank Stevens, administrator of her husband's estate. Judge Braley, sitting alone a few months ago, decided in favor of the defendant.

The estate is valued at $250,000 and has been in litigation since the death of Mr. Shapley, four years ago. Mrs. Shapley desires that either she or United States District Attorney Asa P. French be appointed administrator, in place of Stevens.

Mrs. Page requested the court to reopen the case.

According to the evidence in the case presented by Mrs. Shapley, Mr. Shapley made two wills, one when he was worth $25,000 and a subsequent instrument shortly before he died. The second will never was found. Mr. Shapley's brother served as administrator for a short time, and then Mr. Stevens was appointed by the Probate Court, against Mrs. Shapley's wishes. Mrs. Page acted today as the legal agent of Mrs. Shapley.

TRADE MEN TO HEAR MGR. O'CALLAGHAN

Mgr. Denis J. O'Callaghan of St. Augustine's Church, South Boston, will speak tonight at the dinner and meeting of the Trade Association of the Peninsular district. Other speakers will be William S. McNary, chairman of the Harbor and Land Commission; the Rev. George Patterson, the Rev. James Shoerin, and Councillors Attridge, Collins and Kenny.

A. Shuman & Co.

MUFFLERS as a Christmas Gift

We have them in wool and silk in attractive colors.

Woolen $2.50 to $5.00

Silk $3.00 to $10.00

Shuman Corner
Boston

"The Busiest Corner on Boston's Busiest Street"

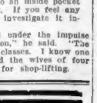
Believing that it will be for the greatest convenience of their patrons during the remaining days of the holiday season

Magrane Houston Co.

Announces that their store will open at 9:30 A. M. and close at 6:30 P. M. until December 25th

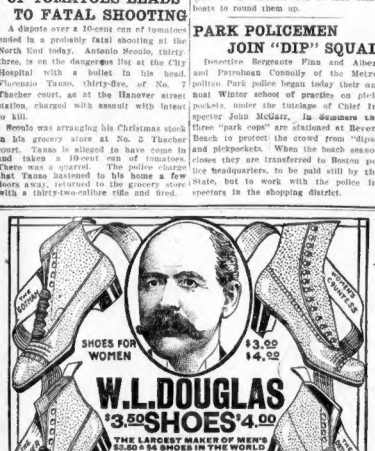
Violent Cathartics Injure Health

Side stop purgatives—their harsh action is liable to injure the bowels. Why not use CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS a purely vegetable cure for that has been successfully used by millions for half a century. Acts gently but surely and not only quickly relieves but forever ends the misery of constipation. Use them for dizziness, indigestion, sick headache and all liver troubles.



Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price.
The GENUINE must bear signature

Brent Good



SHOES FOR WOMEN
$3.00
$4.00
W.L.DOUGLAS
$3.50 SHOES $4.00
THE LARGEST MAKER OF MEN'S $3.50 & $4 SHOES IN THE WORLD
Look in W. L. Douglas store windows and you'll see shoes for $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50 that are just as good in style, fit and wear as other makes costing $5.00 to $7.00, the only difference is the price. Shoes in all leathers, styles and shapes to suit everybody. If you could visit W. L. Douglas large factories at Brockton, Mass., and see for yourself how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they are warranted to fit better, look better, hold their shape and wear longer than any other make for the price.
THE BEST $2.00 AND $2.50 BOYS' SHOES IN THE WORLD
CAUTION See that W. L. Douglas name is stamped on the bottom.
TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.
If W. L. Douglas shoes are not for sale in your vicinity, write for catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.
W. L. DOUGLAS STORES IN BOSTON:
635 Washington St., opp. Essex St. 115-117 Summer St., cor. Lincoln St.
83 Court Street, cor. Howard Street. 150 Hanover Street.

X MAS TRA!

An Ostrich Plume is a Christmas gift of beauty and a joy forever.

Our showing at this time is particularly worthy of your inspection.

Price Range $1.00 to $20

Plumes Curled Free

KORNFELD'S
65-67 Summer St.

S. H. HARRISON CO.
662-672 WASHINGTON ST., Cor. Beach
Our Wholesale Stock ½ Retail Prices
OVERCOATS

20.00 25.00 30.00 35.00
OVERCOATS
9.75 12.50 14.50 18.00

MELLEN ROAD CHANGES SITE FOUR TIMES

NORTH EASTON, Dec. 10.—Residents of this town, especially those who have given options to the New Haven railroad on their property for the railroad to build a terminal and train yard, would like to know whether the New Haven intends to build here or at Easton Centre. The road has changed its mind four times in a month.

The first announcement was that the road had obtained options on the land here known as the "Horsegrass." Easton Centre residents petitioned for the terminal to be located in their section.

Then the road announced that Easton Centre would get the terminal. North Easton business men protested to Vice-President Byrnes. It was announced that North Easton had been selected.

Last Friday the local men were informed that the Old Colony directors, of whom Oliver Ames is a member, had favored Easton Centre over North Easton.

The North Easton men saw Mr. Ames, who sent them to Vice-President Byrnes again. Now they are waiting an answer. They are perplexed at the whole proceeding and wish the road would stick to its first agreement.

Boston Pittsburg New York
The Biggest Cut-Price Baggage Dealers in the World

Extraordinary
XMAS SPECIALS
If You Buy NOW
Suit Cases

Double steel frame, solid leather straps all round, shirt pockets, etc. $5.50 value. While they last 3.00
Hundreds of Other Styles

The biggest stock in the city at CUT PRICES ONLY
even if it is holiday time.

Thousands of Ladies' Handbags

$2 & $2.50 High Grades, 100 styles.. 95c
$4.50 to $6.50 Fancies of every kind, 2.19, 2.85
Just bought from Imported Sample line.

Wonderful Bag Specials

These Solid, Double Handle, Sole Leather Bags, leather lined, finest trimmings. $7.85 val. While they last 4.65
Get Busy, see the Biggest Stock of Leather Goods in Boston.
Go Where the Crowds Go ! !
LOOK FOR THE
EMERGENCY TRUNK AND BAG CO.
207 Washington Street
Opposite Old State House.
Open Every Evening.

GUARANTEED TEETH, $5.00 FULL SET
ROOFLESS, ETC.
Best Red Rubber, Guaranteed 10 Years
No Charge for Painless Extracting
CMNP GOLD SETS A SPECIALTY
Look, Feel Better Than Gold Plates

SPECIAL 10-YEAR GOLD CROWN BRIDGE WORK $3.00
Fillings 50c Up. Examination Free
ROSS DENTAL CO.
630 Washington St., Dewey Sq., Cornhill
8:30-6. Saturday till 8. Sunday 9-1.

ALLIES TO GIVE PORT AVLONA TO GREAT BRITAIN

PARIS, Dec. 10.—More than 800,000 Austrian troops have been concentrated on the Servian and Russian frontiers, according to dispatches received by the Echo.

BELGRADE, Dec. 10.—Great Britain will make a material gain as a result of the Balkan war by securing Avlona, the chief seaport in Southern Albania on the Adriatic Sea, if present plans of the allies, divulged here today, go to the limit.

It was announced by a government official that the Balkan allies had tentatively agreed to present Avlona to England to prevent its occupation by Austria, if the London peace conference is successful. At present Avlona is held by a Greek force.

Tension Is Lessened.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The tension due to the strained relations of the Triple Alliance, comprising Austria, Italy and Germany, and the Triple Entente, comprising England, Russia and France, was decidedly lessened this afternoon, when Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, announced in the House of Commons that all the European Powers concerned had cordially approved his suggestion for an ambassadorial consultation on the questions at issue.

The AMERICAN publishes with reserve the following amazing special dispatch because of the high character of Dr. Dillon, the London Daily Telegraph's correspondent, but the Telegraph has been friendly to Turkey and its other correspondent, Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, was for years the special apologist for, and spokesman of, Turkey in Parliament.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Dr. E. J. Dillon, the London Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Vienna wires:

"I deeply regret to announce that a series of the most appalling horrors of this or any other war known to history will shortly be pushed into the foreground of public discussion and will cast an ugly blot on the fair name of the Balkan Christians who began the campaign for the liberation of oppressed people.

"From Constantinople and Bucharest narratives have reached me of the inhuman massacres of the unarmed Moslem population by Christian soldiers in the environs of Salonika. It is not merely that these unfortunate human beings were, massacred by Bulgarian hands, as helpless Bulgarian people have so often been massacred by ferocious Bashi Bazouks, Kurds and Albanians, but tortures of the most fiendish kinds are credibly reported to have been resorted to.

"Among the most soul-scorching enormities which marked the diabolical naturalia is the deliberate burial of the living wounded."

Still Fighting at Scutari.

CETTINJE, Montenegro, Dec. 10.—Communications are threatened by the refusal of the Turkish commander in the besieged city of Scutari to recognize the general armistice. Fighting is still going on outside of Scutari. According to a government official, the Turks have made three unsuccessful sorties in twenty-four hours.

BEAUTIFUL TEETH
FOR Christmas Gifts

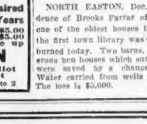
For Wife, Mother, Sister, Husband, Father, Brother, Being appreciated by all. Gives lasting satisfaction whom you give it. Gift of Gifts for Christmas. You will be wise, for it is forever useful and you will be forever remembered.

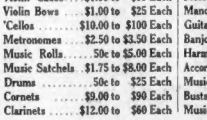
My Christmas gift to you. Bring this ad, get fit and a gold tooth free with every set. For this month only.

THE ETTELSON
ANCHOR DENTURE PLATE
$5 SET



Come here in the morning, have your old teeth extracted FREE. Finished, and home at night with a New Set that fits perfectly.

Gas Administered When Desired
All Work Guaranteed 10 Years
Full Sets of Teeth $5.00
Crown and Bridge Work $5.00
Silver and Gold Fillings ..... 50c up
DR. ETTELSON
236 Tremont Street, Near Eliot
Over Landers' Restaurant
Hrs. 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 9 to 2



PRACTICAL
GIFTS FOR CHRISTMAS

Begin your Christmas shopping with a visit to our salesrooms, where you will find everything pertaining to music and musical instruments.

Violins	$3.00 to $500 Each	Flutes	$1.00 to $50 Each
Violin Cases	$1.00 to $15 Each	Piccolos	$1.00 to $30 Each
Violin Bows	$1.00 to $25 Each	Mandolins	$3.50 to $50 Each
Cellos	$10.00 to $100 Each	Guitars	$5.00 to $50 Each
Metronomes	$2.50 to $3.50 Each	Banjos	$5.00 to $50 Each
Music Rolls	50c to $5.00 Each	Harmonicas	10c to $3.50 Each
Music Satchels	$1.75 to $8.00 Each	Accordeons	$2.00 to $25 Each
Drums	50c to $25 Each	Music Boxes	50c to $150 Each
Cornets	$9.00 to $90 Each	Busts of Musicians	$1.75 to $10 Each
Clarinets	$12.00 to $60 Each	Music Stands	50c to $15 Each

Goods selected now will be reserved for delivery later if desired

OLIVER DITSON COMPANY,
150 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Taking Down Body of Moslem Slayer Executed by Bulgars

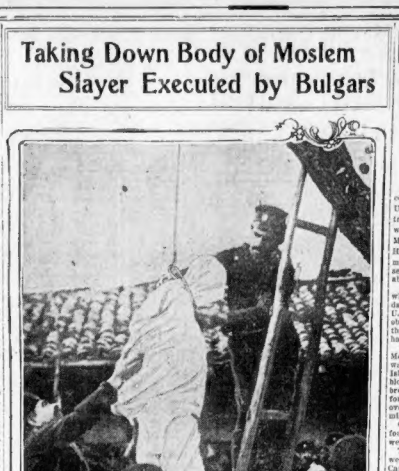


PHOTO "BY UNDERWOOD AND UNDERWOOD."

This victim of the retributive noose was caught redhanded after a long series of crimes. He was a Bashi-Bazouk, one of the ferocious Turkish irregulars, who wiped out sixteen Christian villages a day or two ago.

WILSON PLANS TO USE TRENTON AS HIS CENTRE

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 10.—President-elect Wilson has been writing a good many letters recently. Some of them have been to statesmen and politicians with whom he expects to confer after his return. No time or place has been set for the conference with William J. Bryan. The Governor will ask most of the men with whom he intends to confer to meet him in Trenton.

"Trenton is a good deal more convenient than Princeton to persons coming either from the East or West," he said. "Practically all the trains stop at Trenton. So I shall ask my friends to come there to meet me.

"A man who is Governor of New Jersey and President-elect of the United States at the same time is apt to be a pretty busy man," he added. "I do not expect to have much time to rest between now and March 4. I have decided not to accept any speaking engagements or social engagements until the inauguration, but to devote all my time to the tasks before me."

OLD NORTH EASTON HOUSE IS BURNED

NORTH EASTON, Dec. 10.—The residence of Brooks Parrar of Turnpike road, one of the oldest houses in Easton, where the first town library was established, was burned today. Two barns, sheds, and numerous pen houses which surround the house were saved by a change in the wind. Water carried from wells had little effect. The loss is $5,000.

$10,000 FIRE IN PACKARD BLOCK AT BROCKTON

BROCKTON, Dec. 10.—Fire early today destroyed the Packard building at Main and East Elm street, with a loss of $10,000. Guests at the Fraser house on Main street were alarmed, although the fire did not reach the hotel. A general alarm called every piece of apparatus in the city to the fire. The building, of three stories, was owned by Hymen Bloomberg of Malden. The occupants of the first floor were Morris Jaffe's furnishing store, the Brockton shoe market and Alfred Feroli, a cobbler. The second and third floors were occupied by Dr. J. H. Packard, a dentist. There were also halls where several labor organizations met.

CONFIRM ASSETS SALE.

Referee Olmstead of the United States Bankruptcy Court today confirmed the sale of the assets of the Bigelow Copper Company, by which the creditors received the amounts due them in full and the stockholders were taken care of in an arrangement for a reorganization of the company.

In Midwinter
you can live close to Nature. The health giving, semi-tropical climate of Southern California permits the enjoyment of every out-of-door amusement. The entrancing scenery, too, adds to the joy of golf, automobiling, tennis, hunting, driving and fishing. Take the Los Angeles Limited
Fast-superbly appointed train Chicago to Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino and Pasadena. Makes the trip in less than three days.
Union Pacific
and
Salt Lake Route
Quick, Direct, Safe way. Heavily ballasted, dust-free roadbed. Double track. Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals. Dining car service that satisfies. Plan your trip today. Let us help you. Send for illustrated literature and full information.
Willard Massey,
N. E. Pr'l and Pass'r Agt.,
170 Washington St., Boston, Mass.
Phone Fort Hill 1487.

CAPE SURFMEN, BY CUTTER'S AID, SAVE SCHOONER

PROVINCETOWN, Dec. 10.—The new coast patrol of Atlantic waters by the United States revenue cutters, to help distressed shipping, scored heavily today when the Androscoggin (Captain George M. Daniels) steamed into Provincetown Harbor towing the wind-stripped two-masted sand schooner Lazalto, with five seamen and five Nauset life savers aboard.

The rescue of the Lazalto from the gale which swept the North Atlantic yesterday was due to the right combination of U. S. lifesavers, the lighthouse and marine observatory work, wireless equipment and the revenue cutter service, all working harmoniously.

The Lazalto, New York to Ellsworth, Me., with a heavy cargo of moulding sand, was caught in the gale off Thatcher's Island, early yesterday. Her sails were blown away. Her gaffs and boom were broken. She was driven eighty miles before the blast, with her hamper dragging over the side, until she lay wallowing three miles off Nauset shore.

Captain W. C. Bellaty and his crew of four men were exhausted. The colors were hoisted upside down.

The schooner and her distress signal were seen at Nauset life-saving station. Captain A. F. Nickerson, keeper of the life station and four men put out and, after a hard three-mile pull, boarded the Lazalto at 11 a. m. The life savers relieved the worn-out Lazalto's crew at the pumps, but the sand cargo had choked the pumps.

Meanwhile Captain Small in the marine observatory at Highland Light had sighted the Lazalto. He told his wireless operator to call the nearest revenue cutter he could reach. Soon the Androscoggin, cruising outside, answered the call.

The cutter arrived at 7 o'clock. After considerable jockeying the Androscoggin floated a barrel with a hand-line over to the Lazalto. A hawser was made fast and the Androscoggin started on a thirty-mile tow to this port.

It took all night. The Lazalto dragged fearfully. Seas broke over her. The helmsman was hauled to the mast. The crew and lifesavers—for the Nauset men had stayed aboard—clung to what was left of the deck sweptwise. The deck-house and galley were swept away early.

All night the Androscoggin steamed through the gale, with the sand-schooner kicking and bucking at the towline. At 8 o'clock today they arrived here.

PRINCETON MAN IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

BALDWIN, Mich., Dec. 10.—O. M. Auerbach of Chicago, an 1910 Princeton graduate, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Jackson for the murder of his employer, Harry Fisher, a former Chicago promoter. Fisher was killed while hunting with Auerbach, or Arbach, as the name is sometimes spelled, and the defendant claimed the killing was accidental. Auerbach declared today that he was confident of being granted a new trial.

DOCTORS, ARE YOU TREATING TUBERCULOSIS?

This Preparation Make. No Exorbitant Claims, but Deserves Your Consideration.

When a preparation is discovered abroad which attains a remarkable success in treating all diseases of the lungs, and is used in this country with indorsement from the medical profession of Europe, including Dr. Hugo Tarcia, the famous specialist, then it is time for doctors in this country to give it considera-tion.

This preparation is Sirolin, a Swiss Remedy that in two years' time in this country has built up a reputation that is extremely valuable in treating diseases of the lungs.

Any one, doctors included, can obtain all details and literature by addressing the Sirolin Co., 225 West Broadway, New York City. Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores and all leading druggists are distributing Sirolin with constantly increasing success.

TRY Swissco Hair Remedy

Restores Gray or Faded Hair to Its Original Color, Grows Hair, and Stops Dandruff and Scalp Diseases. 25 Cent Bottle Free to Prove It.

Swissco Is Certainly the Wonder of the Age.

Yes, you can positively restore gray hair to its natural color. Swissco will do it sure, and at the same time it will stop hair falling out, will remove every trace of dandruff, cure all scalp trouble, all itching, all scurf and make your hair grow and thrive in luxuriant abundance. Swissco contains wonderful elements that sink into the scalp pores, into the roots and glands, stimulate natural secretions of life-giving, life-renewing hair material and the lifeless, lifeless sickly hair renews the charm, the lustre, the sparkle of youth. Get a 50-cent bottle of Swissco today. The result will astonish you.

All who wish, that have not tried "Swissco," can have a free 25c bottle, prepaid, on receipt of ten cents in stamps or silver, to help cover expense of packing, etc., by addressing the Swissco Hair Remedy Co., 5286 P. O. Square, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Swissco is on sale by druggists and department stores, at 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or will be sent direct on receipt of price.

Sold in Boston by Riker-Jaynes Drug Co.

GOING SOUTH?

Now is the time to secure useful advance information and instructive literature that will help in arranging your plans. Make your wants known to the

Boston American Hotel and Travel Bureau

Where detailed information and literature concerning hotels, railroads and steamship lines is at your disposal, and we will make it possible to secure accommodations and transportation reservations without delay and

FREE FOR THE ASKING

Write, telephone or telegraph your requirements to this Bureau.

80 SUMMER STREET - - BOSTON

GRAND TRUNK RATE DIVISION HELD UP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Divisions of rates and reconsignment privileges on coal, coke and iron ore shipments over the Grand Trunk and eight other railroads having terminals in Detroit, Mich., extended to shippers at Detroit were suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission today until June 15 next.

A WOMAN'S BEAUTY

All Specialists Agree That It Cannot Be Obtained by the Use of Cosmetics.

Beauty—real beauty—is more than skin deep. No cosmetic in the world can give the wholesome color, the bright eyes, the clear transparent skin that is the natural result of pure blood, proper diet and hygienic habits of daily life.

It sounds easy and it is easy for a woman to have the beauty which health alone can give. A safe and efficient tonic if the blood is weak, thin or impure (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are especially recommended), the avoidance of foods which will cause eruptions, and regular bathing of the skin. That is all and it is the only way. Most women will be interested in the following statement:

Mrs. Agnes Goodworth, of No. 86 Grace street, Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "I was in a run-down condition, which developed into anemia and nervous prostration. For two or three years I was doctoring and was confined to bed for from four to six weeks every few months. I was pale and weak. I couldn't sleep and was so nervous and irritable that I could hardly stand it. I had no appetite and nothing that I ate agreed with me. I lost weight and became completely run down. The doctor said I didn't have enough blood and at last advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In about a week I began to gain. They did wonders for me. I gained in flesh and strength, had a good color and was entirely cured. Later I gave them to my little boy who had no appetite and was sickly. He commenced to gain right away and is now strong and healthy. I can heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for people who are run down and have no blood. Women, especially, will be benefited by them. I gave them to my daughter and they built her up wonderfully. It is my duty to speak good words for a remedy which has done so much for my family."

Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Box 176, Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Plain Talks to Women." It should be read by every woman and growing girl. A free sample of the new laxative "Pinklets" will also be sent you. Should you be unable to obtain Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in your locality they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50.

ENGLAND WON'T CUT NAVY PROGRAM

LONDON, Dec. 10.—All doubts were swept away today of the possibility of Great Britain curtailing her own naval program in view of the gift by Canada of the British Empire of three powerful battleships at a cost of $35,000,000.

Ample Testimony of Relief from Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuritis

Testimonials are usually discounted, but your druggist will show you proof backed by affidavit that Nuritis is promptly relieving these diseases in all sections of the country.

Nuritis is a specialists's prescription, entirely free from opium and narcotics—simply an effective antidote for the uric acid poison which causes all rheumatic diseases.

Dear Sirs:

"During the past two years, scarce one contemptible, I have been troubled with rheumatism and have taken bottle at Marlon, Wisconsin, and Hot Springs, Ark., but received very little benefit.

"My wife happened to see an ad. about Nuritis in the Boston Post, then sent $1 for a box, for me to try. I had lost all faith in any kind of medicine. The first box relieved me just in transit, but I received another box at Worthington Hotel. I took one powder after dinner and one after supper. The results were marvellous, as in the morning I felt like another person, so from the change, I feel much better able to walk better than I have for two years. Enclosed please find $2 for which please send me a $2 box by return mail. I wish to get it as quickly as possible."

Magisteral Chemical Co., Flatiron Bldg., N. Y. Trade and mail order agents. Send $1 for box and add your praise to the rest. $1 and $2 a box.

For sale by Houghton & Dutton Co., and all leading druggists.

TAXED WOMEN MAY VOTE UNDER VERMONT RULE

MONTPELIER, Vt., Dec. 10.—The Vermont Senate has passed, fourteen to thirteen, the bill granting women taxpayers with a list of $200 or more the right to vote in municipal affairs on all matters relating to taxation and the raising and appropriation of money.

The House yesterday, in action killing the Marriage License bill and passed the measure, which when adopted by the Senate, will make Vermont no longer the Gretna Green for New Hampshire, New York and Massachusetts. Five days' notice will be required of marriage intentions.

FORECLOSURE NOW MENACES SICKLES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The troubles of General Daniel E. Sickles have increased with the filing by the Bowery Savings Bank of a suit to foreclose the $118,000 mortgage it holds on the general's home, No. 23 Fifth avenue. Interest has been due since last February. Unpaid taxes amount to $11,300.

Dancer Banished for King's Kiss Is Given Queen's Forgiveness

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Banished from Belgium for a King's kiss—and it wasn't a really, truly kiss at that—Lola Dorndova, the dancer, has been forgiven and recalled to Belgium.

Queen Elizabeth banished the danseuse on hearing King Albert had kissed her. As a matter of fact, the King only tried to kiss Lola, and the agile dancer sprang away. The King perked at this air an inch away from her rosy cheek.

Now Queen Elizabeth has learned the facts through the Prince of Monaco. She is convinced that the dancer was guiltless of flirting with the King, and asks her to come back to have the royal forgiveness extended.

D'Arcollo will sail for Antwerp on the Zealand tomorrow, and will go from there to Brussels "to make her amiats to the Queen," as she expressed it.

Afterward she will go to Holland to dance for Queen Wilhelmina, by royal command. Then she is coming back to America, perhaps to be wedded to an American.

Although the dancer is absolved of blame, the despatches do not state the fate of th King.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere—in the homes, clubs, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats

MAYOR STUDIES NEW PLANS FOR COPLEY SQUARE

It is now up to Mayor Fitzgerald and the City Council to approve the proposed plans for beautifying Copley square at a cost of $200,000. The original plans called for the spending of $500,000. The art commission liked Architect Frank A. Bourne's plans, but thought the cost too high. Mr. Bourne did some figuring and made some slight changes. Result—$300,000 saved the city and the plan not injured.

The city must now appropriate the money if it refuses private citizens will be asked to come forward with the money. Members of the well known Winthrop family have already offered to join in a plan to improve the square.

GUILD TO STAY IN RUSSIA CHRISTMAS

Ex-Governor Curtis Guild, candidate for United States Senator, will not be in Boston for the Christmas holidays, as many of his friends thought. His brother, Courtney Guild, says that he has received a cable from him, but there was no mention of his coming home.

Baby in Jail with Mother; Waits for Father to Pay Fine

There is a nursery cell at the Charles Street Jail today and the sound of a baby's cooing lends a touch of home to the steel-grated corridors.

The cell is that of Mrs. Mary Gosden of Elm street, Everett, who is waiting for her husband to raise $75 to pay her fine on a shoplifting charge. Baby Gosden is there because she needs her mother's care.

If the father and friends are successful, the baby and mother will be released, to spend their Christmas happily at home. If unsuccessful, baby will be taken home and the mother left alone to serve out her term.

The mother was arrested on Washington street while her arms were filled with Christmas gifts, many taken from downtown stores, it was alleged.

HARVARD PROFESSOR MAY HAVE GOUT CURE

Long and serious study by professors of the Harvard Medical School on the diseases of gout and nephritis and the physical conditions attending them has at last been rewarded by a discovery made by Dr. Otto Folin, which may point the way for a more successful treatment of these forms of disease, and possibly for a cure.

What's Good For Papa's Baby? Red Cross ✠ Cough Drops. 5c per box.

TAFT ATTENDS HALE MEMORIAL FETE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A large entertainment was given in behalf of the proposed memorial in connection with the new All-Souls Unitarian Church to the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, formerly of Boston. While living in Washington Dr. Hale used to attend the church. The President and Mrs. Taft were present.

FIND MAN'S VITAL ORGANS ALL MIXED

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—An autopsy in Bellevue morgue disclosed that Michael Manning lived for thirty-two years with his vital organs in wrong places. His heart was on the right side and the cockpluggs entered the stomach on the right side.

"Mr. Inveterate Smoker"

We are told by eminent authorities that Cancer of the tongue as well as of other parts of the mouth very commonly arises from the excessive use of tobacco.

You can reduce to a minimum the possibility of contracting these dreaded diseases by the constant use of "ODOL" as a mouthwash.

Pleasant to use and delightfully refreshing. It will also keep your teeth in a healthy condition. There is nothing "Just as Good" as "ODOL."

Price 50 Cents

At All Druggists and Department Stores.

GEO. BORGFELDT & CO.

NEW YORK CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO

Tomorrow—BLUE RIBBON DAY at Gilchrist's

Presenting great stocks of desirable goods, at prices that will help to "spin out" the money of overtaxed pocket books—will make the money go farthest at this time when the inroads are heaviest on the family treasury.

Every Blue Ribbon Day at Gilchrist's Is an Extraordinary Event

This Blue Ribbon Day in December, Just Before Christmas, Is the Extreme of Value-Giving; is all that anyone could desire in the way of a Bargain Event.

Blue Ribbon Day will be long remembered by thousands of thrifty people all over New England. We advise early shopping, as the day will not be long enough at best, for each salesperson expects to serve three times the usual number of customers.

WEDNESDAY DEC. 11 BLUE RIBBON DAY WEDNESDAY DEC. 11

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' APPAREL

(Second Floor—Wash. St. Side)

$15.00 Suits—Cheviots, serges, worsteds and broadcloths, all tailored styles, $9.75.

$18.00 Suits—Broadcloths, cheviots and serges, all tailored styles, $12.75.

$4.00 Skirts—All wool dress skirts, brown, tailored or panel models, $2.69.

$7.50 Sample Skirts—Whipcords, serges and broadcloths, $3.98.

$10.00 Coats—Double faced materials, velour style, button high to the collar, $5.00.

$15.00 Plaid Back Coats—Loose, box back and dark mixtures, $7.50.

$16.50 Long Boucle Coats—Blue, black and green boucle cloths, large shawl collars, belted back, $9.75.

$18.75 Full Length Coats—Chinchilla cloths, cheviots and double faced tailored coats, lined with satin, $12.75.

$25.00 Plush Coats—Full length model, lined with yarn dyed satin, $18.75.

$25.00 Coats—Of plain cloth and velvet, trimmed on collars, cuffs and pockets, $18.75.

$6.50 Wool Serge Dresses—Navy and brown serge dresses, some with box coats and soft panel, panel back and long sleeves, navy and black, women's and misses' sizes, $4.98.

$10.00 Wool Serge Dresses—Variety of styles, navy, brown, black and mixtures, high and normal waist, long and short sleeves, women's and misses' sizes, $5.00.

MILLINERY

(Second Floor—Corner Store)

$1.00 Ostrich Bands—4 inches wide, 36 inches long, waved ostrich, in black and white bands, $.69c.

$3.50 Ostrich Plumes—Three-ply, full sweep long fine ostrich and black and white, $2.49.

$6.98 Auto Bonnets—French felt, light brown and velvet, trimmed with flat imported ornaments to match hat, lined with silk, $4.98.

$1.25 Velvet—Black and white striped velvet, 59c.

$1.25 Silk—Green and red changeable silk, 25c.

$1.00 Silk—Brown silk with velvet edge, 25c.

GLOVES

(First Floor—Corner Store)

$2.50 Kid Gloves—Mocha, slipon, fourbutton length, white only, $1.49.

$3.00 Plaque Kid Gloves—2 clasps, in black and white, $1.15.

$1.50 French Kid Gloves—2 clasps, Paris point embroidery, overseam sewn, in black and white, $.98c.

$3.50 French Kid Gloves—16 button, three rows of embroidery, overseam sewn, in white only, $2.25.

$2.00 French Kid Gloves—2 clasps, in black or white, $1.25.

$1.50 and $2.00 Long Genuine Mocha Gloves—In black only, $.98c.

$1.00 French Kid Gloves—Special embroidered overseam sewn, in tan, white or black, $.95c.

$.14 Cape Gloves—Lorraine cloth, in tan shades, $.09c.

50c Chamberlette Gloves—2 clasp, of fine heavy, imported kacks, in white, $.39c.

$1.50 Cape Gloves—P. K. M., spearpoint embroidery, in tan shades only, $.89c.

50c Cashmere Gloves—In tan and gray, $.25c.

$1.00 Plaque Kid Gloves—2 clasps, with embroidery, in tan, embroidered self or contrasting, in white and black, $.59c.

Children's $1.00 Pique Kid Gloves—In 7 to 7½, $.75c.

Boys' 75c Cape and Suede Gloves—Piece lined, in tan, $.48c.

WAISTS

(Second Floor—Winter St. Side).

$2.00 Sample Waists—Silk finished black poplin, veiling and fancy waists, in dozens of styles, sizes 32 to 44, $1.00.

$1.00 Flannel Shirts—Gray flannel, in plain tailored styles, with collar attached, $.59c.

$1.00 Lawn Waists—Ten high neck, long sleeve lawn waists, trimmed with lace, $.50c.

$2.00 and $3.00 Sample Lingerie Waists—Latest Fall styles, trimmed with lace insertions and hand embroidery, $1.39.

29c House Waists—Percale, with tucked front and yoke, $.19c.

$4.00 and $5.00 Silk and Chiffon Waists—Latest styles and colors, $2.50.

$3.00 Sample Mesaaline and Chiffon Waists—Also messaline and taffeta, per lace yoke and collar, $1.69.

CHILDREN'S SHOES

(Third Floor—Corner Store)

Children's 75c Felt Juliets—Factory lot of house styles with trimmings and ornaments, sizes 6 to 10, $.49c.

Girls' 50c Storm Rubbers—Size 11 to 2, $.39c.

Children's 40c Storm Rubbers—Size 5 to 10½, $.29c.

Children's 60c Jersey Leggins—Of fine ribbed all wool cloth, with elastic and wool fleece back, buttons high above ankle, $.39c.

Little Boys' $2.00 Storm Boots—Made of fine vici kid, with heavy extension soles in black, with heavy extension soles, sizes 9 to 13½, $1.49.

Children's $1.65 High Top Boots—Made of fine vici kid, with heavy extension soles, with high tops, sizes 6 to 10½, $1.19.

LEATHER BAGS AND TRUNKS

(Basement—Washington St. Side)

$3.50 Professional Bag—First quality pebble 15 in leather, $2.45.

$7.00 and $8.00 Traveling Bags—Solid leather, pebble grain, linen lined and drop lock, sizes 16 to 18 in., $5.00.

PYROGRAPHY AND BRASS

(Basement—Washington St. Side).

50c to 75c glove and handkerchief Boxes—Brass covered, $.25c.

$2.50 glove and handkerchief Boxes—Stamped, boxes with good assortment of designs, $1.

Your choice of any article in Burnt Wood at Half Price.

KNITTED UNDERWEAR

(Fourth Floor—Wash. St. Side)

25c and 29c Underwear—Women's Porto Rican ribbed, each 19c.

Children's 19c to 49c Underwear—Jersey ribbed, fleece lined, shirts and pants, 17c.

Children's 39c Union Suits—Jersey ribbed, natural gray fleeced, drop seat, 19c.

Children's 25c to 39c Fleeced Lined Shirts and Drawers—Ecru and gray, 19c.

Women's $1.00 and $1.25 Vests, Pants and Tights—Medium weight, heavy cotton and wool vests and pants, seconds, 59c.

Women's 50c Vests and Pants—Seconds, short and long sleeves, fleece lined, nothing extra size, 25c.

Women's $1.00 Union Suits—Seconds, medium weight, pure white and buff ribbed, 54c.

HOUSE DRESSES

(Fourth Floor—Corner Store)

79c Percale Dresses—One-piece style, best styles and effects, button front, high neck with turnover, soft collar and long sleeves, sizes 34 to 46, 49c.

$1.00 Percale Dresses—Medium and dark colors, in neat figures, stripes and polka dots, one-piece style, with detachable collar, trimmed, plain colors to match, sizes 34 to 46, 69c.

$1.25 Dresses—Percales, chambrays and ginghams, one-piece style, with long sleeves neck, full skirt, sizes 34 to 46, 79c.

$1.50 Fancy Chambray Dresses—Round neck, button front, embroidered on collar and cuffs, with white collar, assorted blue and gray, all sizes, $1.00.

CORSETS

(Fourth Floor—Corner Store).

$5.00 and $6.00 Redfern Corsets—Sample lines, $3.00.

$3.00 Corsets—Medium high bust, extra long hip, heavy jacketing and sateen, trimmed with lace and ribbon, sizes 18 to 28, $1.49.

$1.50 P. N. Corsets—Medium high bust, long hip, embroidery top, 98c.

$1.00 Princess Corsets—Medium high bust, long hip, trimmed with lace, draw string, sizes 18 to 28, 49c.

$1.00 De Bevoise Brassieres—Fine net sleeves, embroidered and ribbon shields attached, sizes 32 to 42, 59c.

25c Brassieres—Embroidered yoke, lace edge, reinforced under arm, 19c.

BUTTONS AND BRAIDS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

10c and 25c Gilt Belt Buckles—Waisted small trimming sizes, white, gray, blue and gilt, assorted styles, each, 5c.

25c to 50c Black Silk Braids—Ranging to four inches wide, fancy designs, 10c.

$1.50 Imported Fancy Braids—Odd patterns sample pieces in black only up to 8 inches wide, 99c.

TRIMMINGS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

25c Trimming Frogs—In black only, three rows of soutache braid trimmed, 15c.

75c Persian Net Bands—Two inches, variety of colors and designs, 49c.

$1.00 to $1.25 Embroidered Trimming Bands—Two and three rows of Persian colorings on fine net, 3 to 4 inches wide, 79c.

HAMBURGS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

29c and 35c Corset Covers—17 inches, eyelet and lined yokes, each, 21c.

50c and 75c Corset Covers—17 inches, in eight different styles, each, 39c.

75c Swiss Flouncing—27 inches, for children's dresses and fancy waists, 42c.

12½c and 15c Finished Bands and Headings—Included many fine Xmas gifts, 10c.

STATIONERY

(First Floor—Washington St. side)

50c Booklets—20 booklets, with extra, fine envelopes, each 25c.

10c Holiday Tag Cards—Sheepherd's dog, Santa Claus and Christmas tree designs, 5c.

10c Writing Paper—Quarto size, octagon in shape, in the box for 25c.

35c Writing Paper—Extra good quality, fancy box, 25c.

20c Post Cards—All of the new artistic designs, 10c.

25c Calendars—Two months on a card, 15c.

25c Box Paper—Tinted cloth, linen finish, 24 sheets and envelopes to match, 15c.

15c Standard Diaries—Limited number left, 10c.

ART DEPT.—PILLOW SECTION

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar).

35c Tapestry Pillow Slips—Many designs, 21c.

$1.00 Fancy Pillows—Made from remnants of popular colors, $2.19.

Rest Silk Floss Pillows—

Usually 50c, in pink, at.....19c
Usually 50c, in white, at.....19c
Usually 50c, 22 inch, at.....19c
Usually 50c, 24 inch, at.....19c
Usually 50c, 26 inch, at.....19c

50c Burlap Pillow Slips.....21c

YARNS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

29c Lamb Wool Soisette—In all staple colors, per skein.....19c

5¢ Yarn Combination—Consisting of Germantown yarn, two skeins, pair lamb wool soisette and one skein zephyr, for infants.....19c

$.00 Special Yarn Made Hats—Made in any color chosen from our immense line.....98c

ART LINENS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

$1.50 to $2.50 Renaissance Table Covers—36 inches, hand drawn centers, 98c.

50c Scarfs and Shams—Hemstitched hems, drawn work and fancy embroidered centers, 39c.

$1.25 to $2.00 Scarfs and Shams—Made of fine sheer linen, hemstitched hems, drawn work and fancy embroidered centers, 79c.

$1.50 to $1.75 Renaissance Scarfs—Three diamond styles, fancy drawn work centers, 98c.

WASH GOODS

(Third Floor—Washington St. side)

25c Half Silk Corded Chiffon—Handsome quality, novel designs, 15c.

7c Standard Prints—Figures of light, medium and dark colors, 5c.

8½c Aaron Gingham—Red and white check, standard quality, warranted fast color, 5½c.

50c Mercerized Poplin—Waist patterns, best fall colors, 39c.

75c Waist Patterns—Fine mercerized poplin and soft cord Jacquard striped patterns, in both.....57c.

COTTONS

(Third Floor—Washington St. side)

12½c Fine Cotton—40 inches wide, 9c.

10c Cotton—Soft finish, one yard.....7½c

12½c Bleached Sheeting—36 inch.....9c

10c Unbleached Sheeting—40 inches wide, 7½c.

27c Unbleached Pepperell Sheeting—10-4 yards wide, good bleaching, at.....19c

50c Bleached Sheets—Size 2x2½ yards, 39c.

65c Bleached Sheets—Size 2x2½ yards, 49c.

12½c Bleached Pillow Cases—Size 42x36 inches, 9c.

TOWELS AND TOWELING

(Third Floor—Washington St. Side)

9c Crash—17 inches wide, with simple colored border, 6c.

12½c Huck Toweling—16 inches wide, and bleached.....7½c

COLORED DRESS GOODS

(Third Floor—Washington St. Side)

59c All Wool Storm Serge—36 inch, in good weight, fancy brown, navy and black.....39c

75c Storm Serges—42 and 50 inches wide, in navy, brown, green and black.....59c

$1.50 Storm Serges—54 inches, fancy and plain, in navy, brown and black.....98c

$1.00 French Cashmere—42 inches wide, in navy, brown, green and black, fancy and plain.....59c

$1.50 Irish Poplin—Heavy silk and wool materials, bright finish and non-crushable, in navy, brown, green and black.....$1.19

$2.50 German Broadcloths—Sheared and brushed finish, in navy, brown, green, taupe and black.....$1.59

$1.00 Fancy Percentages—Mixtures of heavy weight, fancy suitings.....59c

$2.00 Heavy Coatings—Plaids, stripes and heavy mixtures.....$1.29

$3.98 Plaid Back Coatings—All wool soft quality, navy and brown face with bright plaid back.....$1.79

BLACK DRESS GOODS

(Third Floor—Washington St. side)

$1.50 Suiting Serge—54 inches, good weight, all wool, fine finish.....98c

$2.00 Black Storm Serge—54 inches, all wool quality, soft finish.....$1.29

$3.00 Austrian Broadcloth—Fine finish, all wool quality, very lustrous.....$1.98

LININGS

(Third Floor—Washington St. Side)

50c Satin—Yard wide, all colors, also black and white.....79c

89c and $1.00 Satins—36 inch, black and white and all colors.....59c

$1.00 Satin—36 inch, black only, heavy and durable.....79c

50c Taffeta Silk Velveteens—Black, white and wanted colors, also black and white cords.....39c

37½c and 39c Italian Cloth—36 inch, all colors, including black and white and stripes and figures.....27c

25c and 29c Velveteens—Black, white and colors, 36 inch.....18c

35c and 39c Percalines—36 inch, in hemstitched, full width finish, black, white and colors.....25c

25c Tailors' Linen Canvas—Full width, for stiffening skirts and waists.....17c

15c Moire Percaline—36 inch.....9c

SILKS AND VELVETS

(Third Floor—Washington St. Side)

19c Cordroy—36 inches, heavy quality, narrow wale, in brown, black and white.....9c

$1.00 Costume Velvet—24 inches, fast pile, lustrous finish and all good colors and shades.....59c

$6.00 Black Costume Velvet—44 inches, extra quality, bright finish.....$3.98

$5.00 Black Costume Velvet—44 inches, guaranteed fast dye, extra quality, rich finish.....$2.98

$1.25 Satin Duchesse—Very heavy, rich quality, in all colors and black.....79c

$1.00 Black Taffeta—Yard wide, soft finish, extra quality.....69c

$1.25 Satin Duchesse—Very heavy, rich quality, in all colors and black.....98c

$1.00 Silk Poplin—Yard wide, fine cord, special in black and pink effects.....79c

$2.50 Satin Charmeuse—40 inches wide, extra quality, in all good colors and black and white.....$1.59

$1.50 Satin Messaline—36 inches, heavy quality, bright finish, all colors and black and white.....98c

$1.50 Satin Duchesse—Yard wide, soft satin finish, all colors and black and white.....98c

$4.00 Satin Duchesse—Yard wide, rich finish, all colors and black and white.....59c

SMALL WARES

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

39c Hose Supporters—Fancy Dresden design silkoid garters.....25c

25c Spool Holder—Extra nickel plated, 15c.

10c Satin Emeries—Large and small sizes, 5c.

25c Scissors—In all styles, nickel plated steel, each.....15c.

15c Hair Nets—Real human hair nets, all shades.....10c.

50c Hair Rolls—Washable human hair rolls, 39c.

5c Sewing Silk—Full 100 yards, in all colors.....3c.

50c Pad Hose Supporters—Brocade silk, in fancy figures, pair.....39c.

19c Spool Silk—Large spool, about 300 yards.....10c.

FLANNELS

(Third Floor—Wash. St. Side)

64c Dome Flannel—Pure white, good auxiliary weight, soft finish.....49c.

10c Bleached Domet Flannel—Very heavy, fine nap, soft finish.....7½c.

12½c Fancy Flannelette—In fine soft fancy, special in light and pink stripes, 7½c.

45c Saxony Wool Flannel—Cream white, fine comfortable quality, part wool, 29c.

APRONS

(First Floor—Washington St. side)

50c Kimono Aprons—Pretty striped percales, trimmed with colored bands, 35c.

50c Tea Aprons—Round or fancy shaped, plain or figured lawns, trimmed with lace or hemstitching.....39c.

29c Fitted Shirt Aprons—With tucks, made of black and white percale.....19c.

50c Skirt Aprons—Fine quality, lawn trimmed, with tucks and hamburg bands, 39c.

VEILINGS

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

$1.00 Holiday Boxed Veils—Chiffon and lace, in white, black and all colors, 59c.

50c Imported Mesh Veiling—All silk and chiffon, in white, black and all colors, 39c.

75c to $1.00 Holiday Boxed Veils—Chiffon and lace, in white, black and all colors, 49c.

Yard wide, woven satin border or square chiffon ends, white, black and colors, 98c.

10c to 25c Mesh Veilings—In white, black and colors, 5c.

Fancy mesh veilings, patterns in plain or figured, 98c.

$1.50 to $2.00 Chiffon Cloth Veils—Heavy quality, hemstitched, with fancy borders, in white, black and colors, 98c.

Dresden woven border veilings, both in wanted colors and white, black and white, 98c.

TOILET GOODS

(First Floor—Washington St. Side)

50c Peroxide of Hydrogen—2 oz. bottle, 29c.

50c Toilet Case—Cretonne, rubber lined, 39c.

$1.50 Military Hair Brushes—Solid backs, pure bristles, 98c.

$1.98 Toilet Set—Three set, mirror, hair and cloth brushes, ebonized backs, $1.49.

$1.00 Hot Water Bottle—Seamless rubber, reinforced top, 79c.

50c Ivory Nail Files—Pointed, 39c.

50c Jewel Boxes—Silk, gold plate, 39c.

$5.00 Parisian Ivory Toilet Sets—Mirror, brush and cloth, 3 pc., $2.98.

SMALL WARES

(First Floor—Hamilton Pl. Bazaar)

39c Hose Supporters—Fancy Dresden design silkoid garters.....25c

25c Spool Holder—Extra nickel plated, 15c.

10c Satin Emeries—Large and small sizes, 5c.

25c Scissors—In all styles, nickel plated steel, each.....15c.

15c Hair Nets—Real human hair nets, all shades.....10c.

50c Hair Rolls—Washable human hair rolls, 39c.

5c Sewing Silk—Full 100 yards, in all colors.....3c.

50c Pad Hose Supporters—Brocade silk, in fancy figures, pair.....39c.

19c Spool Silk—Large spool, about 300 yards.....10c.

FLANNELS

(Third Floor—Wash. St. Side)

64c Dome Flannel—Pure white, good auxiliary weight, soft finish.....49c.

10c Bleached Domet Flannel—Very heavy, fine nap, soft finish.....7½c.

12½c Fancy Flannelette—In fine soft fancy, special in light and pink stripes, 7½c.

45c Saxony Wool Flannel—Cream white, fine comfortable quality, part wool, 29c.

APRONS

(First Floor—Washington St. side)

50c Kimono Aprons—Pretty striped percales, trimmed with colored bands, 35c.

50c Tea Aprons—Round or fancy shaped, plain or figured lawns, trimmed with lace or hemstitching.....39c.

29c Fitted Shirt Aprons—With tucks, made of black and white percale.....19c.

50c Skirt Aprons—Fine quality, lawn trimmed, with tucks and hamburg bands, 39c.

UPHOLSTERIES

(Fifth Floor—Corner Store)

$1.00 Couch Cover—Reversible striped with fringe, set, 69c.

$2.00 Couch Cover—Heavy tapestry, in green, tan, Oriental design, $1.98.

$5.00 Couch Cover—Fine Oriental tapestry, $3.49.

$3.00 Table Cover—Reversible tapestry, Oriental and tapestry, 2 sides, $1.98.

$4.00 Overdraperies—Oriental and tapestry, 3 yds. wide, soft lines of color, $1.69.

$8.50 and $10.00 Portieres—Oriental and tapestry, 3 yds. wide, set of 2 with fringe, $4.98.

$15.00 and $18.00 Damask Portieres—In damask, red, gold and green, $6.98.

25c Sash Curtains—Plain muslin with ruffle, 19c.

25c Figured Scrim—Border and dotted figures, 19c.

25c Imported Madras—Ecru madras for curtains and portieres, newest colors and designs.....15c.

15c and 25c Curtain Muslin—Plain white and ecru, 9c.

20c Cretonne—For curtains, draperies or coverings.....12½c.

36c Taffetas and Art Tickings—In many colors and designs.....19c.

50c Scrim—Colored stripe, border or Marie, 29c.

39c Scrim—Hemstitched edge, plain or block center, in white, ecru or Marie, 25c.

25c Window Shades—36 inches by 3 yards, all washed colors, 19c.

20c and 39c Picture Hooks—Assorted sizes, 10c.

LACE CURTAINS

(Fifth Floor—Corner Store)

75c Muslin Curtains—Good quality muslin, five yards and ruffle, full length, 59c.

$1.00 Dutch Curtains—White scrim, bordered, ruffled, 69c.

$1.50 Net Curtains—Cable net, with lace edge, in white only, 98c.

$3.50 and $4.00 Saxony Lace Curtains—Scroll and allover designs, $2.65.

$6.50 and $7.50 Curtains—Imported cable net, with lace edge, in white and ecru, $4.98.

WALL PAPERS

(Fifth Floor—Washington St side)

8c and 10c Wall Papers—Solid, ceiling and floral designs, 5c.

12½c Wall Papers—20 patterns, suitable for any room, 9c.

15c and 18c Wall Papers—In side, floral and conventional effects, 12½c.

25c Wall Papers—Oatmeal papers, frost patterns, dark brownish greens and floral designs, 19c.

30c and 35c Wall Papers—In tapestry effects, floral and conventional designs, in gold and other high grade wall papers, 17c.

35c Oatmeal Wall Papers—Imported, in tapestry effects, floral and conventional designs, 25c.

10c and 30c Cut-Out Borders—Fruit, floral and novel effects, all colors, 7½c.

FURNITURE

(Fifth and Seventh Floors—Corner store)

$14.50 Brass Beds—Bright or satin finish, full size, heavy posts, $10.69.

$18.50 Golden Oak Hall Stands—Quartered oak, French finish, large mirror, 24 inch seat, $11.69.

Ladies' $6.50 Writing Desk—Golden oak, $4.75.

$6.50 Writing Desk—Initiation design, $4.75.

$8.50 Rocker—Initation leather upholstered, $6.77.

$8.50 Mahogany Parlor Table—Round top, shaped legs, $6.57.

$5.50 Golden Oak Pedestal—Fluted, quartered oak, $3.50.

KITCHENWARE

(Basement—Corner Store)

$1.00 Food Choppers—Family size, two knives, $.69c.

85c Savory Double Roasters—Steel body, with wire broiler, $.59c.

$1.00 Family Scales—Black enamel finish, white enamel steeling dial, with accurately adjusted weights, $.79c.

75c Coffee Mills—Iron coffee grinder, with wood hopper and drawer, $.49c.

$2.50 Casseroles—Pretty decorated frame, with tin handles and tall fluted, stoneware dish, with cover, $1.39.

25c Toasters—Wheeler, square, upright, with wire handle, $.19c.

5c Stoves—Alcohol, with 4 burners and 4 sheet at a time.....17c.

LAMPS

(Basement—Corner Store)

$5.00 Gas Lamps—Mission style with 10 in. globe, complete with chimney and globe, $3.98.

$2.00 Whipped Cream Sets—Bowl, plate and ladle to match, prettily decorated, imported china, $.89c.

25c to 35c Mustards—Unique shapes and decorations, imported china, each, 19c.

KNITTED WEAR

(Fourth Floor—Wash. St. Side)

Women's $1.00 Sweaters—All wool, knitted caps, best colorings and plain white.....59c.

MEN'S GLOVES

(First Floor—Winter Street Side)

Men's $1.50 Mocha Gloves—Silk lined throughout, all gray shades.....$1.35.

Men's $1.50 Cape Gloves—Soft lined, in tan shade.....$1.19.

LEGAL STAMPS WITH EACH 10c PURCHASE

GILCHRIST CO

Washington St. Winter St. Hamilton Place

COULD HARVARD BOYS THRIVE ON PRISON FARE?

Could Harvard students live and thrive on prison fare, costing not more than $2 a week?

Professor C. G. Page of the Harvard Medical School, one of the greatest authorities on comparative physiology, says that to his opinion it can't be done.

Apparently, the great body of Harvard students, who do love their "eats," as indicated in what they consume at Memorial and the other dining halls, agree with Professor Page. They do not think they could get along and "shine" in their classes on simple, inexpensive foods such as make up the usual prison fare.

Here is what Dr. Page says:

Professor Page's Ideas.

You are asking whether it would be possible to live healthfully on $2 a week. I am not altogether sure that I know anything about that. The balancing of nutriment with cost is a very delicate process, and I should hesitate to say anything positive on that subject.

But there is plenty of evidence obtainable on the subject. There is a man over at the Carnegie Institute who is working out that subject and nothing else. He is trying to see whether or not the average man can live more cheaply than the usual figures seem to imply. Then there is a book by Dr. Smith, "What to Eat, and Why," which also gives some information on the subject. The menus proposed are nutritive enough, but whether the cost could be kept down is up to the housekeeper.

The menus proposed by Professor Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania, who first made the statement that students would be better if they lived on prison fare are as follows:

Professor Nearing's Menus.

For breakfast: Oatmeal, milk, bread, butter, coffee.

For dinner: Pork and beans, raw onions, bread and water; or beefs, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and coffee.

For supper: Bread and butter, varied perhaps by prunes, potatoes, or pie.

Meat is allowed four times a week, as hash, fleer, or beef. The standby is potatoes, which occasionally may be used for breakfast.

It is to be noticed that this menu is practically the same as the one which Walter Camp not long ago recommended as turning out the best football teams. His schedule is:

Bread—preferably stale. Potatoes in abundance. Meat four or five times a week in small quantities. Vegetables, preferably onions, turnips or beans, at dinner. Breakfast should include oatmeal, or some sort of cereal, and coffee is to be permitted if the situation calls for it.

That, according to Walter Camp, is the best menu for athletes. If it can be negotiated on $2 a week, there is no reason why everyone should not be an athlete.

THE "CONVICT" MOUSE

Harvard Says They Have Temperaments.

(Professor Coburn of Harvard says mice have been found to reveal temperamental tendencies.—NEWS ITEM.)

By HANK.

A little mouse of modest mien once stole a piece of bread,
They put him through the "third degree" till he was almost dead,
And then, although he told them all that he was far from well,
They locked him in a 2x4, and cold, unfeeling cell.

Another mouse sat in a trap, a great big mouse was he;
He was no ordinary mouse, as you could plainly see,
A temperament of high degree portrayed his air of ease,
So try to be a great, big mouse if you would cop the cheese.

For if you are a great, big mouse, and know your little game,
You'll find that prison cells and home are very much the same;
No matter what the law may say, no matter what the crime,
If you have influential friends, you'll have a corking time.

(Editor's Note—Hank must have had the New York Tombs in mind.)

ABANDONED BY FRIENDS, ROUNDS LINGERS IN JAIL

George R. Rounds, the former paymaster and head bookkeeper at the Parker House, who is charged with raising a hotel check from $5 to $5,000, also with larceny of $26,000 additional from the hotel, is apparently deserted by his friends. No calls or bail have appeared at the Charles street jail to see him. His counsel, William L. Pullen, was unable today to raise the $10,000 bail demanded.

"The amount of bail is too great," said Mr. Pullen. "I've been trying everywhere to raise it. I am afraid I will not be able to."

Rounds will be brought into Boston Municipal Court December 18 for a continued hearing.

Rounds has restored to the hotel $14,000, a greater amount than the bail required. He turned over to the police that amount in sound stocks and bonds. It was that form of security which gave the police a hint that Rounds lost money speculating. Today they were trying to learn what stocks, if any, he had dealt in on margins.

The prisoner finds jail fare different from his former board at the Parker House. He has bread and coffee for breakfast and bread and cocoa for supper. For dinner his menu ranges from stews and chowder to corned beef, ham, fish and baked beans.

AWARDS MADE FOR PLAYGROUND SITE

The Street Commissioners today made awards of $78,578 for land taken for the new playground in Ward 5, Charlestown. The land taken is on Rutherford avenue, Washington and Union streets, near the State prison. The P. O'Riordan estate gets the largest award, $23,407. Other estates taken and amounts awarded are: William H. and Laura B. Holbrey, $4,955; heirs William McQuatters, $2,747; Mary E. O'Brien, $7,158; James H. O'Brien, $6,056; heirs John Sweetser, $4,842; Bridget A. Pine, $3,415; I. Homer Sweetser, $4,000; St. Mary's School Association, Charlestown, $1,747. The amount appropriated for the playground is $80,000.

SIXTH REVOLUTION IS ON IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10.—A new revolution, the sixth to be directed against the Madero government within a year, has broken out under the leadership of Juan Alanzan at Oaxtepec, near the border of the State of Oaxaca on the Pacific coast. It is announced that the government will hold two more gunboats, one for duty on the Atlantic coast and the other for a Pacific control.

THOUSANDS IN CASH IN $40,000 PRIZE CONTEST

By THE CONTEST EDITOR.

It's a case of "Oliver Twist" for the next four days in the AMERICAN'S $40,000 Contest.

More, more and more SUBSCRIPTIONS is the battle cry of every candidate from now until Saturday night at 10 P. M.

It's a case of now or never—with a $10,000 reward, five $1,000 rewards and fourteen hundred and ninety-five other valuable prizes as the returns on your effort in the next four days.

Four days more! Saturday night at 10 P. M. will tell the story. Success in the greatest cash distribution ever known in the history of journalism will depend largely upon your work before 10 o'clock next Saturday night.

The Contest Editor has done his level best to make every candidate fully realize the absolute necessity of securing and turning in every possible subscription during the Opportunity Weeks. There is no such thing as "tomorrow" when one is working for a $10,000 reward. Subscriptions that are obtainable tomorrow can be had TODAY.

The golden hours before 10 P. M. Saturday are slipping by. See that YOU have made the most of them when the clock strikes the hour.

Some of the younger candidates could take a lesson in acitelty, energy and subscription-getting from Robert Evans, No. 174 Endicott avenue, Revere, who was the leader in District 2 in the last vote list.

Mr. Evans is fighting the battle alone and bravely, as he has fought the world for forty years. He is a member and past Chaplain of the Everett Lodge of Elks and Joseph Webb Lodge of Masons.

W. L. MURRAY FILES FIRST SIGNATURES

William L. Murray, candidate of the Street Carmen's Union for City Council, today filed his first signatures with the Election Commissioners. There were twenty-nine nomination papers filed, but, as only two were sworn to, the others were returned to enable him to secure the necessary affidavit. James A. Watson had 2,972 names certified up to noon today. Lewis A. Hewitt has had 4,415 names certified, John F. Duffy 3,511, Nathan Fedelson 704 and Eugene P. O'Connor 150. Councilmen Collins and Attridge have had the necessary number certified.

Decorate Trinity College Freshmen In Bright Green

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 10.—Three Trinity College freshmen from Hartford were busy at daybreak today, trying to remove green paint which had been liberally smeared on their bodies by sophomores. The Trinity "freshies" came to the Hotel Kimball for their annual banquet. A flying squadron of "sophs" was on hand to nab any freshmen possible and paint the sophomore numerals on the freshman person. The "sophs" caught four freshmen, but let one go, he was so little. The other three were taken to the sophomore headquarters at the Worthy, were stripped and well daubed before allowed to go.

One sophomore, whose last name is Sage and whose first name indicated he will inherit millions, summed it up happily than for the reporters:

"You can just say that the members of the class of 1915 displayed their artistic ability in decorating the putrified freshmen."

ARCHBISHOP MADE DOMINICAN LEADER

SAN DOMINGO, Dec. 10.—Archbishop Adolph Alejandro Nouel of San Domingo is the new provisional president of the Dominican Republic. The possible intervention of the United States government because of the unsettled condition of affairs in the republic led to the election of the archbishop. It has long been understood that in the event of a provisional government being proclaimed the archbishop would be chosen, because he is the only man whom the majority of the people would support.

START ON BIG PIER CONTRACT ON THURSDAY

Work on the million-dollar improvements at the Commonwealth docks will be begun Thursday, according to the plans of the port directors and H. P. Converse & Co., the successful bidders. The contract is in the hands of the Converse company, and the port directors expected it would be signed today and returned, to be sent to Governor Foss and the council for approval tomorrow.

The work will be pushed at the top speed to make the pier ready to receive the Hamburg-American line ships by the first of May. The proposal calls for the work to be completed May 1, 1913. If the directors should decide later to extend the time to August 1, 1913, the firm will receive, under its bid, $328,368.35. To complete it by May 1 it will receive $1,017,-258.70.

A penalty clause calls for a forfeit of $1,000 for each day over the time specified, while if the contractors finish the work ahead of time they will receive $1,000 a day for each day under the specified time.

CORNELIUS ELECTED SENATE SERGEANT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The Senate today elected E. Livingston Cornelius of Maryland as sergeant-at-arms.

Ease That Lame Back With Musterole!

You get quickest relief from Backache, Sore Joints or Muscles, Rheumatic Pains, etc., by using MUSTEROLE, the clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard.

Positively does not blister. Instead, it leaves a delicious, comforting effect. Simply rub MUSTEROLE on, and the pain is gone!

Thousands know MUSTEROLE is also the remedy for Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff Neck, Headache and Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's—in 25c and 50c jars and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

"Musterole is the greatest thing yet for a lame back. It has helped me more than anything I've ever used."—L. E. West, Catawba Island, Ohio.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

Scratched 40 Years

Used D. D. D. Six Months—All Itching Gone!

This is the actual experience of Anne Crogan, Santa Rosa, Cal., with the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription.

D. D. D. is the proven Eczema Cure, the mild wash that gives instant relief in all forms of skin trouble.

Cleanses the skin of all impurities—washes away blotches and pimples, leaving the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

Get a 50-cent bottle of this wonderful Eczema Cure today and keep it in the house. Your druggist knows that D. D. D. will do all that is claimed for it.

At all Rikerjayne drug-stores and all good druggists.

IT SATISFIES MILLIONS of people. Worth your while to test it

LIPTON'S TEA

Sustains and Cheers

MESH BAGS

$3, $4.50, $5, $7, $12

Complete stock of mesh bags for holiday gifts, including a new, chic, colored bag that cannot be told from sterling silver.

Established 1830

THE E. B. HORN CO.

429 Washington Street

Open Evenings

TIME FOR

STORM WINDOWS

E. A. Carlisle & Pope Co.

52 to 60 Beverly St.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles and cures Constipation. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

Victor Talking Machines

His Master's Voice

Will there be a Victrola in your home this Christmas?

You can search the whole world over and not find another gift that will bring so much pleasure to every member of the family.

$15 $25 $40 $50
$75 $100 $150 $200

Any Victor dealer in any city in the world will gladly play any music you wish to hear.

Victor Talking Machine Co., Camden, N. J.

Victor-Victrola IV, $15
Oak

Victor-Victrola VIII, $40
Oak

Oliver Ditson Company

150 Tremont Street (Near West), Boston, Mass.

Stop, Look and then Listen to the

New Models of Victor-Victrolas, the Tone Machines of Quality, on Sale Today

New Model 10th . . .	$75.00
New Model 11th . . .	100.00
New Model 14th . . .	150.00
New Model 16th . . .	200.00

Send for Catalogue New December Victor Records

. . Account Solicited . .

When In Doubt Buy Of
OSGOOD
New England's Greatest Furniture Store
264-256 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON
Just a Few Steps from the Boylston and Essex Tunnel Stations

THIS WONDERFUL Talking Machine ON OSGOOD'S Liberal Terms

Largest Stock of Victor Machines and Victor Records in New England. $1.00 Down and $1.00 a Week Will Put a Victor Outfit in Your Home.

The Place to Buy Victors

The Place to Buy Victors

When In Doubt Buy Of
OSGOOD
New England's Greatest Furniture Store
264-256 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON
Just a Few Steps From the Boylston and Essex Tunnel Stations

This Is the LARGEST Exclusive Victor Store in New England

You Can Hear Any VICTOR Record Here as Soon as It Is Issued by the Makers.

The Steinert Arch St. Store

For the Business Men and Women in the Down-Town District.

Immense stocks—four floors devoted entirely to Victor Victrolas, Victor Records, Cabinets, etc.

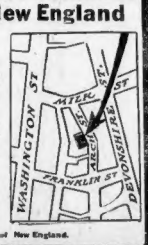
Our Facilities for Demonstration Make Quick Service the Rule.

ACCOUNTS SOLICITED.

M. STEINERT & SONS CO.

35 Arch St. 162 Boylston St.

Stores in All Principal Cities of New England.



EASTERN TALKING MACHINE CO.

Retail and Wholesale Distributors of the Victor

For Eighteen Years an Exclusive Talking Machine House.

Mail Orders a Specialty

177 Tremont St. next to Tremont Theatre Boston

DIGGING OUT RABBIT, HUNTERS FIND PLANT OF COUNTERFEITERS

ADAMS, Dec. 10.—A complete counterfeiting plant was dug up out of a rabbit hole by four hunters near here. They had seen a rabbit dodge down the hole beneath an old stump and started to dig it out, but the coin-stamp and metal they found saved the rabbit's life.

Chief John Hodecker of the Adams police sent a man to the farm. The officer found beneath a log two bags of metal cut the size of dimes, but not stamped.

Ask For Legal Stamps

"Your Money Back If You Want It"

WOLF'S
MY CLOTHIER
Hanover and Portland Streets

Special Sales
For Wednesday

You'll find several things in these Wednesday Specials that will make very acceptable Christmas presents—and the cut rate prices at which we offer them to you ought to prove equally acceptable to you.

Boys' 39c
Holsters
17c

Harmless Ranger Pistols with leatherette holster and belt—Regular Western Ranger outfit—all for 17c on Wednesday. The boy would surely like one for Christmas.

Boys' 29c
Hockey Caps
19c

Closely knit hockey caps in plain colors or in contrasting color combinations. Regular 29c values.

Children's 69c
Jersey Leggins
39c

Good 69c jersey ribbed leggins in brown, white, red, gray, navy and black. Sizes 2 to 6.

COOPER'S
DERBY RIBBED
UNDERWEAR
BENNINGTON, VT.

Cooper's $1.00
Underwear
75c

We're cutting the price on Cooper's Derby Ribbed underwear from $1.00 to 75c just for Wednesday's selling. Shirts in sizes 34 to 50—drawers 30 to 50.

Our Full Line of
$1.00 and $1.50
Felt Slippers
89c

Large variety of colors, having leather soles and made with or without heels. Many of them are in Juliet style, fur trimmed. Sizes 3 to 8.

SHOP EARLY

AWAY FROM THE THRONG ON WASHINGTON ST., and in the big stores.

A COMPLETE LINE OF Christmas Greeting and Post Cards
USEFUL & PRACTICAL GIFTS
HILL, SMITH & CO.
STATIONERS AND LOOSE LEAF SPECIALISTS
3 MILK ST., BOSTON

HUNT VANISHED NORTHFIELD MAN AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Forrest Willard of Northfield, who arrived in Washington Thursday to spend the Winter with his uncle, the Rev. Arthur W. Spooner of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, has disappeared. The police of Washington and several private detectives are looking for him, but until midday today nothing had been heard from him.

Willard, who is just twenty, and of exemplary habits, had been a teacher in West Halifax, Vt., but accepted a position with the Southern railway here last week. He arrived here Thursday and was supposed to go to work yesterday.

Willard is described as five feet seven inches tall, brown hair, brown and gray eyes, a high forehead, and of good appearance. He is very bashful. The lower part of his face, especially his chin, is very heavy. He was dressed when last seen in a dark brown suit of clothes, a soft brown cap, and a brown pair of shoes.

WARSHIPS COMING OVER CHRISTMAS

The battleships Rhode Island, Virginia, Georgia and Illinois are due to arrive at the Charlestown Navy Yard Saturday and remain over Christmas, so the officers and sailors may go home. They will sail January 5.

FEAR KALER DYING.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 10.—Fears are entertained for the recovery of James Otis Kaler, author and superintendent of schools of South Portland, who is ill at the Maine General Hospital.

THERE'S just one tire that won't slip, won't slide, won't skid—that grips and holds, that gives perfect car control, that lets you drive in safety and drive with pleasure all the time—

The Diamond
Safety Tread Tire

It's made in your size to fit your style of car. Put it on your car

At Your Dealer's

The Diamond Store
867-871 Boylston Street

PAPE'S! BREAKS A COLD AT ONCE

First Dose of Pape's Cold Compound Ends Grippe Misery—Tastes Nice—No Quinine.

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine—belongs in every home. Tastes nice.

Clear Your Head

Make breathing easy. Get a 25c or 50c tube of Kondon's, the original and genuine Catarrhal Jelly, from any druggist, squirt it up the nostrils and see how quickly and pleasantly it acts. Soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, dissolves the mucus and relieves in five minutes all stuffed-up feeling, catarrhal headache, dryness, hawking, spitting, offensive breath, discharges from the nose, sore throat, dizziness, coughing, sneezing, sleeplessness, nervousness, and that miserable feeling. Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly is the best remedy for Catarrh, Hay Fever, Influenza, Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, Hoarseness, Catarrhal Deafness, Sick Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Catarrh of the Stomach, Hay Fever, Asthma, etc. Sample Free.

Kondon Mfg. Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

KONDON'S
CATARRHAL
JELLY

DAKOTAN'S CASE ENDS; RUSSELL ESTATE HEARD

EAST CAMBRIDGE COURTHOUSE, Dec. 10.—When the Russell case opened today Attorney William R. Scharton, counsel for Dakota Dan, stated to Master Perey that the claimant's case was finished.

Testimony for the claimant has taken up seventy days. There have been sixty-four witnesses for Dakota Dan. Attorney Scharton will have about half these witnesses testify in rebuttal.

Master Perey asked Attorney Robert Nason, senior counsel for the Russell estate, if he was ready to go on. Mr. Nason replied that he was.

William W. Collins, a stenographer who has been taking the case and who took the testimony at the first trial, was the first witness called by Attorney Nason.

Mr. Collins had a pile of note-books in front of him when he took the stand. From these he read portions of Dakota Dan's testimony at the first trial.

Mr. Nason stated to Mr. Scharton that he wanted to ask Dakota Dan a few questions that he had forgotten to put on him when he was on the witness stand. Mr. Scharton assured Mr. Nason that Dakota Dan would be present at the trail daily and with this assurance Mr. Nason went on with the examination of witnesses.

Death has come to eight witnesses for Dakota Dan since the last trial, and on the other side the death list is nearly twenty.

"L" TRAINS DASH THROUGH NORTH STATION BLAZE

Elevated motormen run their trains without stopping through clouds of smoke at the North Station of the Elevated in the rush hour today when the station's newsstand suddenly burst into flames.

Passengers in the trains shouted as the cars dashed through the clouds of smoke. Women screamed. It was 8 o'clock and the trains were jammed with incoming workers.

The Elevated station was filled with hurrying people when the fire started in the newsstand. Feeding upon the inflammable news goods, the flames swept through the booklike newsstand in a flash.

The fire was blazing and smoke was curling out in great wreaths when an Elevated train came along. Ordinarily this train would have stopped at the station to take on and discharge passengers. But the motorman of this first train saw that it was no time to stop. He kept his power on and shot his train right along. Passengers wondered why the train did not stop. They got one look at the smoke and the yellow flame around the newsstand, as the train rolled by. Then they cried out in alarm.

News Nuggets

TACOMA, Wash.—A collie dog which saved twenty lives in a fire at the Tacoma office of his own was buried at Walla Walla with impressive ceremonies in which those he saved took part as mourners.

LISBON, O.—A divorce was granted to Mrs. Emma Zimmerman why the train did not stop. They got one look at the smoke and the yellow flame around the newsstand, as the train rolled by. Then they cried out in alarm.

ST. LOUIS—Circuit Judge Grimm ruled that a divorce is legal in a wedding and so Mrs. Felicie Badaracco, divorcee, gets a $30,000 estate left her by her uncle.

NEW YORK—The near-sightedness of Harry Bingham caused him to take a wrong turning outfit, and he was arrested for theft but discharged when his error was proven.

NEW YORK—Suffragists, painting the front of the Lafayette Building candy box, pine for the day when they can wear trousers and not be hampered by the clinginess of skirts.

HUNTINGTON, N. Y.—Leaving a note saying she thought the elopement marriage of her father and mother was "no romance," Miss Anna McBrien did likewise, leaving Mrs. William Bloxsom.

ECZEMA CURED IN 10 TO 30 DAYS

The Paris Medicine Co., 2024 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., Gentlemen:—Kindly send Dr. Hobson's Eczema Remedy at once. I have used CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA OINTMENT for 10 years and they have failed to cure me in any case. I SEEM to realize that now long standing, in 10 to 30 days, and will remit money if it fails. GROVER S. WANAMAKER. CUTICURA is perfectly clean and does not stain. If your druggist hasn't it send to us. In postage stamps and it will be sent by mail.

HELENE SMITH, BRIDESMAID WHO GOT FATAL COLD

Photograph by Davis, Malden.

A plaintive note, frequently saddened by a sob, ran through the talk of the younger set in Malden today. Helene Smith was dead!

It was the tragic—the almost unbelievable—ending of one of the prettiest romances of that city.

Helene Smith, nineteen years old, very beautiful and gifted, the only daughter of parents whose lives were bound up in that of their daughter, who had gone to Council Bluffs, Iowa, to be bridesmaid to a friend, was being brought home dead. That was the stunning fact.

Coming back with the body is the girl's mother, Mrs. Harry W. Smith, of No. 16 Oak terrace, Malden, and Chester Dudley, the former star halfback of Dartmouth to whom Miss Smith was engaged.

Miss Smith went West three weeks ago. She was to be the bridesmaid at the wedding of her fiance's sister, Miss Eugenia Dudley. The Dudleys live in Council Bluffs. At the wedding reception to follow, the public announcement of the engagement of Miss Smith and Chester Dudley was to be made.

On the trip Miss Smith took cold. In the excitement of the coming wedding her danger was not discerned. A week ago her mother was summoned. Pneumonia developed. The girl died Sunday night.

Helene Smith graduated from the Malden High School two years ago. She was a member of the societies of the school. She was clever musically and dramatically. But more than that, she was a girl, as it was told in Malden today, of wonderfully sweet disposition and with a host of friends.

At a Harvard-Dartmouth football game, in which Dudley took part, the blighted romance began. Dudley graduated from Dartmouth last year. The families of the two young people knew of their engagement and approved of it. Their marriage would have taken place in the Spring or next Fall.

The body of the girl will reach home tomorrow. Then the funeral arrangements will be made.

COLONEL GIVES WAR CRY OF THE PROGRESSIVES

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt sounded the war cry of the Progressive party in a speech before the Bull Moose conference here today, reiterating the charge of "theft" which he has hurled at the Republican party since the Chicago convention. He showed that his policy as leader of the Progressive party would be that of "no compromise," of the Chicago convention he said:

Some day the honest men and women who make up the rank and file of the Republican party will realize the full iniquity of what those men were guilty of, who in the Republican convention of June last by deliberate political theft wrenched the control of the party from the people, made it the party of reaction, and gave it into the absolute control of the bosses.

These men preferred to see the party destroyed rather than see it made once more what it was in the days of Lincoln. Their purpose was at all costs to perpetuate the rule of privilege—political privilege and financial privilege—within the party. The men who took part in, profited by, or condoned and endorsed the theft of the Chicago convention should never again be trusted by men who believe in honesty.

Raps Samuel Untermyer.

Without mentioning the name of Elihu Root, Colonel Roosevelt paid his respects to the corporation lawyer, Mr. Untermyer.

The theft of the Chicago convention can be defended only by the type of corruption lawyer whose business it is to advise big financiers how to violate the law in wholesale fashion with impunity. These big politicians, financiers and corporation lawyers and their hangers-on, such as the college presidents of the "little-brother-to-the-rich" type, asserted and perhaps believed that they were acting in the interests of conservatism.

They most urgently need to learn that sitting on the safety-valve is not the right way to prevent revolutions. Discussing its demand that "the people shall rule" the Colonel said:

I believe that political parties should be controlled by and be paid for as far as possible by the actual men and women who vote. I am willing that the party should take the large campaign contributions, if honestly offered without condition or reservation, on exactly the same terms and in exactly the same spirit as the small contribution. The real test is the motive.

Wants Industrial Commission.

The Colonel then declared for the creation of a commission like the Interstate Commerce Commission, which would supervise the big industrial concerns doing interstate business.

Relative to the recall of judges, he said:

All other measures are useless if we permit a body which is not responsible to the people to have the final say as to whether the people shall or shall not have their laws in complete social and industrial justice. The doctrine of the divine right of judges to rule the people is every whit as ignoble as the doctrine of the divine right of kings, and this doctrine is chiefly and powerfully upheld by the legal and financial representatives of privilege.

In the matter of leadership, both local and national, we may trust the events of the next year or two to develop our ablest and most resourceful men, and for every position the leader must be chosen, not in the least with reference to his own desires, but solely with regard to the needs of the people, for the Progressive party is the servant of the people.

What's Good For Charlie's Lady? Rex Cross ✚ Cough Drops. 5c per box.

TODAY'S LATE CABLE NEWS

100,000 Dolls in London Exhibition.

LONDON—The biggest doll show ever was opened at Westminster by Miss Burnett, the Lord Mayor's daughter. It was organized by the London Evening News, and the 100,000 dolls dressed by News readers will be distributed to poor children.

Girl of 12 Wins a Peerage.

LONDON—A girl of twelve years of age has won a peerage claim before the Committee of Privileges of the House of Lords. She is Mary Frances Katherine Petre, daughter of Baroness Petre, the widow of the fourteenth Baron. Her mother made the petition in behalf of her daughter, claiming the barony of Furnivall and submitting the pedigree which started in 1295, when the first Lord of Furnivall sat in Parliament.

Militants Damage 5,000 Letters.

LONDON—Postmaster-General Samuel, in replying to a question from Earl Winterton in the House of Commons, said that some five thousand letters have been damaged by injurious or inflammable substances since October 1. This damage was wrought by the suffragettes.

Northcliffe Buys Irish Home.

DUBLIN—Lord Northcliffe has just purchased a house in the village of Chapelizod, near Dublin. Lord Northcliffe purposes to pass a considerable part of his time in Ireland.

Art Treasures Sold.

LONDON—At an art sale at Sotheby's the Colnaghi firm paid $1,000 for an engraving of Miss Farren by Bartolozzi after Sir Thomas Lawrence. A pair of William Ward engravings fetched $625.

Commits Suicide at Altar.

BUCHAREST—A captain of the Fortieth Calmpari Regiment, Constantine Miton, committed suicide by shooting himself before the altar while a priest was performing the marriage ceremony.

Olympic to Try Oil Fuel.

BELFAST—It has been decided to utilize a portion of the three-foot space between the outer and inner shells of the reconstructed White Star steamer Olympic for storing oil to be used experimentally as fuel in one boiler.

Carnegie Yacht in Chile.

TALCAHUANO, Chile—The yacht Carnegie, which has been engaged for some time in testing magnetic phenomena on behalf of the Carnegie Institute at Washington, has arrived here.

Miss Levinson Dies in Berlin.

BERLIN—Miss Maud Roosevelt Levinson of New York, a distant relative of Theodore Roosevelt, is dead here.

Morse Goes to Wiesbaden.

LONDON—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morse have left Claridge's Hotel for Wiesbaden, where Mr. Morse will take the cure.

CHINESE WINS CASE BY OLD PHILOSOPHY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—A bit of Chinese philosophy helped Ben G. Wong recover $200 from the former owners of the Chinese Weekly Herald for soliciting advertisements. Wong testified he borrowed money from the defendants and when asked why he did not collect instead, he said, "I always ask people to loan me, not pay, because it's more nice." Wong won his case.

Special Notice.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine

Cures a Cold in One Day. Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove on box. 25c

TWO ROBBERIES IN GLARE OF NEW LYNN WHITE WAY

They are wondering in Lynn today how two robberies were perpetrated in the glare of the new "white way," which business men had predicted would end such things, or at least greatly diminish them. And they had two a few hours after the current was turned on, one a burglary in the jewelry store of W. F. Newhall & Son at No. 52 Market street, and the other a purse-snatching case under the glare of one of the lights.

The jewelry firm is inspecting its stock today to see how much was stolen. The place is equipped with a burglar alarm and although it is almost in the shadow of the central police station, the notification company did not call up the police, but sent a watchman to the store, where he arrived twenty minutes after the alarm had sounded.

It was learned that three men had been seen loafing near the store for half an hour before midnight and it is supposed that they were the burglars.

Miss Effie Meaker of Kensington House, Lynn, claims a man stole her purse only a few minutes after the new lights were turned on.

Lynn had a great celebration in honor of the opening of the "white way." A crowd of 150,000 filled the streets.

During the early evening the zone was not illuminated, except the light from store windows. Just before 8 the semi-darkness was turned into almost daylight brilliancy when the current was applied to the new lights.

Mayor Connery welcomed the guests and was followed by A. D. Wilmot, president of the Merchants' Association of Fall River. The final speaker was Walter C. Fish, general manager of the Lynn General Electric Works, who described the lamps technically. He declared Lynn's business district is the best lighted of any city in the world. As he concluded his remarks he turned a switch on the dining table and the new lights burst forth. Mr. Fish presented the switch to President Bayer of the Board of Trade.

GUILD CHOSEN NEW PURITAN CLUB HEAD

Curtis Guild, American Ambassador to Russia, has been elected president of the Puritan Club. George Lee and Joseph W. Lund were elected as new members to the board of governors.

KEEP THIS AD It's Worth $1.00

Any new patient presenting this ad will receive $1 worth of work absolutely free that you may have our teeth filled, crowned or extracted without the least pain. This places you under no obligation to have more than the dollar's worth of work.

3.00 Best Bridge Work Per Tooth 3.00

Pure 22K Gold Crowns, Worn Guaranteed 10 Years

A scientifically constructed rootless plate. Gives perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed. Already fitted by Suctions. Doesn't drop, tilt or slip. Can't come out. Can't drop. Allows you to eat anything. CAN NOT BE HAD ELSEWHERE. Shown and demonstrated FREE. Come to the office evening and have us extract your old teeth FREE and fit you at once, with a new set that fits your mouth perfectly. Lady attendant.

Gold Fillings $1.00 up. Silver Fillings 50c.

5.00 Full Set of Teeth 5.00
Best red rubber this week
Gold Teeth Free on Plates

DR. HEWSON
595 Washington St., Boston
Hrs. 8:30 to 6. Sat. till 9. Sun. 9 to 1.
Tel. Or. 1511-M.

This Chair With A $10 Order

This Chair is given to you as a profit-bonus because you save the amount it represents by dealing directly from factory to family. Come in and see it. Oh, yes, there are other things, too—like 97 articles altogether—all high-grade, desirable merchandise.

This is a substantially-made and comfortable Mission Rocker. It is made of solid Oak, Weathered, waxed finish, and has an upholstered spring-seat covered with imitation leather in Spanish-leather effect. You'd consider this Rocker a bargain if you could buy it for $7 or $8 at the stores. You can get it from us, without extra expense, with a purchase of only $10 worth of household supplies, such as teas, spices, baking powders, prepared puddings, corn starch, soaps, toilet preparations, toilet articles, sewing supplies, library supplies, notions, etc.

It Represents What You Gain By Larkin

Factory - to - Family Dealing on one single $10 order. We have over 1600 articles of Premium Merchandise which you can gain the same way—high-grade furniture, a choice assortment of carpets, rugs and portieres, stylish new clothing, handsome furs and many others. You get them without increasing your living-expenses at all when you deal with us. One Big advantage of Larkin Factory-to-Family dealing is the FRESHNESS of all our food Products. They are shipped to you almost as soon as they are made, without lingering months, sometimes a whole year, in wholesalers' and retailers' stocks. Everything we sell is guaranteed to satisfy YOU. We have 20,000 customers in Boston. Won't you also begin to save money by dealing with us?

Many people like to buy our Products in amounts as small as $1 sent by mail, but they can do by forming a Larkin Club-of-Ten and taking turns in getting the Premium Merchandise. Our Catalog tells all about it. Send for a copy today.

LARKIN CO. of America, 63 Summer St. cor. Chauncy

BUY THE GAS MANTLE WITH THIS SHIELD OF QUALITY ON THE BOX

"Welsbach" Settles
The Gas Mantle Question

"Welsbach" is the name, and the Shield of Quality is the trade-mark, of the best gas mantles made.

They are most brilliant, most durable, preserve truest color-value, and use least gas.

The best proof of this is to use Welsbach Mantles exclusively. A discriminating buyer will be satisfied with no other, because no other can give the unequalled

Welsbach
LIGHTING SERVICE

FOR UPRIGHT AND INVERTED LAMPS
BEST QUALITY, 30c.
OTHERS, 20c, 15c, 10c.

SOLD BY ALL GAS COMPANIES AND RELIABLE DEALERS
WELSBACH COMPANY
Gloucester, New Jersey

'Damon and Pythias' at Castle Square Is Well Received

The unalterable friendship of one man for another is enjoyably presented at the Castle Square Theatre this week in an excellent revival of John Banim's "Damon and Pythias," which makes its appearance in Boston for the first time since 1893, when it was given in the Boston Museum.

John Craig as Damon is all that could be desired. His interpretation is well worth seeing. Wilson Melrose as Pythias furnished a notable exponent of a happy part. The parts of Hermione, Damon's wife, and Calanthe, betrothed of Pythias, were ably handled by Miss Laurette Browne and Miss Mary Young. Dionysius, the part of the tyrant, taken by Walter Walker, developed unforseen possibilities in this popular portrayer of unpopular parts. The lines of Lucullus, the well meaning but misguided slave, were cared for in praiseworthy manner by Carney Christie. Alfred Lont as Demodes and Arnold Ferris and E. M. Desmond furnished quite sentorial senators, and Miss Henrietta McDaniel's portrayal of Damon's child is deserving of mention.

Piles Quickly Cured at Home

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

The Pyramid Smile.

Many cases of Piles have been cured by a trial package of Pyramid Pile Remedy without further treatment. When it proves its value to you, get more from your druggist at 50c a box, and be sure you get the kind you ask for. Simply fill out free coupon below and mail today. Save yourself from the surgeon's knife and its torture, the doctor and his bills

FREE PACKAGE COUPON

PYRAMID DRUG COMPANY, 402 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. Kindly send me a sample of Pyramid Pile Remedy, at once by mail, FREE, in plain wrapper.

Name.....

Street.....

City..... State.....

UPSET STOMACH AND INDIGESTION

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia Ended in Five Minutes with "Pape's Diapepsin."

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain remedy in the whole world, and, besides, it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know now it is needless to have a bad stomach.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. It should be kept handy, should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night it is there to give the quickest, surest relief known.

WILSON BROS

Diamond—Engagement

Rings

$25, $50, $75, $100, all brilliant, sparkling, full-cut stones, best values in Boston. Rings for Christmas, rings for everybody. Handsome rings for $5, $6, $8 and $10. More rings to choose from than any 3 jewelry stores. Send for 8p. Jewelers, our only entrance. Open Evenings.

Look for Our 5-Story Cor. Bldg

Manicure Sets

$5, $7.50, $10 to $15

Sterling silver sets, very latest patterns, put up in handsome velvet cases for Holiday Gifts.

Established 1870

THE E. B. HORN CO.

429 Washington Street

Boston Evenings

While on the Pacific Coast read the San Francisco Examiner

'REBECCA' ONCE MORE DELIGHTS AUDIENCE HERE

For the second time Boston theatregoers saw "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" at the Hollis Street Theatre, and for the second time Miss Edith Tallaferro appeared in the role of Rebecca. From her appearance last night she is just as much in love with the girl she plays as when seen in her previous engagement.

Sweet and full of grace, Miss Tallaferro has lost none of her charm, and although scarcely nineteen she ranks today with many of the leading stars. It is a play that is different. At times it is full of mirth, while at others it is impossible to keep away that stray tear.

As Rebecca, Miss Tallaferro makes you laugh when you should and when she means that you should cry, you just cry. One could see her several times and the same interest and fascination would be there.

As Jeremiah Cobb, the village stage driver, Archie Boyd was all that could be asked for. Marie L. Day and Eliza Glassford as Rebecca's maiden aunts were typical New Englanders, one bright and happy, the other stern and critical. Hazel Glinn gave an excellent version of Adaw Ladd, called Mr. Aladdin by Rebecca.

Others in the cast surrounding Miss Tallaferro are Ada Deaves, Viola Fortescue, Leila Frost, Violet Mersereau, Nemeille Foster, Clara Messereau, Sam Colt and Edwin Smedley.

The play, which was written by Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin and Miss Charlotte Thompson, is familiar to nearly everybody and begins with Rebecca's arrival at Sunnybrook farm and her developement from guileless youth to budding romance forms the general theme.

BILL AT NATIONAL THEATRE PROVES OF VARIED INTEREST

Thinking of going to Chicago?

If you are, take a tip from "The Traveling Man," who was over at the National last night. This "Traveling Man" can show you just how to tip the porter, buy the peanuts, peppermints and magazines, and how to sit in a green plush chair in a Pullman. (There's a handsome girl in the next chair ahead.)

It's a good sketch.

Then, if you want to see the real terpsichorean art in all its phases, if you desire to know how to dance on two legs, or on one, or even on your head, here's the place to find out.

But don't let us forget in the shuffle of novelties that our Norton Newkirk, of Boston newspaperdom, again told us his Hard Luck Story; how in our famous subway he found it against the rules to sit on the floor, but 'twas also wrong for a man to sit on another passenger.

Johnnie Reynolds is still smiling at death on top of six kitchen tables—six, count 'em—and then a few chairs.

Yes, there's a whole lot of rollicking vaudeville of varied description, that keeps the crowd in a merry mood every minute.

Globe Theatre.

The program at the Globe yesterday was headed by the Bicycle Polo Four, which contributed an exciting and interesting game of polo on bicycles. The four men are skillful riders as well as clever players. Captain Prichard's troupe of trained seals was most amusing, the seal "actors" being a remarkable lot of cut ups.

The Four Aerial Lesters displayed amazing tricks and, by way of variety, turned their attention to musical instruments. Hilton and Hughes were a funny pair of German comedians, and Collins and Ballard introduced some excellent singing and piano playing. The Pathe Weekly, the Rays and the song review were all included on the bill. La Petite Revue, a novel and pretentious vaudeville attraction, will be one of the new features on Thursday, for the last half of the week.

Discouraged, Nervous Men and Women

The Great Tonic, Tona Vita, Is Building Them Up by Thousands.

A few years ago if your were nervous and all run down, with little strength and poor health generally, you would have wondered what to do to build yourself up.

Nowadays, if you remain in this miserable condition a day longer, it is your own fault. Tona Vita, the wonderful tonic that has built up thousands of run down people in the last few years, is ready to help you.

Get it once. Take it a few weeks and your old health and strength will return without fail. You will feel like a new person almost from the first dose of this pleasant tasting tonic.

Weigh yourself after taking Tona Vita one week and see how much you have gained in weight.

Tona Vita is sold by all druggists.

GREAT PLAYERS AT MAJESTIC IN 'JULIUS CAESAR'

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

It may at least be said of William Faversham's production of "Julius Caesar" that Shakespeare gets a square deal. The wind that raised the dust and chased a wintry chill up Tremont street last evening never even ruffled a toga on the stage at the Majestic, where familiar and sturdy Roman senators strutted and declaimed — almost pulling Shakespeare down to popular taste. "Julius Caesar" has many of the elements of popularity that go so far in keeping the modern drama on its feet, and when you find yourself face to face with Mr. Faversham's skilled band of actors the performance takes on new importance. "Julius Caesar" was never in better company than last night at the Majestic, and no actor whose name twinkles in electric lights ever deliberately set himself a faster pace than Mr. Faversham wished on himself when he conned Tyrone Power, Frank Keenan and Fuller Mellish into his professional family. It was a big night for Shakespeare and a fast one for Mr. Faversham.

Upsets Popular Theory.

Interesting and melodramatic, and less complicated and mysterious than most of the Shakespearian tragedies, "Julius Caesar" almost moved itself into that class of plays that are know, for their popular appeal, and backed by the character of the acting contributed by Mr. Faversham's "all star" cast, the performance settled itself into an evening of rare entertainment. You may deplore the starring system, and say that it spoils good actors and makes bad actors worse, but Mr. Faversham rather upset this theory in "Julius Caesar," when he selected his companions for the serious labors of the play. He proved that "stars" may work for the good of the drama, and not themselves.

Last evening's performance of "Julius Caesar" was both impressive and spectacular. It not only had the benefit of flawless acting, nicely tuned to the requirements of the tragedy, but was rich in scenic embellishments. There was a rare beauty to Mr. Faversham's stage pictures, for he had succeeded in supplying an atmosphere that was compelling and effective. The "Julius Caesar" that was seen at the Majestic was not a dull, dry classic, but an entertainment with the punch of ancient Rome to carry it across the footlights.

Mr. Faversham contested himself with the role of Antony, and his oration over the body of Caesar was given with a faithful regard to elocution. He was distinctly agreeable, and handled himself easily.

Strong Group of Players.

There was conviction and strength in Mr. Power's Brutus. Here was the real stuff of the tragedy—a big bodied and big brained—and was played by Mr. Power in a way that left no doubt of his ability to take good care of himself in any situation.

Fuller Mellish as the scheming, plotting Cassius, and, true to the traditions of the part, lived up to it faithfully. Mr. Mellish's Caesar was admirably done, and Berton Churchill as Casca gave a good account of himself.

In "Julius Caesar" Mr. Faversham has brought together a group of players of such exceptional strength that a performance could hardly fail below the high standard set by him in his plans of Shakespearian presention.

Following the custom of the musical drama, the legs beneath the seats in "Julius Caesar" were worn plain last evening.

Scenic Temple.

The new bill at the Scenic Temple yesterday was made up of vaudeville and motion pictures that were new to Boston.

Next Week's Bills.

"David Harum" will be the attraction at the St. James Theatre next week. Eddie Foy in "Over the River" will come to the Boston Theatre next Monday.

New Palace Theatre.

A lively war story was featured in the new motion picture bill at the New Palace Theatre yesterday. "The Daughter of the Spy" supplied enough hurills to make three picture stories and those who attended yesterday's show gave many signs of appreciation when the picture was thrown on the screen. This was only one of a long list of other interesting subjects.

Waldron's Casino.

"The New College Girls" began a week's visit at Waldron's Casino Theatre yesterday. This proved to be a spirited burlesque entertainment.

Howard Athenaeum.

"The Girl in Blue" burlesquers, with a half dozen vaudeville features, contributed the new bill at the Obl Howard yesterday.

CASCARETS TONIGHT! IF BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, HEADACHY AND SICK

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a liver clogged, bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress—wake up refreshed and feel fine. Let Cascarets cleanse and sweeten your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and healthy for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

CANDY CATHARTIC

Cascarets

10 CENT BOXES—ANY DRUG STORE

ALSO 25 & 50 CENT BOXES

WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

SIR BEERBOHM TREE COMING TO BOSTON

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the English actor (to the right), and C. Haddon Chambers, the playwright, photographed on their arrival in New York from Europe.

Noted English Actor-Manager to Visit City to See Faversham and Arliss Act.

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, London's most noted actor-manager, is expected in Boston tomorrow or later in the week from New York, where he landed yesterday, to see Faversham's "Julius Caesar," which opened here last night, and "Disraeli," the leading part of which is taken by George Arliss, a prominent London actor.

"I am especially interested in 'Julius Caesar,'" said Sir Herbert, "because I played the role of Antony in London for seven months. I always have said that Brutus is for the student, Cassius for the actor and Antony for the public, and so, like Mr. Faversham, I chose Antony.

"Despite his fifty-nine years, the famous actor looked at least ten years younger, which he explained by saying that he had always kept his nose to the grindstone.

"It's not the part that kills," he said with a smile. "It's boredom. The more you work the longer you live."

It is exactly sixteen years ago that Sir Herbert—he had not been knighted then—was last here. During that visit he appeared in "Trilby," "Hamlet," "Faustaf" and "The Seats of the Mighty." It is his regret, he said, that he will not be able to make any appearance on the stage this time.

"As I believe various rumors are abroad as to the object of my visit to which, indeed, an unexpected importance has been attached, I should like to make a clear announcement of the facts," declared Sir Herbert.

"It happens that the play of 'Drake,' which I recently produced in London, has afforded me the opportunity of a much desired holiday. During this holiday I have visited the principal theatres of the European Continent, and I am now fulfilling a long-cherished desire to visit America, a country in which the theatre holds a more important place in the national life than in any other country in the world.

"There are more playgoers in America than anywhere else. I cannot say why, because I am not sufficiently acquainted with conditions, but in England men have so many other interests, some sport, and perhaps more private dinner parties and entertainments, while here a business man, after hours, likes to dine and go to the theatre.

"Regarding the report that I have come to a business understanding with the managers of the Century Theatre, in New York, I desire to say that I have received no proposal from them, nor have I made any to them. There are several productions in New York which I desire to witness, and if I am fortunate I may find some to take back to London with me.

THE HYPOCRITES' BILL THIS WEEK AT ST. JAMES

"The Hypocrites," with its strong appeal, is the attraction at the St. James Theatre this week and the initial performance was one of the most finished and interesting the stock company has given this season.

Miss Ethel Grey Terry made a remarkably lifelike Rachel Neve. Theodore Friebus made a handsome and imposing Rev. Everard Dunbury, Vicar of Weybury, and in his relentless expose of the hypocrites of his parish was as impressive as he was merciless.

Dudley Hawley was cast as Leonard Wilmore. Beth Franklyn as Mrs. Wilmore, his mother, handled the various situations most cleverly. Charles Abbe as Mr. Wilmore, lord of the manor of Weybury, excited off several scenes triumphantly.

William C. Walsh made a dignified Sir John Pingenet, while M. J. Florence made just the right sort of Mr. Vivenah, lawyer and estate agent. Sydney Dudley was an imposing Goodyear and Miss Valerie Valaire as Helen Pagent, the girl to whom young Wilmore finally became engaged, was quite as simple as the part demands. Kate Ryan, who is always good in whatever part she plays, was no exception as Mrs. Blaney. Miss Beatrice Loring as Betty servant to the Llanellis, was good as was also Miss Bella Cairns as Mrs. Linnell.

Gaiety Theatre.

Sam Howe's "Love Makers" came to the Gaiety yesterday to begin a week's festivities at that house. Mr. Howe was at the head of his company, and kept things moving all the time. A two-act musical piece, called "Kissme," was the vehicle that served the score or more of lively entertainers, and it more than met the demand for spirited amusement. Florence Bennett, who shared the centre of the stage with Mr. Howe, proved herself a competent burlesquer in every way. Considering yesterday's performances, Mr. Howe's week began with a rush.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Tomorrow, Wednesday, December 11, 1912

WILLIAM SHEINWALD

OF 40 SUMMER STREET

Will publish in this paper—The Boston American—the announcement of his Big Christmas Sale of Boots, Shoes, Slippers and Rubbers, for men, women and children. This sale is considered by the public to be the Biggest Yearly Event in shoe bargains and the announcement is kept by hundreds of people as a catalogue and guide for Christmas gift bargains in footwear

WATCH FOR IT TOMORROW

LULU GLASER MAKES HIT ON KEITH'S BILL

Any number of shrewd actresses have tried of late to find out each other's ages by starting a discussion hinging on the question of which is woman's most beautiful age. Miss Lulu Glaser, who, by the way, was the source of the famous saying, "She's a Lulu," did not enter the discussion. After seeing Miss Glaser in "First Love," the one-act playlet in which she is appearing at B. F. Keith's, this week, nobody wants to discuss ages. For Miss Lulu is apparently just at the right age for her little play. Miss Glaser sings "First Love" and then, aided by Thomas D. Richards, late of "The Chocolate Soldier," tells "The Way to Kiss." Mr. Richards received many curtain calls also for his singing of "I Never Knew What Love Could Be."

But Miss Glaser, charming though she is, and encored as she was, does not enjoy all the applause. Ernest Ball, who as everyone knows, has written heaps of popular songs, scored heavily in singing with Maud Lambert who aided the inimitable Eddie Foy so greatly in getting "Over the River."

The remainder of the bill is a succession of laughs. Joe Jackson, the "European Vagabond," famous for his pantomime and who makes the house rock with laughter without uttering a word, leads in the mirth.

Wilfred Clarke and company are no less funny in "The Dear Departed." The Three Lyres mix up their comedy lines with some very good close harmony. As big a hit as ever is that famous team, Ward and Weber, in "A Minstrel Man's Interpretation of Art." The three Josefys, acrobats; Ben Beyer and brother, in an exciting cycling turn; Ila Grannon, singing comedienne and the world's news in pictures round out an ideal entertainment.

Hub Theatre.

The vaudeville and motion picture program was completely changed at the Hub Theatre yesterday. Engaging features were presented.

Shubert Theatre.

Gaby Deslys made her first appearance in Boston at the Shubert Theatre last evening. She was the centre of attraction in a big musical piece, called "The Whirl of Society," which will be reviewed in the AMERICAN tomorrow.

Orpheum Theatre.

Frank Stafford and company, in "A Hunter's Game," furnished the big feature at the Orpheum Theatre yesterday. The comedy-drama of hunting novelties that found instantaneous favor with the day's audiences.

Grand Opera House.

"The Bohemian Burlesquers," with Andy Gardner, moved into the Grand Opera House yesterday. There was the usual merry show.

Bowdoin Square Theatre.

Rinke's Animal Circus headed the new bill at the Bowdoin Square Theatre yesterday. There were a dozen other acts.

Premier Theatre.

The Italian-Turkish war pictures, which were shown at the Premier yesterday, set a new record in sensational motion pictures. In them, for the first time, patrons of the theatre had an opportunity to see real war in motion picture form. The realism of the film were made so close to actual hostilities that the camera man must have been in serious danger most of the time. The pictures will remain for three days only.

Shows That Remain.

"Disbell," with George Arliss, continues at the Plymouth Theatre.

Henry Miller and "The Rainbow" is now on its sixth week at the Tremont.

"Maggie Pepper" began its fifteenth week at the Park Theatre last evening.

Carter DeHaven, in "Traveling the Speed Limit," remains at the Colonial.

"LA BOHEME," BILL AT OPERA HOUSE

"La Boheme" met with an enthusiastic reception at the Boston Opera House. This production is especially entertaining with the admirable Mimi of Miss Bori and the amusing Musetta of Miss Dereyne.

SIX DUCKS FROZEN IN ICE, CAPTURED

WINSTED, Ct., Dec. 10.—Winter's first real cold blast caught six wild ducks unaware. The ducks alighted in a shallow lagoon in the third bay of Highland Lake. They merrily dropped into the varied frost, imprisoning them. They were captured.

DEDICATE JOHN A. ANDREW HOME

In the presence of United States, State, city and G. A. R. officials, the new John A. Andrew Home for Civil War veterans and their wives at No. 10 Woodbine street, Roxbury, was dedicated. Mrs. Abbie E. Hall, president of the home, presided.

$10,000 SALE OF USEFUL XMAS GIFTS

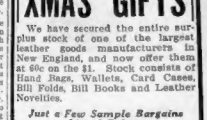
We have secured the entire surplus stock of one of the largest leather goods manufacturers in New England, and now offer them at 60c on the $1. Stock consists of Hand Bags, Wallets, Card Cases, Bill Folds, Bill Books and Leather Novelties.

Just a Few Sample Bargains Listed Below

Genuine Cowhide Leather — All Sizes

Professional Utility Bag—14 in. Regular $5 value. Bennett Price..... 3.25

By Express Prepaid



Ladies' Hand Bag—Real goat skin. Gilt frame, leather lined, genuine bargain at only..... 89c

By Mail Postpaid

Combination Card and Bill Book..... 50c

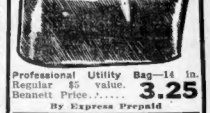
Made in solid calf finish—a practical gift, and every man ought to have one.



By Mail Postpaid

Priced 50c, worth at least $1.00.

"Easy Money" Bill Fold

Genuine Pebble Calf

Regular 50c novelty. Bennett Price..... 25c

By Mail Postpaid

Also a Complete Line of Holiday Stationery, Loose Leaf Books and Card Files.

THREE STORES

Go to the Most Convenient

BENNETT

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

STATIONER

15 Milk Street

33 Exchange Street

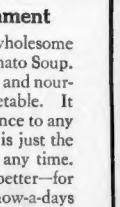
112 Portland Street

It is all pure nourishment

Not a thing but what has wholesome food-value goes into our Tomato Soup. That is why it is so satisfying and nourishing, although strictly vegetable. It adds both "class" and substance to any dinner or luncheon. And it is just the soup for the family meal at any time. The oftener you eat it the better—for enjoyment and health. And now-a-days the practical housewife orders it by the dozen. Why shouldn't you?

21 kinds 10c a can

Look for the red-and-white label



Campbell's SOUPS

Us Boys

Shrimp Flynn's Name Should Be Barnum

Registered United States Patent Office

By Tom McNamara

GRATE BIG SHOW MAJIK TRIKZ AND AKROBATS AND KLOWNZ AND HIG
SAY FELLERS, I DONT KNOW HOW TO SPELL "ILLSTRATED" SONGS SO WE WONT HAVE THAT, WE'LL HAVE HIGH DIVING INSTEAD, NO BODY WILL NOTICE THE DIFFERENCE
NAW
NOW HUNT UP LITTLE IKE, IM PRETTY SURE HES GOT A NICKEL, SHOOT THAT SPIEL I TOLD YOU AT HIM AND UNLOAD THEM TICKETS.
I GOT CHA!
GOSH IKE, SHRIMP FLYNN TOLD ME TO TELL YOU I'VE BEEN HUNTING ALL OVER FER, YOU TO GIVE YOU THESE TICKETS FOR OUR BIG SHOW!
SHRIMP SAYS IF YOU WASN'T A PERSONAL FRIEND OF HIS'N HE WOULDN'T EVEN LET YOU SEE THE SHOW AT ALL, BUT HE LIKES YOU SO GOOD THAT HE SAVED YOU FOUR SEATS, TWO PRESERVED ONES AND TWO GENERAL ADMISSION ONES, WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT?
WELL, DON'T CHA WANT EM?
SURE, GIMME EM!
GIMME YER COIN!
I AINT GOT NO COIN!
OH WELL THAT'S DIFFERENT!
?
TICKETS NOW ON SALE FOR SHRIMP FLYNN'S BIG SHOW
DONT LET THAT SLIP YOUR MIND
BECAUSE FIRST COME FIRST SERVED.
AMONG THE THINGS YOU WILL SEE AT THIS SHOW, ACCORDING TO ITS PROMOTER, SHRIMP FLYNN WILL BE MAJIK TRIKS
AKROBATZ
KLOWNZ
HIGH DIVING
INDINS
AND KOW BOYS
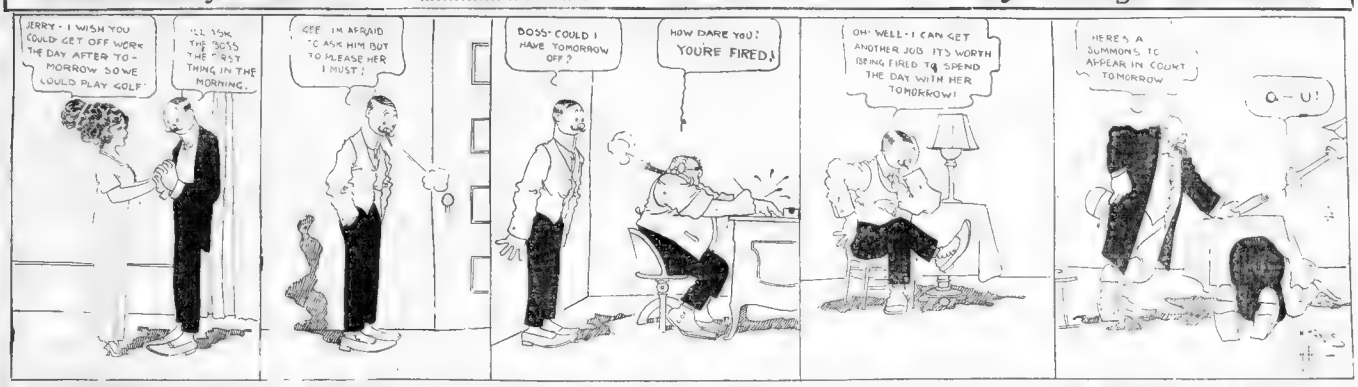
ADVERTISEMENT
SHRIMP FLYNN AT WORK ON THE PAPER FOR THE BIG SHOW IN HIS CELLAR WHICH TAKES PLACE TO-MORROW AT 3:30 P.M. GENERAL ADMISSION ONE CENT,— RESERVED SEATS, TWO FOR THREE CENTS.

The Nearlyweds.

Jerry Never Gets Jerry

Copyright, 1912, by the National News Association

By George McManus



JERRY - I WISH YOU COULD GET OFF WORK THE DAY AFTER TO-MORROW SO WE COULD PLAY GOLF
I'LL SEE THE BOSS THE FIRST THING IN THE MORNING.
GEE, I'M AFRAID TO ASK HIM BUT TO PLEASE HER I MUST!
BOSS- COULD I HAVE TOMORROW OFF?
HOW DARE YOU! YOU'RE FIRED!
OH! WELL - I CAN GET ANOTHER JOB, IT'S WORTH BEING FIRED TO SPEND THE DAY WITH HER TOMORROW!
HERE'S A SUMMONS TO APPEAR IN COURT TOMORROW
O-U!

Coldfeeto the Monk

He Picked the Wrong Hat

By Gus Mager

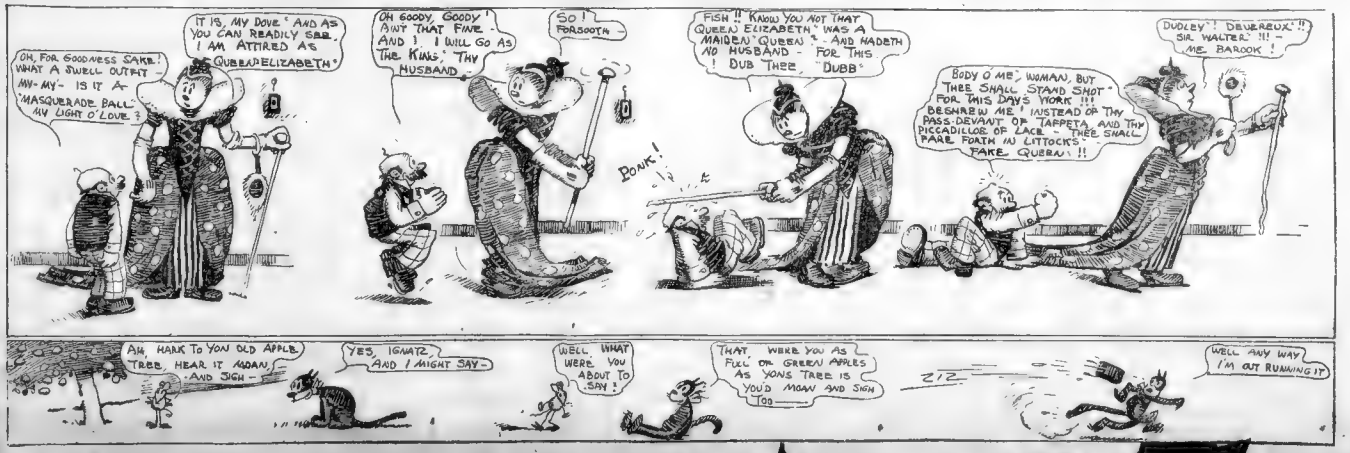
HEY JOKO, LET'S WORK A GAME ON DOPO!
YOU'RE ON, COLDFEETO!
THERE'S HIS LID — COME ON, WE'LL BUST IT!
FIRST I'LL JUMP ON IT, AND THEN YOU —
FINE STUFF, COLDFEETO — AFTER YOU!
GO AHEAD — PUT IT DOWN!
COLDFEETO'S OWN KELLY
WHAT'S THE MATTER? AINT YOU GOING TO BUST IT?
NAW! DON'T YOU FEEL THE DRAUGHT ON YOUR HEAD? — I'M NOT GOING TO CATCH COLD!

The Dingbat Family

Mr. D. Knows Little of History

Copyright, 1912, by the National News Association

By Herriman



OH, FOR GOODNESS SAKE! WHAT A SWELL OUTFIT MY-MY- IS IT A "MASQUERADE BALL" OR "LIGHT O' LOVE"?
IT IS, MY DOVE. AND AS YOU CAN READILY SEE, I AM ATTIRED AS "QUEEN ELIZABETH"
OH GOODY, GOODY! AINT THAT FINE - AND I WILL GO AS THE "KING," THY HUSBAND
SO! FORSOOTH —
POINK!
FISH!! KNOW YOU NOT THAT "QUEEN ELIZABETH" WAS A MAIDEN QUEEN - AND HADETH NO HUSBAND - FOR THIS I DUB THEE "DUBB"
BODY O' ME, WOMAN, BUT THEE SHALL STAND SHOT FOR THIS DAYS WORK!! BESHREW ME! INSTEAD OF THY PASS DEVANT OR TAFFETA, AND THY PICCADILLOE OF LACE - THEE SHALL WEAR FOAIN IN LITTOCKS FAKE QUEEN!!
DUDLEY! DEUEREUX!! SIR WALTER!!! — ME BAROOK!
AH, HARK TO YON OLD APPLE TREE, HEAR IT MOAN AND SIGH —
YES, IGNATZ, AND I MIGHT SAY —
WELL, WHAT WERE YOU ABOUT TO SAY!
THAT WERE YOU AS FULL OF GREEN APPLES AS YONS TREE IS YOUD MOAN AND SIGH TOO — 212
WELL ANY WAY I'M OUT RUNNING IT

MURPHY IN NEW WAR AT NATIONAL LEAGUE MEETING

BOSTON AMERICAN. SPORTING NEWS

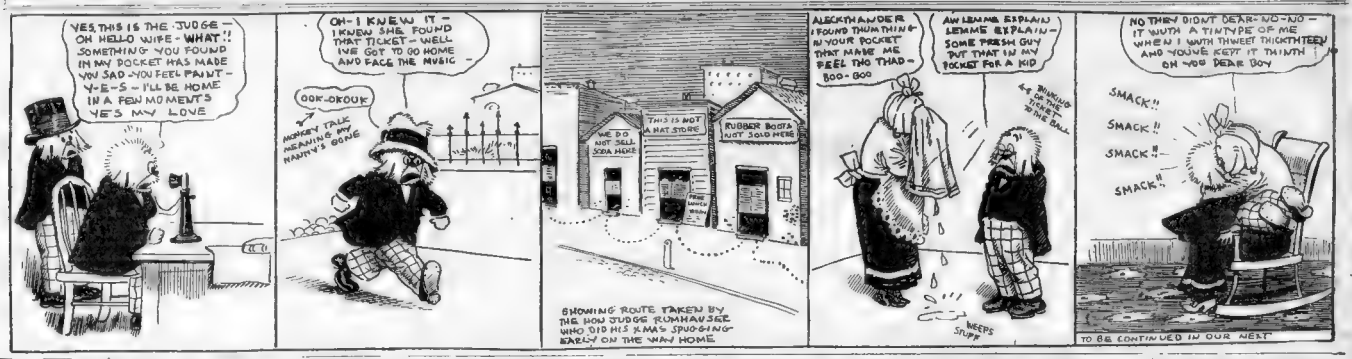
CUTLER MAY MEET POLISH CHAMPION IN TITLE BOUT HERE

Silk Hat Harry's Divorce Case

The Judge Was All Mixed Up on His Dope

Copyright, 1913, by the National News Association

By Tad



SET NEW MARKS IN BIG SIX-DAY BIKE STRUGGLE

NEW YORK, D[illegible] The fo[illegible] ers in the [illegible] race in Madison Square Garden started [illegible] big spurt at a terrific rate of speed and are now [illegible]

The ten [illegible] great thing is expected before the contest comes to a close. Like [illegible] that there will be several attempts made today by some of the riders to gain a lap on the field.

The [illegible] team record in the protracted spelling of the [illegible] who with [illegible] Americans [illegible] fellow riders [illegible] race, and that they will [illegible] It seems to be [illegible] record of [illegible] and carry the [illegible] Lake [illegible] up.

The track is [illegible] fastest ever contested on. [illegible] The [illegible] workmen are steeped [illegible] of the fastest [illegible] Many [illegible] favorite [illegible] track [illegible] and when [illegible] made it himself one Memorial [illegible] world's record.

FOUR BADLY HURT IN GAME OF FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Four football players are in a Brooklyn hospital today with injuries of serious character received in a game between [illegible] Boys' School and [illegible] Boys' School [illegible] Manual training [illegible] Several [illegible] Of the [illegible] Vernons who were [illegible] Al are broken [illegible] Memorial National Sporting Club [illegible] of the [illegible] from London.

N. E. A. A. U. President Appoints Committees

The [illegible] of managers held a special meeting at the Revere House last night. The following championship committees were appointed by President Thomas F. Riley.

[illegible]

RIGLER AFTER $2,200 FOR SIGNING RIXEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. The claim of [illegible] for $2,200, against the Philadelphia [illegible] for signing [illegible] Pitcher Rixey [illegible] the National League [illegible] an opportunity to go on record [illegible] Rigler [illegible] the world [illegible] Rixey [illegible] Rixey [illegible] Rigler [illegible] when it [illegible] the University of Virginia [illegible]

SUMMERS IS WINNER IN TITLE CONTEST

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Jimmy Summers [illegible] last night won the lightweight championship [illegible] Great Britain from Ted Burns [illegible] of the Vernons who were [illegible] 12 rounds. The fight took place at the [illegible] Athletic and Sporting Club. Both fighters [illegible] from London.

HERRMANN AND MURPHY IN CLASH OVER PLACING OF TINKER

WAR THREATENED IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The storm clouds that have been hovering over the National Baseball League for nearly two months in the case of the Tinker deal broke very [illegible] today when the magnates gathered for their annual session at the Waldorf.

Efforts made late [illegible] this morning to [illegible] Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati club, [illegible] president of the Chicago club, were [illegible] failed, and with Murphy declaring [illegible] was going to have Tinker and Herrmann [illegible] that [illegible] happen, if he didn't get Tinker, the [illegible] threatened to take on a [illegible] aspect.

The magnates [illegible] themselves before the meeting was [illegible] owing to [illegible] conference with Ebbet[illegible] and [illegible] of the St. Louis club, [illegible] Herrmann [illegible] Murphy [illegible] Brush [illegible] Herrmann could [illegible] Americans that if Herrmann could [illegible] get Tinker he would [illegible] Brooklyn man [illegible] of his club and turn Frank Chance [illegible] manager of the Cubs, over to [illegible]

The Pittsburg [illegible] waits Brooklyn to [illegible] drafting [illegible] and a $6,000 [illegible] waiting its [illegible] but it was [illegible] Pittsburg [illegible] of them on [illegible] Herrmann [illegible] would step in [illegible] with Brooklyn and [illegible] Tinker [illegible] Herrmann didn't fulfil his threat to de[illegible] an investigation of Murphy's connection with the Federal league.

The baseball men today were a unit in [illegible] that the [illegible] of the league [illegible] is the thing that the Brooklyn [illegible] is [illegible] against the N[illegible] Tinker [illegible] $40,000 which [illegible] the [illegible] an unexplored contract was a [illegible] for [illegible] to [illegible] for [illegible] during a [illegible] which might later result in some nasty [illegible]

The reception of President Lynch was [illegible] for the Americans, and as their rivals are separated from them by some eight hundred miles or so, and as Charley Murphy has been more or less tamed by recent events it is not likely there will be any [illegible] between them to disturb the serenity of the present amicable situation.

It will be remembered that last year there were many merry times stirred up by the then irrepressible Murphy that [illegible] serious complications between the two leagues, if not the breaking out of another war. But happily that was averted by the diplomacy of Garry Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, whose personal friendship for Ban Johnson prevented more serious friction than a temporary chill of the pot without its overflowing.

There were many threats made, however, in the heat of passion due to Murphy's sarcastic remarks and the bumptious given by Athletics club of Philadelphia to th[illegible] assembled magnates, newspaper men and baseball people was there or less tolerant in possibilities and peaceful speeches [illegible] an eruption out of the question and [illegible] ended for further conferences between [illegible] more level headed men of both leagues [illegible] averted any more danger.

The Brush [illegible] came up before the [illegible] of Directors yesterday and it was [illegible] that [illegible] Cincinnati [illegible] [illegible] arbitration. A board will be appointed [illegible] Tinker [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible] Herrmann [illegible] Chicago [illegible] Johnson [illegible] Boston [illegible] Pittsburg [illegible] disinterested [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

LUTHER M'CARTY TO MEET JIM FYLNN IN COAST BOUT

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTING NEWS

CITY TO ERECT GREAT STADIUM FOR SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

WHITE HOPES IN 20-ROUND COAST BATTLE TODAY

By JACK CONWAY.

LUTHER M'CARTY [illegible] will battle with Jim Flynn [illegible] tonight. Public interest [illegible] Both [illegible] are [illegible] Flynn [illegible] Luther [illegible] Flynn [illegible] 1913 [illegible]

Boxing [illegible] are not greatly interested in what Flynn does today. He has been performing in the squared circle for some [illegible] and is classed as a fair second rate. He is a game scrapping fellow but is no match for champion timber [illegible] Flynn [illegible] Luther [illegible] Flynn [illegible] Luther [illegible] Flynn [illegible] Luther

THE AMERICAN'S DAILY MAGAZINE PAGE

The Manicure Lady

By WILLIAM P. KIRK

"GEORGE," said the Manicure Lady, "I'll bet you can't guess what the latest fad in teat is—her Wilfred has got."

I gave it up, and the Lady Barber told me that one of Judge ——'s wives had taken to drinking tea, and that Wilfred, who is the Judge's son, was very much worried about it.

"We all do," continued the Lady, "and we don't see it as a good thing for women to take up drinking tea. I don't mean that we object to a little tea now and then, but when it comes to drinking it by the gallon, why, it's time to call a halt. Wilfred stopped over here on his way to meet Lucy and told me about it. He was very much worried, and I guess he had a right to be. Lucy is a nice girl, and I suppose she thinks that tea is the thing to drink, but Wilfred doesn't like it, and he wanted me to help him break her of the habit. I was speaking of it to Mother, and she said she thought it was a shame that Wilfred was worried about such a thing, but we don't see it as he does.

I put a new razor in Wilfred's kit—it's all I can do, as he doesn't patronize me—and told him to be sure and not drink tea, and I guess it must have had some effect, for he came back in a few days looking fine and happy, and thanked me for the razor. I suppose he was speaking of it. He said that Lucy wouldn't drink tea when she knew he objected to it, and she was as sweet as ever. Wilfred is a good boy, and I'm glad he's happy.

Al Le was worried about, outside of getting the money to start the new shop. I guess you would think I was worried enough for one day, but I'm not. Al Le was worried about, outside of getting the money to start the new shop. I guess you would think I was worried enough for one day, but I'm not. Al Le was worried about, outside of getting the money to start the new shop. I guess you would think I was worried enough for one day, but I'm not.

A Course in Plain Sewing Is Good Foundation for Woman's Life Work, Says Louise Mink

By Margaret Hubbard Ayer

DAINTY little Miss Louise Mink was sewing on a patch, just as "The Red Petticoat" became that famous portrait as created with the years by Miss Mink, doesn't matter. For she was a young person getting down to the very hard work of life, and whether it happens in the form of a patch or a mortgage it has to be met and overcome.

Anyone who has had a little brother or even a perfectly proper little girl friend who has come home with her pinafore all torn and ragged, but so covered with brambles or pieces of wire and whose only business in life is to fall off and tear a new rent, appreciates how much sewing means.

Why, fair lady, do you sew on your own patches?" inquired the writer.

"Because there's many a miss between mouth," returned Miss Mink. "And no lady is shocked who can't sew. It's one of the first problems. Anyone of the next President of the United States can sew on a button when necessary, without pricking a finger and also wasted a busy needle. As a matter of fact, I love to sew. Whenever I can I steal a moment to do a little sewing. Just at present my maid has run out on an errand. As soon as I think she could be back I will have these implements of labor and devote I never even ripped out a basting in my life.

Plain Sewing Course

To tell the truth, I often think that a good course in plain sewing is much more serviceable as a foundation for one's work than learning to paint lilies or make flowers on half-baked china."

No matter what station in life one may occupy, the knowledge of plain sewing is a boon to womankind," continued the subject of other chapters.

I suppose that some of the girls going to the street probably don't know how to sew or they wouldn't go round with their shoes unravelling at the edges, the bows in their hats flying out at the edge of the material, or the buttons off their frocks, and she gave her own button a particularly vicious jerk.

A girl's character is judged by the outside of her heart, no matter what people may say, and the untidy character generally belongs to the girl who doesn't know how to sew and who hasn't the stability to care.

Sewing takes patience and for that reason it cultivates character, for we all have to be patient in this life, especially when going on one thing that wants to be finished in a hurry, and others.

At the high school Miss Mink was a model student, and got prizes a-plenty for her sewing. Perhaps was one of them and the Columbia did remember a young lady who "cried" was sing "Annie Laurie."

Teaches Patience

I love the chat is also a comfort to me as a wedded girl, because women no longer believe in being silent, but want to rush out and do everything in a day. But I think that the girl who can sew has some advantage over her progressive sisters, for sewing is a consolation in the days of despair, and nothing like taking a stitch now and then to keep one's temper.

I've got who knows how to sew to patch what her dear old mother does not, because she commands the respect of the dear maker. If she has a mind she can do a tremendous disadvantage the mistress can know how she wants things done and how to direct the maid to do it.

The average girl was made useful, as the English call it, is simply a girl who knows how to mend and make simple things like collars, cuffs, shirtwaists and underclothes.

"Daintiness, which is one of the great charms of women, is synonymous with cleanliness and deftness. A woman who is dainty in part and fashion is not apt to be untidy in torn ones or clothes that need a stitch in time which saves one's in one.

Louise Mink, who is playing in "The Red Petticoat"

Her Extravagance

"I was in a shop the other day and heard some shopgirls talking. The one had just bought a Rotesperre collar with a jabot, for which she had paid twenty-five cents. She was perfectly delighted with her bargain and showed it, and the jabot was quite up and fingered it. The jabot, which was of coarse muslin trimmed with very cheap lace, was getting grey before it was in its owner patted it with a grimy fingers.

I thought to myself, when you wash that you will have nothing but a rag left. If you had spent twenty-five cents for half a yard of good lace, waited another week and bought a small piece of handkerchief lawn, and sewn your lace on with a pretty buttonhole edge, you would have a jabot that would wash and iron. The woman who can sew seldom buys unreliable goods, and her money goes a great deal further than the girl who frequents the bargain counters, and is fooled by a little bit of tawdry satin and a few cheap but

Married Life—Third Year

By MABEL HERBERT URNER

No. 97.—To Helen's Discomfort, Warren Returns the Enamel Ware with a Curt Letter

WARREN had gone out and Helen in the kitchen to open a cupboard drawer which the damp weather had caused to stick.

He forced it to open, threw it back and forth several times and had turned to leave, when his glance fell on a shelf of white enamelled pots.

"Hello! What's this?" as he took one down and examined several pieces where the enamel had chipped off, showing the black substance underneath. This last that new enamel ware we just bought."

"Yes, sir, and I don't think it's wearing well," complained Maggie.

"Wearing well? I should say not. Look Helen!"

Helen, who was trimming the geraniums in the dining room, came to the door with the scissors and some dead leaves in her hand.

"Yes, I know dear," apologetically "it should wear better than that, but what can we do?"

"Quit Why, are the whole lot buck. Don't think we're going to stand for anything like this, do you? I'm not going to eat food cooked in those things—that black rust may be poisonous.

The Letter He Wrote

"But, dear, they won't take goods back after two weeks, will they?"

"Well, they'll take these back, grumpy. "Think they can sell us worthless stuff and get away with it? Not if I know it. You write them to call for that lot and ask it a good, stiff letter, too."

"Oh, hadn't you better write it? I wouldn't know what to say."

"Well, I'll send them a letter telling them to call up, as he strode over to the desk. "Got me their bill for those goods."

Helen got out Reed & Walker's month's bill. Warren looked over the enamel ware, and then wrote rapidly.

"How's this?" he demanded. "That'll stir 'em up all right:

November 26, 1912.

Messrs. Reed & Walker,
New York City.

Dear Sirs:

On October 17 Mrs. Curtis purchased from you a bill of kitchen utensils. Among them were a number of white enamel pots and pans.

"From the date you see that these have had less than six weeks' use, yet the enamel is cracked and broken off on both inside and outside of the following pieces:

1 Double Boiler	$1.00
1 Tea Kettle	.90
1 Covered Pan	.50
1 Cake Pan	.25
1 Pie Pan	.25
2 Sauce Pans	.75
1 Coffee Pot	1.00

Some of these articles have been used only a few times and yet already have become unfit for use. We have always considered your goods to be of the best, but in this instance we feel considerably disappointed at having purchased from you, and we feel considera le resentment at being asked to pay for articles which are worthless after such short use. We have always had a high regard for your methods of business.

Please send for these articles at once, and credit our account with the amount. Mrs. Curtis supposed that she was buying modern and reliable kitchen utensils—you and we are to blame when we allow ourselves to be induced to put to this annoyance due to unscrupulous dealers in stock goods in an altogether inferior quality of goods.

Very truly yours,
W. E. CURTIS.

"Think that letter's strong enough? If they put up any kick about taking them back, we'll just send the collection down with our compliments. Make 'em a present of it.

But Helen was far from being content with the matter. She felt it was asking a great deal to expect Reed & Walker to take all those things back. After all, no white enamel ware was guaranteed. The clerk had advised her to buy aluminum if she wanted something very durable. But aluminum had seemed so expensive. Besides, Helen loved everything white in the kitchen.

Of course, it had chipped very quickly, one perhaps Maggie had not been very careful. It must have also several rather heavy accidents and Helen felt that she shouldn't be expected to bear the whole loss.

Helen could never bear to feel that she had been unfair, yet she knew that to demand credit for these goods was unfair, but she knew too that it would be useless to argue this with Warren.

The next day he brought home a letter, threw it down before her.

"Have those things ready, they'll probably send for them tomorrow."

The very courteousness of the letter seemed to Helen a reproach, and after she had read it with a despairing appreciation of the unreasonableness of their demand.

November 27, 1912.

Dear Sir: Replying to yours of the 25th inst., we would advise that we have heard a case of kitchen utensils in question for examination, and upon receipt of same shall give the matter our prompt attention.

Regarding the articles stated we beg to remain

Yours very truly,
REED & WALKER.

In next article Helen returns the articles for the goods, and two days later Warren [illegible]

Helen Makes It Up

"Heh, gu as they thought they'd get off free about it. They know from the tone of my letter I wouldn't stand for any [illegible] letter.

But Helen was far more concerned about [illegible] Reed & Walker's notice of advertisement she felt conscious stricken.

It was the following week that Mrs. Curtis telephoned. She was on her way down town to look at some Oriental rugs, and wanted to know if Helen could go with her.

Helen's new idea where to get [illegible] and in the store the advertising [illegible] Reed & Walker's. And Helen eagerly [illegible] beautiful [illegible] and I know they'll [illegible]

Mrs. Curtis [illegible] and she had not been [illegible] Helen [illegible] and [illegible] Helen [illegible] and [illegible] Helen [illegible] and

THE AMERICAN'S DAILY FICTION PAGE

My Life in Prison

By Donald Lowrie

A True Story of Years in Jail

SYNOPSIS.

IN the opening instalments of this story the author describes his sufferings from poverty and starvation in a big city, which have driven him to desperation. He finally decides to kill himself or turn burglar. He tosses a coin. It comes "heads," which he had determined should make him choose a thief's life. His first "job" is to enter a house and rob the trousers of an occupant of about $60 and a watch. He leaves unseen. The following day he is captured after pawning the watch; is tried, found guilty of burglary in the first degree and is sentenced to fifteen years in the California State Prison at San Quentin. He has entered on his prison life and is telling about the first night in prison and the way it is served to prisoners when today's instalment opens.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

Copyright, 1912, by Mitchell Kennerley.

PART I.—(Continued)

THE food itself offers no cause for complaint. It is clean and wholesome, especially under the present warden, but there is much to be desired in its preparation and manner of serving. And this is not an insignificant detail. If a man is compelled to eat like a pig he is bound to acquire pig instincts, and he is bound to carry those pig instincts out into the world with him. True, there are a few men who become chronic loafers, eating just enough to keep body and soul together, but they are not also irreparably injured.

In paying the penalty for crime—loss of liberty, working day after day through long years without pay, suffering the stigma of the convict brand—does not an offender expiate his crime sufficiently?

Should he be reduced to the level of a brute, should he be compelled to starve his body because of higher instincts which are inherent and which he cannot help having?

Why should it be necessary?

What does it accomplish?

Does it not degrade men and fill them with bitterness?

Do they feel that they have been cast into the public dirt heap?

Can they be expected to become better men under such conditions?

Some one may say, "Good! That's just what they deserve. It will teach them a lesson. They will be so horrified, so disgusted, that they will never return." But if your son, your husband, your father, committed crime, would you advocate his confinement in a pigsty? Of course you wouldn't. You might be broad enough to admit that a prison term should be imposed upon him, but you certainly would not admit that he should be reduced to the level of the lowest brute in order to "teach him a lesson."

That is merely a spirit of revenge, and revenge spells hate. Hate always breeds hate.

Sometimes the horror of these conditions dies away; the mind becomes apathetic and an apparent indifference manifests—a smouldering fire, as it were. A new prisoner sit at the table day after day, nibbling at a piece of bread and dipping his bill into his coffee. And then, after the lapse of a few months, I have seen this same man sit down at the table and eat like a hog.

Simply the result of the system, or, perhaps, you may prefer to call it an ability to adjust himself to conditions—which is considered a desirable trait.

I say calmly and deliberately that few, if any, men are deterred from the commission of crime by reason of the fear of the consequences, even after they know the consequences down to the last sickening detail. If I felt that anything beneficial to any one were accomplished by these conditions—and others which I will recount later—I should have nothing to say. But I know that degradation and a spirit of revenge, a determination to retaliate, to "get even," is frequently the result. The prisoner is not only deprived of his liberty, but also of his self-respect and whatever innate sense of decency he may possess.

I did not eat anything at that first meal. I simply sipped a little "tea." I was impressed by the utter unconcern with which the others at the table attacked the food—boiled beans, bread and tea.

My first meal in the penitentiary was not a success. I could not eat and I was glad when the signal was given to march out.

It requires about twelve minutes for the prisoners to march into the mess hall, and as the last ones enter the first arrivals begin to leave, resulting in a continuous procession of striped figures along the centre aisle.

Stomach trouble is common among prisoners and I have often thought that the twelve-minute limit is responsible. Why should it be necessary for a man serving life to eat as if a train were waiting for him? I asked an old prison keeper about this one day, and he told me that most men can eat all they want in twelve minutes, and if they were waiting until the slow eaters finished they would get uneasy and disturbances in the dining-room would become common.

The prisoners are not permitted to talk while in the mess hall, and meals seem more like a function, a part of the routine than an occasion for refreshment. A kind of "I'm-doing-this-to-stay-alive-and-not-because-I-want-to expression is characteristic on the faces of the men while at meals.

In the yard we had a moment's breathing spell before the bell rang for lock-up, and I was the centre of interest for nearly two thousand pairs of curious eyes.

The new arrival, or "fish," is always an object of interest to the other prisoners, and is generally kept well occupied answering questions about the outside world—until the next "fish" drops in.

As the bell started ringing Gern was a stampede for the iron stairways of the four cell buildings.

"Don't lose any time," admonished a voice behind me. "It's a case of spending the night at the springs if you're not at your cell for the count."

In answer to my hurried inquiry about "the springs," he informed me that he referred to "the hole." This didn't sound reassuring, and I wanted to ask more, but was jostled away from my informant, and lost no time in getting to "24 tank."

Now a peculiar incident of one's first day in the penitentiary is that one doesn't know who his cellmates are to be. I knew I had been assigned to a cell containing five bunks, which meant four cellmates, but I did not know who they were, whether young or old, grave or gay, healthy or unhealthy, congenial or uncongenial.

Arriving at the cell entrance I found three men standing just inside the doorway. Before I had time to "line thing up" one of them accosted me:

"Take off yr' lid and face th' light," he ordered. "Th' bull 'll be goin' by f'r th' count in a second."

It was rather an abrupt and unconventional introduction, but I did as I was told. I heard the door slamming all about me, and presently, just as the fifth habitant of the cell dodged breathlessly in, the "bull" fitted past.

"Five." I heard him mutter as he glanced at our faces.

The next instant the door slammed violently in my face and the bolts and bars were shot into place by the trusties who followed close upon the heels of the cunning officer—the "bull."

Outside it was broad daylight, but when that solid steel door slammed shut the cell became dark. It was being suddenly dropped into antipodal night. One of my cellmates immediately struck a match and lighted the candle.

"Allus look out f'r yr fingers when dey slams dat door," remarked the latter, "or dey'll be admonished. "A new guy got his mitt cut clean in two las' week; had it in th' crack when dey slammed th' door. Some says he did it a purpose, so's t' beat th' mill, but he was too green f'r dat. I'll show him t' yr tomorrow. My name's Smoky Ryan—dey all call me Smoky."

He was the same man who had ordered me to remove my cap a moment before. All I observed his face closely as he held the candle over the lamp. It was not a bad face, yet was deeply scored with the marks of unusual dissipation; also, his eyes were small and a trifle too close together.

True to my interest in and of forming conceptions of persons at first glance, however, I felt that I was going to like him.

"Make yr'self t' home," he suggested, noting that I was ill at ease and uncertain what to do. "But whatever yr' do, never put yr' lid on th' plany or muss up the cover curtains. Dey never stand f'r dat, do we, cullies?" he finished, addressing the others. A general laugh followed this pleasantry, in which I joined, and felt better.

The other three men undressed immediately and crawled into their respective bunks. None of them had clothes to change. One was a mere boy, stunted, and sickly in appearance; the others men of thirty-five to forty, and a very large, powerful-built blonde, tall and with pimpled face; the other a phlegmatic, heavy-set Italian.

I had already discovered that the penitentiary had many advantages over the police station and the county jail, but I was appalled at the thought of spending long nights in a crowded eight-by-ten cell, with no ventilation. Already I felt choked.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

The Ancient Czars of the Balkans

St. John of Rila, a famous Bulgarian abbot.

BORIS, or Bogoris, the first Christian king of Bulgaria, ranks as a saint for the same reason that Olaf of Norway and Vladimir of Russia do. Actually, in early life at least, there was little of the saint about him.

Boris succeeded Khan Melomir in 852 A. D. at a very critical time. Bulgaria had been beaten in battle by the Serbs and Croats, and Boris himself was badly defeated by them. He eventually, to strengthen himself, formed an alliance with Ludwig, the German, first king of Germany, brother of Lothar, the Frankish Emperor of the West. This angered the great regent, Bardas, who then governed at Constantinople for his dissolute nephew, Michael III.

In 863, while Boris was absent helping Ludwig against his rebellious son, Karlmann, the whole army of the Eastern Empire invaded Bulgaria and conquered it without a blow, and Boris, to regain it without fighting, consented to be baptized.

Naturally enough, the pagan element fiercely resisted his efforts to Christianize them wholesale. They besieged him in his palace. Boris had—no rune the legend—only forty-eight followers, but he called upon Christ to aid and rode forth at their head. As he did so flames enveloped the palace and seven figures of glory appeared to lead the forlorn hope. The pagans cast away their arms, flung themselves prostrate, and submitted. So far the legend. We are on surer ground when we hear that the "Christian" king executed fifty-two rebels "boljars" with their families.

* * *

Boris after cognetting for a time with the Roman Pope, settled down as a Greek Catholic, and the great patriarch, Photius, called him "the fair fruit of my labors." His people have since always been faithful to the Greek communion, though now and then the kings like Boris drifted Romeward; such occurrences were political in origin.

Boris abdicated in 884 and died a monk in 907.

We must not imagine that his probably Tartar lineaments had anything in common with the beautiful Christlike features of the elkons. Savage as he was he had great vigor, and when he found that his eldest son and successor, Vladimir, was worthless, the old king came forth from his cell to depose him and raised to the throne his second child, Simeon, the greatest of all the czars of Bulgaria.

* * *

St. John of Rila.

The Monastery of Rila, the most famous in Bulgaria, and also probably the earliest, lies in a beautiful valley among the Rilska Planina Mountains, a spur of the Balkans, about thirty miles from Sofia.

It was always considered the chief religious centre of the Chardom, and the abbot acknowledged no superior but the Exarch, the official head of the Bulgarian church.

St. John of Rila, the most famous of its early abbots, and a great figure in the days of Bulgaria's glory, died in 946. Miracles were performed at his tomb, and so widespread became the sanctity that in 1183 Isein of Hungary, in a war with the Eastern Empire, carried his corpse away to Gran in the hope of securing for himself the blessings which his possession conferred. The remains were recovered by the Emperor Isaac II. in 1187 and restored to Bulgaria.

Top picture: St. Boris, the father of Simeon the Great, the patron saint of Bulgaria.

Lower picture: The Janissaries, from a curious collection of model figures in Constantinople.

* * *

The Column of Constantine

This famous column was raised by Constantine the Great on the spot where did lean his sword during the siege of Byzantium, which made him master of the Roman world. It consisted of eight drums of porphyry with the joints concealed by bronze laurel wreaths on a base of white marble and topped by a statue of Constantine—really an Apollo with a new head—crowned with rays and bearing a spear and the globe of empire. It was popularly believed that the Palladium of Rome and part of the true cross were built up in the base.

The column has suffered many vicissitudes, and now presents a terribly wrecked appearance. The Constantinopolitans call it "the hooped column," or "the burnt column," in allusion to its appearance and disasters. Legends, of course, clustered about it, and many superstitions beliefs, the most pathetic being that of the effigy of a martyr, that the Turkish tide would be stayed.

It is almost the only surviving fragment of Constantine's own city. On its base the Emperor placed an inscription: "O Christ, ruler and Lord of the World, to Thee I consecrate this obedient city and the sceptre and power of Rome! Guard Thy city! Guard it from every harm!"

* * *

The Janissaries

No institution is so wrapped up with the early greatness of the Osmanli Turks as that of the Janissaries. The foundation of the famous corps which bore the Turkish standard all over the Nearer East and Barbary was due to Sultan Orkhan and his brother and Vizier, Ala-ed-Din.

The early Osmanli armies were slenderly swarms of horse bowmen, useless for siege work, and the Turkish yeomen, whom Orkhan tried to form into battalions of infantry, proved of small service. Thereupon the brothers—Ala-ed-Din is popularly supposed to have suggested the idea—decided to impose on their Christian subjects a tribute of children who should be trained into a military order. The utter enslavement of the idea is worthy of a Turk, but its success was marvellous. Cut off from all ties of country, kith, and kin, these descendants of Christian parents developed into the most terrible weapons of Mahometan conquest that the world has ever seen.

Orkhan called upon Haji Bektash, a famous dervish, to bless the new corps when its first parade. The old man came to the head of the line and laid his hand, with his white sleeve falling back from it, on the first soldier's head. "He ye called Yeni Ieheri" (new soldiery), he said. "May your faces ever shine, your right arms ever be ever strong, your swords keen, your lances edinged, and may ye be victorious for ever and for aye!"

And in memory of that day the men were equipped with white caps with a white streamer to recall the sleeve. The original cap with its streamer, varied later with different regiments, as may be seen by studying the costumes of the queer little collection of dummy figures in the museum at Constantinople.

In 1328 there were 1,000 soldiers. In a century and a half they conquered all the Nearer East. Their crowning exploit was the storming of the breaches at Constantinople in 1453 after all the other divisions had been repulsed. They were then 12,000 strong.

Suleiman II. altered their organization and permitted recruiting from Mahometans by birth. Always full of esprit de corps, after 1600 they became a curse by their turbulence and deposed Sultans at will. Their numbers rose from 12,000 in 1453 to 120,000 in 1805, but the glory was departed. In 1826 Mahmud II. published the fetva by edict, and 20,000 were massacred in Constantinople alone.

A Matter of Common Sense

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

THE pendulum of fashion has swung so far toward what the women like to call "The Artistic," that it sometimes appears it will never again swing back to Common Sense.

If a woman can afford to stay in bed when paying the penalty for appearing in pumps and silk hose in stormy weather, that is a matter that concerns only her. She is the woman who could stay in bed for a long, long time before the world will really miss her.

But it is the woman who is needed, who is useful; who has a work to do, and does it, who cannot be too harshly condemned for risking her life and her usefulness by appearing on the streets in December in attire that is suggestive of June.

She is one of the thousands who have clasped hands around the pendulum of fashion and are swinging on it far, far away from everything that is sane and sensible.

She is one of the vast army of women who disregard comfort in Winter, because comfort in Winter carries with it a suggestion of clumsiness.

How She Dresses.

The foot in high shoe with thick sole doesn't look as dainty as one in silk hose and pumps. She clings to her silk hose and pumps when every draft of cold air booms its warning of rheumatism, tuberculosis, pneumonia, and death.

A closed limb is covered affords an opportunity for the display of what so many foolish women regard as one of the greatest of their physical charms. So she bares her neck in every throat disease the cold blasts from the north may carry.

Bine and plucked with cold, she imagines she is a pretty and dainty sight. A goose with half its feathers plucked out, wandering in the snow, looks just as pretty and dainty.

She works side by side with men in offices who wear underclothing, heavier coat and vest. She wears the same thin, inclirimmed waist she wore in July.

She falls sick and drops from the ranks. "Overwork," her sympathetic friends say, with sometimes a look of reproach at the firm that employed her.

"Nervous breakdown," would be their verdict if they were absolutely fair and candid.

If she gets through a week or a month, or a Winter without a cold, she boasts that her way of dressing is the right way. She isn't so farseeing that she looks ahead to the vast invisible disease and death she is making among the ranks of working women. She is in the spring-time of her folly, and refuses to reckon with the harvest time of winter, who are older and who are paying the penalty.

What She Needs.

As I said in the beginning, if a woman has unlimited wealth, and can ride in her limousine when there are storms, and command a hot-house heat in her house, she can be as foolish as she likes, and should she catch cold, the world will not suffer any more than it suffers when any butterfly is indisposed.

But if she belongs to that glorious and useful army of women who work, either in home or in business life, she owes it to herself, to her family, to her employers, to the ultimate good she was put on earth to attain to be sensible, and to dress sensibly.

No woman with a mission can accomplish that mission if she goes forth on it with the December snow drifting around silk-bound pump-clad feet.

She must be well and strong. She must have a body removed from pain; a mind free from apprehension of sickness and a courage that is not impaired by any echoes of physical discomfort.

And these are impossible unless she is sanely clad.

Soul's Beauty

By D. G. ROSSETTI.

UNDER the arch of life, where love and death,
Terror and mystery guard her shrine, I saw
Beauty enthroned: and though her gaze struck awe,
I drew it in as simply as my breath.
Here are the eyes which, ever and beneath,
The sky and sea bend on thee—which can draw,
By sea or sky or woman, to one law,
The allotted bondsman of her palm and wreath.
This is that Lady Beauty in whom praise
Thy voice and hand shake still—long known to thee
By dying hem and fluttering hair—the best
Following her daily of thy heart and rest.
How passionately and irreirievably, In what fond flight, how many days and ways.

"The House of Good Cheer"
RATHSKELLER
After Holiday Shopping
You'll enjoy lunch and dinner at
The Venetian Room in the
RATHSKELLER
AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE
Broadway—Fifth Ave. and 24th St.
MUSIC
12:30 to 2:30
6 to 12 P. M.
Open Until Midnight

Theatres.

PREMIER THEATRE
Washington and Lafayette Sts.
The Exclusive Picture House.
MON., TUES. AND WED. ONLY
ITALIAN TURKISH WAR
Scenes Actual Warfare with Artillery in Action
10c.—Continuous 9 A. M. to 10.30 P. M.—10c

HOLLIS
Eves at 8. Mats Wed. & Sat. 2
REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM
Edith Taliaferro and original cast.
40 Obien Sts 41-46
40 Obien Sts 40
BY KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN
Next Week—Seats Thursday
THEN GOOD-BYE FOREVER

BOSTON THEATRE
Evenings at 8
Wed. & Sat. at 2
EDDIE IN THE FOY "OVER THE RIVER"
800 Good Orchestra Seats $1
Seats Now Selling

MAJESTIC
Mat. Wed. and Sat. at 2
Matinee Tomorrow at 2
WILLIAM FAVERSHAM
Presents a Massive Spectacular Production of Shakespeare's
JULIUS CAESAR
With An All Star Cast, Including Mr. Faversham, Tyrone Power, Frank Keenan, Fuller Mellish, Miss Julie Opp and Company of 200
Prices, 50c. to $2.00

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
First Vaudeville Appearance
LULU GLASER
With Thos. D. Richards in "First Love"
MAUDE LAMBERT & ERNEST BALL
—Big Vaudeville Features—8
Overtures at 2 and 7.45

SHUBERT TONIGHT at 8
"It's the Limit."
GABY DESLYS and Co. and THE CHIC SOCIETY SCANDAL
With AL JOLSON
First Gaby Special Mat. Tomorrow
Four Ladies' Mats. Tues. Wed., Fri., Sat. at 2

COLONIAL THEATRE
Nights 8.15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2
Matinee Tomorrow
A. H. Woods Presents Carter DeHaven in
"Exceeding the Speed Limit"
The Joyous Musical Farce Comedy
By author of "The Girl in the Taxi."
Elizabeth M. Murray in Cast

PLYMOUTH THEATRE
Tel. Ox. 2075
Evs. 8.15. Mats. Thurs. and Sat. 2.10
MR. GEORGE
ARLISS "Disraeli"

GLOBE
10 a. m. to 6 p. m. 10-15c
All Star VAUDEVILLE
After 6 p.m. 15-25c
FEATURES
TONIGHT—AMATEURS
Wed. and Fri.—COUNTRY STORE
All New Vaudeville and Pictures Thursday

Theatres.

PARK Evs. 8.15. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2.10
LAST WEEKS
ROSE STAHL
AS MAGGIE PEPPER

SCENIC TEMPLE
Bet. 42d St. and Warren Av.
Mats. 2.30 Evs. Con. 7 to 10.30
Admission 10c. All Seats Free

WALDRON'S COLLEGE GIRLS
CASINO Manager Street Near Tremont Row BURLESQUERS
GRAND OPERA HOUSE
BOHEMIAN BURLESQUERS Ladies' Family matinee Any seat 10 cents

Tours and Travels.

NEW YORK $2.40
VIA RAIL AND BOAT
BAY STATE LINE
QUEBEC STATEROOMS. $5.00
Most Comfortable Route
GEORGIA and TENNESSEE
Daily including Sunday—Improved Service
Telephone, Main 7444
Office 214 Washington st., Boston.

TO New York $2.50
Via Rail and Boat. Daily and Sunday
"THE ONLY INDEPENDENT LINE"
NEW ENGLAND AND NEW YORK"
COLONIAL LINE 25th Wash. St. Phone F. H. 1700

ASTHMA CATARRH
WHOOPING COUGH BRONCHITIS SPASMODIC CROUP COUGHS COLDS
Vapo-Cresolene
ESTABLISHED 1879
A simple, safe and effective treatment for bronchial troubles, without dosing the stomach with drugs. Used with success for thirty years.
Their carrying the antiseptic vapor, inspired with every breath, makes breathing easy, soothes the sore throat, and stops the coughing, assuring restful nights. Cresolene is invaluable to mothers with young children and a boon to sufferers from Asthma.
Send or postal for descriptive booklet.
ALLEN & GUNTER, Inc.
Try Cresolene Antiseptic Throat Tablets for the irritated throat. They are simple, effective and antiseptic. Of your druggist or from us, 10c in stamps.
VAPO CRESOLENE CO.
62 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

The Only Way

Sir. Kidd—Ah, how-do-do, doctor? If you have a few minutes to spare I wish you would come over to my house and chloroform my youngest boy.

Dr. Price—What is the matter with the lad?

Mr. Kidd—Oh, his mother wants to comb his hair.

The Limit.

Mrs. Jones: "My son's six feet in his hats."

Mrs. Smith: "Six feet in his hats? Whatever will you try to get me to believe? You might as well tell me that he has six heads in his hat."

Johnnie Still Wonders

Mamma: "I'm surprised at you, Johnnie."

Johnny (thoughtfully): "I wonder if you'll ever get used to me, mamma? You're always surprised at me."

Swift & Company's sales of Fresh Beef in Boston for the week ending Saturday, December 7th, averaged 13.33 cents per pound.

Huyler's
COCOA
PURITY STRENGTH AND DELICACY
UNEXCELLED.

WHEN you taste the delicate flavor of Huyler Cocoa, you will realize there is a vast difference in cocoas. The flavor of Huyler is due to Huyler own exclusive method of blending and roasting the cocoa beans.

Huyler Cocoa, 10c, 15c, 25c packages.

Huyler Baking and Cooking Chocolate (Premium, Blue Wrapper), unsweetened, ½-lb. cakes, 20c; ¼-lb. cakes, 10c.

Huyler Vanilla Chocolate (Pink Wrapper), sweet, 5c, 10c, 20c cakes.

All sold by dealers everywhere

Huyler's Bonbons and Chocolates sold by Sales Agents and by Huyler's stores: 168 Tremont Street, 414 Boylston Street, 190 Summer Street, and Court and Washington Streets, Boston; 289 Westminster Street, Providence; 614 Chapel Street, New Haven; and 9 Casino Building, Newport. 46 Huyler's Stores in United States and Canada. Sales Agents everywhere

Huyler's, 61 Fifth Avenue, New York

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKETS

A Chicago dispatch says that the Iceland Steel Company is now sold up in all its products until July 1 next.

The Bank of Germany's weekly statement shows a decrease of 21,749,000 marks in gold on hand. Germany got gold bars valued at $1,500,000 in London yesterday.

The fete in the Reichstag of the bill framed to oust Standard Oil from Germany indicates that Washington is not the only capital in the world where Rockefeller interests are powerful. Furthermore, Austria is going to let one of the biggest of Standard Oil subsidiaries rename business.

One of the circumstances which prevented a general European war was the financial condition of both Germany and Austria. They need money. London and Paris are now providing funds for Berlin, whereas a few months ago Germans applied to New York for them. A New York banking house has just negotiated for the purchase of Austrian treasury notes to the amount of $25,000,000.

Copper statisticians figure that the net increase in the world's warehouse stocks in November was about 1,000,000 pounds. Wall Street argued that a decrease last month in domestic copper deliveries indicated a falling off in business.

BOSTON STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to 11:15 for leading Boston stocks:

TELEPHONES.

	High.	Low.	11:15.
American	138¾	138¾	138¾

MISCELLANEOUS.

United Fruit	176¾	176	176
Un. Shoe Mach. pf.	28	28	28

MINING STOCKS.

Adventure	5	5	5
Alloues	38	35	35
Arizona Commercial	3	3	3¼
Calumet & Arizona	71	68½	69
Calumet & Hecla	525	525	525
Copper Range	49½	49½	49½
Franklin	8¾	8¾	8¾
Granby	62	62	62¼
Greene-Cananea	8⅞	8⅝	8⅝
Mayflower	13⅝	13½	13½
Michigan	4	4	4
Mohawk	60	58	59
Nevada Con.	19¾	18¾	19¼
North Butte	30½	30	30
Osceola	102	100	100
Santa Fe	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
Shannon	12¾	12¾	12¾
Superior	37	36	36
Tamarack	33	33	33
Trinity	4¼	4¼	4¼
Utah Copper	58¾	58¾	58¾
Victoria	2	2	2
Wolverine	70	70	70
Wyandot	1¼	1¼	1¼

UNLISTED SECURITIES.

Amalgamated	76½	75½	76¼
Am. Zinc	27⅜	26⅞	27⅜
Boston Corbin	4½	4½	4½
Butte & Superior	39	38½	38½
Chino	41¾	41	41¼
East Butte	13⅜	13½	13⅜
Giroux	2 5-16	2 3-16	2 5-16
Hancock	22	22	22
Helvetia	70c	70c	70c
Isle Royale	24	23¾	24
Lake Copper	24½	24½	24½
Miami Copper	25	25	25
Offshay	2¼	2¼	2¼
Pond Creek	25	24¾	24¾
Shattuck Arizona	29	28¾	28¾
Superior Boston	1¼	1⅛	1¼
*Swift & Co.	104½	104½	104½
U. S. Smelting	41¼	40¼	40¼

*Ex-dividend. Assessment paid.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to 11:15 for leading New York stocks:

RAILROADS.

	High.	Low.	11:15.
Atch., T. & S. F.	105¼	104⅝	104⅝
Brooklyn Rap. Tr.	87¼	86⅝	86⅝
Canadian Pacific	262⅝	261½	261½
Ches. & Ohio	77¼	76⅞	76⅞
C. M. & St. P.	110⅝	109¾	110⅛
Chi. & N. W.	134⅛	134¼	134¼
Erie	31⅝	31	31
Erie 1st pf.	48¼	48¼	48½
Gt. North. pf.	132⅝	131⅝	132⅝
Int.-Metropolitan	17⅛	16½	16⅞
Int. Met. pf.	60⅜	60	60⅛
Louis. & Nash.	141	141	141
Lehigh Valley	169½	167	167
Mo., Kn. & Tex.	26¼	25¾	25¾
Missouri Pac.	40¾	39⅝	39⅝
N. Y. C. & Hud.	109⅜	108½	108⅝
Norfolk & West.	112¼	111¾	111¾
Northern Pac.	118⅝	118⅛	118⅝
Pennsylvania	129⅝	129	129¼
Reading	166¼	165¾	166
Rock Island	23	22¾	22⅞
Rock Island pf.	43½	43¼	43½
Southern Pac.	107	106¼	106⅝
Southern Ry.	28	27⅞	27⅞
Union Pacific	162⅝	161	161

INDUSTRIALS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Amal. Copper	76½	75¼	75⅝
*Am. Car & Fdy.	54¾	53	53
Am. Sm. & R.	69	68	69
Am. Sugar Ref.	116	115	115⅜
Am. Tel. & Tel.	135	134¾	135
Am. Can	27½	26	26½
Am. Can pf.	114¾	113	114
Anaconda Cop.	39	38¼	38⅝
Col. Fuel & Iron	30¼	30	30
Con. Gas (N. Y.)	137½	136⅝	137
Distill. Secur	20⅜	20	20¾
Cent. Leather	26¼	25⅝	26⅛
Harvester	110	109⅝	110
Northern Ore.	40¾	40	40¾
Peop. Gas	111	110	110
U. S. Rubber	61⅝	60⅝	61⅜
U. S. Steel	63½	63¼	64
U. S. Steel pf.	107⅜	107⅛	107⅜
Utah Copper	58⅜	57¾	57⅝
West. Un. Tel.	73	72⅝	72⅝

*Ex-dividend.

BOSTON CURB.

Following is the range of prices to 11:15 for leading Curb stocks:

QUALIFIED LIST.

	High.	Low.	11:15.
Bay State Gas	26c	25c	25c
Bohemia	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
British Col.	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
Butte Central	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Butte & London	42c	40c	40c
Chief Con.	1⅛	17-16	17-16
Corbin Copper	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Davis Daly	1⅝	1 9-16	1 9-16
La Rose	2⅝	2½	2½
Majestic	44c	40c	41c
Mex. Metals pds.	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Nevada Fish	1¼	1⅛	1¼
South Lake	6⅜	6⅛	6⅜

UNQUALIFIED LIST.

Alaska	9¼	9¼	9¼
Houghton	6⅝	6⅜	6⅜
Lion Hill	93c	92c	92c
Nor. Star	2 3-16	2⅛	2⅛
New Baltic	1 9-16	1 9-16	1 9-16
Smoky Devel.	2	2	2
United Verde Ex.	55c	55c	55c

MRS. PETERSON, POLICEMAN'S WIDOW, THANKS OFFICERS

The following letter has been received from Mrs. Alice M. Peterson, widow of Patrolman Albert H. Peterson of the Joy Street Station, who was shot to death in a West End street and whose assassin has not been apprehended:

BOSTON AMERICAN:

I wish to acknowledge through the columns of the Boston AMERICAN, which has taken such a kindly interest in my case, the receipt of money sent to me by the members of the Chelsea Police Department and also a contribution from the Revere Police Department. Through your paper I wish to thank the men of both departments and to express my gratitude to all others who have thought of me in my affliction.

Very respectfully,
MRS. ALICE M. PETERSON.
Boston, December 9, 1912.

Auto News

By J. C. KERRISON.

French drivers and manufacturers are greatly interested in the next 500-mile race to be run December Day at Indianapolis. Every effort is being made by the Peugeot drivers to bring over the full team of three cars which won first place in the French Grand Prix. These cars are recognized as the fastest road racers in Europe. The cars slightly exceed the piston displacement limit, but can be easily made to come within the rules.

Albert Guyot, one of the leading French drivers, has promised to enter an eight-cylinder car of his own construction. Louis Wagner, Victor Hemery, Arthur Duray and Victor Rigol are some of the French pilots who are trying to secure mounts for the speedway races.

* * *

W. J. Day, vice-president of the General Motors Truck Company, announces the appointment of L. B. Johns as New England manager of the General Motors Truck Company. Mr. Johns will have under his direction the GMC direct factory branch in Boston as well as his company's interests throughout the various New England States.

Mr. Johns is a new comer to the motor truck field, but his reputation as a business manager has preceded him, he having been identified with the horse-drawn vehicle business in the West.

* * *

Victor Hemery, the famous French driver, broke the world's six-hour record on November 27, on the Brooklands track, in England. He covered 391 miles in the period, as against 451, the best previous record, and traveled 95 1-3 miles in the last hour. He used a 59-60 Lorraine-Dietrich machine.

* * *

Kenneth M. Blake, local manager of the Locomobile Company of America, will sail for Europe tomorrow, accompanied by Mrs. Blake. He will remain until the first of the year, getting home in time for the New York show.

WATCH AND WARD AGENT FINED $50

Norman J. Whitney, an agent of the Watch and Ward Society, was fined $50 by Judge Almy today in the Cambridge District Court for carrying a loaded revolver. Whitney appealed and was held in $200. Whitney, with other Watch and Ward officers, took part in a raid on Cambridge crapshooters. He had an application for a permit to carry a revolver, but this had not been signed by Commissioner O'Meara.

"I'se in Town Honey"

Meet Me Today At Your Grocers

FUNNY RAG DOLLS

Give your folks a real breakfast treat to-morrow morning. Order a package of Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour from your Grocer, and serve the lightest, most delicious and digestible griddle cakes, gems, waffles or muffins you ever tasted.

"I'se in Town, Honey"

Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour is self-rising; always ready. Breakfast in 5 minutes! It is made from the three great life-sustaining grains—wheat, corn and rice—blended with a wholesome, appetizing food product guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Save Aunt Jemima Package Top Coupons. They are good in exchange for the famous Aunt Jemima Rag Doll Family; father, mother and two pickaninnies, all dressed in gay colors—red, black and yellow—ready to cut and stuff. Also, the clever, imported Climbing Dolls, that delight the children.

Let Aunt Jemima help to cut your "high cost of living." Begin to-morrow morning and watch the family call for more.

Your Grocer has—or can easily get—Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour. There's nothing just as good.

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

When Cross, Sick, Feverish, Tongue Coated or Bilious, Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! look at the tongue! See if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of it. Little tongue will be clean, gums, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not dragging your children's going composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and cassia; it cannot be harmful, besides, they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine, old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

STOCKS UPSET, BUT IT'S A TIME OF OPPORTUNITY

By B. C. FORBES.

A dog's tail cannot be cut off twice.

This reminder is given those who are becoming panicky over the collapse of stock prices. The time to be afraid to touch stocks is not when they are low, but when they are extremely high. The investor who has soared a hundred feet and is still ascending can fall farther than the one who having gone up a hundred feet has safely glided down fifty feet.

During the pseudo boom which has been attempted in stocks during recent months the statement has been made oftener than once in this column that the strongest interests have not advised their friends to participate. A cautious attitude has been maintained all along. Influential bankers have seen both sides of the situation—very prosperous trade, but monetary, tariff, legal and political uncertainties. They therefore, kept near shore lest squalls should arise. And they acted the part of wisdom.

A Bad Record.

How has it fared with the speculators who engineered bonnilets in various pet stocks? And, worse still, how have misguided outside buyers suffered? Pretty badly, the record shows.

Active stocks have tumbled from 10 to 65 points from the year's top, a compilation made before the opening today shows.

Daniel G. Reid and his daring associates are blamed as the arch-conspirators of the rise. Their stalking horse, American Can, has slumped twenty points in a crushly short time and is still on the toboggan. This shrinkage is not far from 50 per cent. Among those who have been fleeced are many of Reid's "friends"—although henceforth they may not care to so regard themselves. The reason trotted out for Can's collapse was that Reid had left Wall Street for a fortnight's rest. Well, a stock that needs the nearly permanent of one man to save it from going out of sight is not a desirable toy for ordinary folks.

Lesson to Be Learned.

One lesson to be learned from the following table is that the good old seasoned stocks, which are not made footballs by plungers, are the safest for conservative investors: Pennsylvania is only 6 points below the year's maximum; Atchison is down only 7, and several other high-grade issues have lost less than 10 points:

	Year's high.	Year's low.	Low Today.
Amal. Copper	92⅜	76⅝	76⅝
Am. Best Sugar	77	50	57
Am. Can	47⅝	27¼	26½
Am. Smelting	91	69¼	69¼
Am. Tobacco	254½	230⅜	234½
Anaconda	48	33¼	38⅝
Atchison	111⅜	104⅜	104⅝
Balt. & Ohio	113¼	103⅜	103⅝
Bethlehem Steel	51⅜	34⅞	36⅜
Canadian Pac.	263	234	261½
Central of N. J.	395	360	360
Chi., M. & St. P.	117⅝	110¼	110⅝
Chi. Harvester	126⅞	108¾	109⅝
Lehigh Valley	185⅝	169¼	169¼
Ligett & Myers	225	200¼	200¼
N. Y. Central	121½	109	109
New Haven	142¾	131	131¼
Northern Pac.	131⅞	118½	118⅝
Pennsylvania	126¾	120⅝	120⅝
Pr. Steel Car Co.	54½	34¼	34¼
Pullman Co.	175	160	160
Rep. I. & Steel	35¾	24¼	26⅛
Southern Pac.	115⅞	100⅜	100⅜
Tennessee Cop.	47¼	37¼	40
Texas Co.	170½	150	150
Union Bag & Paper	37⅞	24½	25⅛
Union Bag & P. pf.	87⅝	70	71⅝
Union Pacific	176⅝	162¼	162¼
U. S. Steel	80⅝	63¼	63¾

The End Not Yet.

Stocks are that much cheaper than they were. They are more worth buying now than when they were advancing gayly with flags flying and drums beating.

It would require courage, however, to venture the opinion that the bottom has been reached. The banks have rounded up a few rank gamblers who were in the thick of the bullish jamboree; collateral of doubtful quality has been thrown out of loan envelopes, and lines of credit have been shortened. The reserve deficit has been turned into a modest surplus, although the margin is the poorest for this season since the panic. Weak holders of securities have been "shaken out"—which means that the lambs have been fleeced and turned out into the cold, with only bitter experience for their comfort.

The market's basis is thus better that it was.

But all is not yet well. Another squeeze in money is inevitable before the New Year. Europe has virtually notified New York to keep its hands off the foreign supply of gold until the week ends there—especially in Berlin and Vienna—has been buttressed. London is not comfortable. Then the Harriman decision has upset quite a few capitalistic calculations. Reading, New York Central and other roads may be similarly dealt with. The Supreme Court is fighting strenuously with trusts in any shape or form. Moreover, tariff revision draws near.

The drop in securities can be viewed as an intimation that general business will be somewhat cooler for six months hence than it is today.

But there is no need to become panicky. Wall Street always flies to extremes. The time to buy is when stocks are low.

NO NOBEL PEACE PRIZE THIS YEAR FOR FIRST TIME

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 10.—"No work deserving the Nobel prize for peace has been accomplished this year.

"Therefore the peace prize will not be awarded."

While the guns are still echoing in the Balkans, this surprising announcement is made by the Norwegian Parliamentary Committee which awards the prize.

It is the first time the peace prize, about $40,000, has been withheld since Alfred Bernhard Nobel, the Swedish manufacturer of dynamite, founded it in 1901.

Had William T. Stead survived the Titanic disaster the prize might have been given to him this year.

SPAIN HURRIES TO ENLARGE ITS NAVY

MADRID, Dec. 10.—Alarmed by European developments and the naval expansion programme of other powers, Spain has decided to enlarge her fleet at once. A new division to consist of three dreadnaughts, eleven torpedo boats and three submarines will be added to the Spanish navy as soon as they can be built.

FIFTEEN CITIES AT POLLS TODAY; WOMEN ACTIVE

Elections were held in fifteen Massachusetts cities today. The only cities yet to hold elections are Salem and North Adams next Tuesday, Boston in January, and Cambridge in March. In the city elections today license was the principal issue, with a mayoralty fight as the big issue in Lowell.

Women were prominent in many battles for the School Committee.

Record Vote Looked for at Lynn Polls Today.

Seven thousand votes had been cast in Lynn up to 3 o'clock today in the city election, and a record vote is expected. There is a total registration of 11,700.

A hard fight is on between Mayor William P. Connery, up for re-election, and Senator George H. Newhall, with the odds about even. Senator Newhall led Mayor Connery by 1,700 votes at the primaries, but the Mayor has developed considerable strength since.

A hard battle is being waged on the license question, the no-license advocates making a stiff fight to carry the city for No for a sixth year. The betting, however, is 10 to 7 no license.

Lawrence's Biggest Fight for the Council.

The fight in Lawrence was all on the Council and School Committee. The city has a commission form of government. Two members of the City Council and two of the School Committee were elected today. The other two members, including the Mayor, hold over for another year.

Robert S. Maloney held the centre of the stage. He, with Michael S. O'Brien, is out for another two-year term in the Council. Maloney is Commissioner of Public Health and Charities; O'Brien is Commissioner of Parks and Public Property. Alfred Bradbury and John S. Todd took issue with them at the polls.

Women Take Part In Lively Newton Fight.

In Newton the women were out in force. There was an interesting school committee fight on, and the women were divided. Nelson B. Vanderhoef, who is running as an independent, is opposing Albert M. Lyons, Republican candidate for re-election from Ward 2.

A lively fight is on, also, for Alderman from Ward 6. Rice, independent, is opposing Burton Payne Gray, Republican. The liquor question takes an important place. There is for eight class druggist licenses, allowing only one license in the town; Gray is for six class licenses, allowing a number of licenses.

Fight in Lowell Chiefly Over G. H. Brown.

The fight in Lowell was over George H. Brown, the once famous policeman Mayor of the city. Under the new city charter Lowell does not elect a Mayor until next year, but Brown was out for the Council. He, with James E. Donnelly, was out for two-year terms. Charles H. Hobson and Harvey B. Green opposed them.

Dr. James B. O'Connor and Charles T. McKenzie were candidates who opposed themselves on the school committee. They were opposed by Perry D. Thompson, Adolf B. Campbell and Dr. John D. Thompson.

Mayor Chambers Is Re-elected in Everett.

Mayor James Chambers of Everett was re-elected at the city election today without opposition. Everett no-license workers made a big fight to keep the city in the dry column, in clearness in the wet vote causing the no-license element considerable alarm.

Farrell Apparently Re-elected in Malden.

Malden had a spirited fight for Mayor. Frank M. Sawtell opposed Mayor George L. Farrell for re-election. Mayor Farrell is apparently re-elected by a large margin. In Ward Six, where the tie vote at the primaries resulted in leaving Alderman Charles L. Moore the only candidate, both Dewer and Ashman ran on stickers. Francis A. Shove and Samuel Sigliman were opponents for the single vacancy on the school board.

Worcester Has Warm Fight Over Mayoralty.

In Worcester, Mayor David F. O'Connell, with the solid Democracy behind him, fought the onslaught of the Republicans, backing George M. Wright of the Wright Wire Company. The odds all day were that the wets would keep the city in the wet column.

Malore and Willard Get Heavy Chelsea Vote.

The Mayoralty contest in Chelsea was so vigorous that over one-half the total registration had voted by 10:30. This was the second election since a new city charter followed the commission government that had charge after the big Chelsea fire. Mayor James H. Malone seeks re-election. Former Mayor Edward E. Willard, who was Mayor six times in the ante-fire days, sought a seventh term against Malone.

Progressives Factor In Somerville Battle.

The Progressives plunged into the fight in Somerville with a vim today, backing Dr. Harold C. Ayres and "Hi" Dearborn, a popular amateur actor, for Aldermen from Ward 7. Frederick J. White, Democrat, and Alderman Arthur W. Gilnet fought for the mayoralty with Mayor Charles A. Burns, Republican. A big vote was polled.

Expect Fairly Close Vote for Medford Mayor.

The mayoralty fight was the main thing in Medford today. The city had hardly recovered from the surprise of Dr. James C. D. Clark's eleventh hour entrance into the fight, but by the vote polled, it appeared as if the contest would be fairly close when the final count was returned. Mayor Charles S. Taylor was up for a second term. He had expected to be unopposed.

Record Vote Likely On License in Melrose.

Melrose cast what was expected to be a record vote on the license question. It was predicted the count would show the city

SENATORS SAY BRITAIN CANNOT BULLDOZE U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—As there can be no submission of the Panama Canal act to arbitration without the consent of the Senate the following opinions of Senators obtained by the AMERICAN are important:

SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

We may have been hasty in the framing of the bill and we may have to make some changes, such as is suggested to us by the conditions, but if we do not find it expedient to make such changes they will be dictated by right and not at all by the wishes of the British government. The question is not a matter for arbitration. It is our own affair and we propose to settle it according to our own ideas.

"The suggestion of the British Foreign Office, that we may remedy our lack of support of our coastwise shipping by a subsidy, is none of their business. We have a right to subsidize our vessels, if we see fit. It is possible that we may do so, but as to whether we do so we will not consult the British government. We want to be fair to all and we intend to be so.

GEORGE SUTHERLAND, member Senate Foreign Relation Committee:

The British note claims that under their treaty right we have no business to let our ships go through the canal free of tolls. I have always been of the opinion that we have an absolute right to permit our coastwise ships to use the canal free of cost if we wish to, and there is no discrimination in that against British ships, as they are not allowed to engage in our coastwise trade. This is truly a domestic question, and for that reason, in my judgment, is not arbitrable.

SENATOR WILLIAM ALDEN SMITH:

The question particularly is one for the American government to settle and, having determined our domestic policy, I should think that would be the end of the matter.

CHAIRMAN SULZER of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs:

I stand on my speech made in the House when the Panama Canal Tolls bill was on its passage. I favored free passage for American ships.

Girls Will Be Boys in German Comedy by Harvard Amateurs

The saying that boys will be boys does not go this year in the Harvard German Club. This Fall they are giving a play in Jordan Hall next Friday evening, and instead of having, as usual, the parts of girls filled by girls, this year they are having the handsomer and younger members of the German Club filling the role of the fair sex.

The president of the Deutscher Verein, as its official name is, H. R. Hablehl, a senior, has the leading female role—that of the young widow. The play which is being given is one which should afford tremendous soupiarity a year or so ago in Berlin, the title being "Two Coats of Arms." It is given in German.

The hero of the piece is played by Lange, another Harvard scholar, who has the role of Rudolf Wettingen. The two other leading parts, Mr. Forster and the Baron von Wettingen, are taken respectively by Messrs. Priester and Appelmann, the last of whom has studied at the University of Berlin and has had experience on the German stage. The part of Dietrich von Vinck is taken by Herr Mayer, another Berlin student.

A. A. Berle, jr., a Harvard senior, is playing the part of the lawyer, Harry Forster. President Hablehl has the part of Hans Stevenson, while C. D. Hackese of Bern, Switzerland, is to play the part of the old aunt, Charlotte von Wettingen.

The play concerns the romantic adventures of a Chicago pork packer, born in Germany, who returns to Germany and Harvard and there engaged to marry the son of a German baron.

"No." There was a three-cornered fight for Mayor. Charles E. French, the present incumbent, was opposed by Oliver B. Munroe and Thomas H. Gilman, both former aldermen.

Workman Versus Woburn Business Man.

Workman opposed business man at Woburn in the fight for Mayor. The workman was William H. Henchey, an employe of the Woburn Machine Company. The business man was Elmer E. Silver, general agent of a big insurance company with offices in Boston. Mr. Henchey was formerly presiding of the City Council. He is a Democrat. Silver is a Republican.

Reform Mayor Running in Chicopee.

Mayor Frank A. Rivers, the reform Mayor of Chicopee, was out for a second term today. He had two opponents, Ernest Dalton, Republican, and William J. Dunn, Democrat. The Mayor ran as an independent, as he did last year. The vote was heavy and very close.

Five-Cornered Newburyport Fight.

Newburyport was the only city to have a five-cornered fight for Mayor. The rivals were John J. Kelliher, Hiram H. Longfellow, Moody B. Noyes, Norman Russell and City Solicitor Arthur Withington. Both ran on nomination papers in a non-partisan campaign.

There was a great no-license fight. The contest was close.

For Four Days More

Subscriptions Count DOUBLE

In Lots of Ten

IN THE AMERICAN'S

$40,000 Contest

RUSH —In Your— Subscriptions

"Opportunity Weeks" END SATURDAY

Here Is the "Opportunity Offer"

During the Three Weeks Beginning Sunday, Nov. 24, and Ending Saturday, Dec. 14, at 10 P. M., Each Lot of 10 Subscriptions

Will Count Double

Vote Values During "Opportunity Weeks"

LENGTH OF SUBSCRIPTION	GUARANTEE REQUIRED	VOTE CREDIT
6 Months	25 Cents	3,000
12 Months	50 Cents	7,000
36 Months	100 Cents	15,000

Guarantee The Boston American guarantees that this is positively the largest special offer which will be made during the entire competition. No other offer at any time before the contest closes will be as large as this.

BOSTON AMERICAN CONTEST EDITOR

American Woolen Company

Fifty-Fifth Quarterly Dividend

Notice is hereby given that the regular quarterly dividend of One and Three-Quarters Per Cent (1¾%) on the Preferred Capital Stock of the American Woolen Company of record December 23, 1912, will be paid on the 15th day of January, 1913.

Transfer books for Preferred Stock will be closed at the close of business December 23, 1912, and will be reopened January 3, 1913.

Checks will be mailed by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

WM. H. DWELLY, Jr., Treasurer.
Boston, Mass, December 9, 1912.

DEATHS

AKIN—In Brighton, Dec. 9, Juliette, wife of William Akin, 67 yrs.
Funeral from her late residence, 25 Exeter st., Brighton, Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m.
Relatives and friends invited to attend.

CHESSMAN—In this city, Dec. 8, Mrs. Lizzie A. Chessman, in her 78th year.
Funeral services at the Temple St., M. E. Church, on Worcester, at 4 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

CROSS—In Cambridge, Dec. 8, Nancy Hubbard Cross, widow of Joseph Cross, 72 yrs.
Services at her late residence, 17 Upton st., Cambridge, Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m. Burial at Woodlawn, Everett, on arrival of train leaving Boston at 3:15 p.m.

DOANE—In Roxbury, Dec. 9, Caroline Augusta, widow of Joseph C. Doane.
Funeral from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Albee, on Coolidge st., Brookline, Tuesday, at 2 p.m. Interment at Phillipston, Mass., Wednesday.

FARRINGTON—In Dorchester, Dec. 9, Jabez F. Farrington, aged 76 yrs.
Funeral at chapel of Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham, Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m.

FRENCH—In Malden, Dec. 7, Mrs. Caroline M. French, 83 yrs.
Funeral from 217 Linden st., Wednesday, at 2 p.m. Friends omit flowers.

HOLMES—In Dorchester, Dec. 9, Margaret Holmes, widow of Thomas Holmes.
Funeral from the residence of her cousin, Joseph T. Creed, 50 Astoria st., Mattapan, on Wednesday, at 2 p.m. Funeral private. Interment Bowers.

JACOBS—In Roxbury, Dec. 7, Harriet Clemmie, daughter of the late Rev. William B. and Harriet Frances Jacobs, 2 yrs.
Services at Odell, Mass., Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m.

KENNEY—At Wellesley Hills, Dec. 9, Patrick Kenney.
Funeral from his late residence, Cedar st., Wed., Dec. 11, at 8:30. High mass at St. John's Church, Wellesley, at 9 o'clock. Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Wellesley.

LAWS—In New York, Dec. 7, Frederick Adams Laws, son of Hiram and Sarah Adams Laws of Bedford, Mass.
Funeral at the Unitarian Church, Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m. Interment at Bedford.

MARSHALL—In East Boston, Dec. 9, Catherine, aged 74 yrs., wife of John M. Marshall.
Funeral from her late residence, 18 London av., Wednesday, at 9 a.m. Solemn high mass of requiem at the Most Holy Redeemer Church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

McGILLICUDDY—At Dedham, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7, Robert Custer McQuillen, in his 44th year.
Funeral from his late residence, 1 Bullard st., Dedham, Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m. Train leaves Park Station at 1:30 p.m.

MUNROE—At South Boston, Dec. 9, Georgiana Munroe, daughter of the late Thomas Prentiss Munroe.
Funeral from the residence of her brother, H. H. Leavitt, 561 Eighth st., South Boston, on Wednesday, at 11 a.m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

TAYLOR—In this city, Dec. 7, suddenly at his residence, Hotel Sanford, 1321 Washington st., Frank Taylor, aged 57 yrs.
Funeral services at Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 12 m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

WOLL—In Jamaica Plain, Dec. 9, Jacob Woll, Sr., 79 yrs.
Funeral services at his late residence, 14 Armstrong st., Monday, at 2 p.m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. (Worcester, Mass., papers please copy.)

Lost and Found.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

Lost—Diamond Necklace,
PLATINUM SETTING, with 2 aqua marines, on sidewalk Bay State road, 3d, or Comm. or Tremont Theatre, or la. taxicab; suitable reward 170 Bay State road, phone BB 0600.

LOST—Seven open-face lady's gold watch, No. 19144, between Bridge and Pleasant, from Monday, Oct. 28, 1912. This was a gift to the owner from her mother before her death. Finder please call at N. E. 992 Beacon st., Newton Centre, Mass.

LOST—Between Dover st. and Tremont st., corner Aspinwall Hill and College Farm Road, a platinum watch and fob. Finder please call 1 Hancock road.

LOST—Sables, topaz and pearl stones, junction Beacon st. and Commonwealth av. Reward. Call 1 Arlington st., Boston.

LOST—Gold bracelet, Dec. 9, between Copley Hall and Hotel Lenox, Boylston st. Finder, 1 Charlestown, Mass.

LOST—Gold bracelet; case; suitable reward offered. W. F., no. 208 Tremont bldg., Boston.

LOST—Between Potter, arms and Tremont st. ticket. Will be returned on sending proof of ownership at Potter, arms, Tremont st. Suite 4, 1071 Commonwealth av., Boston.

LOST—Pocketbook; between 2:30-3. Owner may obtain same by paying expenses. Finder please return to rear, 1023 B st., S. Boston.

LOST—Pocketbook, Dec. 4, Apply 29 A. st., Hanley, to Northfield st.

Money to Loan.
Those advertisers are under the supervision of the Massachusetts Commissioner.

QUICK LOANS at legal rates on salary, piano, furniture, stores, offices, horses and teams; Collateral Loan Co., 31 Pemberton sq., room 1, 2d floor, Scollay sq. entrance. Tel. Main 4364.

CASH—Salary loans; 4 per cent. to 6 per cent.; also mortgage loans on city property; usual legal rates; strictly confidential. Bonner & Dow, 252 Devonshire st.

MONEY to loan on furniture and pianos, 181 Tremont st., rm. 23, 1st. 7th.

Business Personals.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

MARRIAGE PAPER, Dec. Cupid's Monitor, with names, addresses, photos and descriptions, 10 cts. for 25c; no other fee. Box 2203A, Boston, or at 572 and 574 Washington st., Room 1, Stairway No. 10 Dover st. and 46 Howard st.

$10—Course of lessons; thorough, complete, inexpensive course in chiropractic; actual adjustment; diploma granted; terms easy. Call or write PALMER COLLEGE, 711 Schmidt bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

MARRY at once; 10 cents; latest list 10c. HUB CORRESPONDENCE CLUB, Newtonville, Mass.

Printing.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display

1,000 BUSINESS CARDS, $1; 3,000 circulars, $1. B. BRIGHT, 24 Bromfield st., Boston.

Talking Machines.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

TALKING MACHINES and records, all makes, bought and exchanged. ROSENS, 3 School st., op. 1 Sight.

Wines and Liquors.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

ABSOLUTELY STRAIGHT whiskey, 4 full measures, $2.8 qts. or gal. $2 full gal. jug. THOS. KNOWS & SON, 59 So. Market st. Est. 100 years.

Astrology.
40c a line of 7 words. 60c display

Clairvoyant—Spirit Medium
$1.00—NOW FREE—$1.00

HERBERT LORENZ was born with a strange power to help others. He is willing to satisfy the idle curious, but to advise, console and help men and women in trouble, sickness and suspense concerning the affairs of life. He tells you by name and tells the object of your friend's love, affairs of business, social and financial condition and exactly what you wish to know. Advice concerning divorce, business, speculation, investment, insurance, changes, lawsuits, partnership, lawsuits, separations, wills, deeds, mortgages, patents, claims or collections, letters answered, sent to S. sally and Sunday. No sun.

316—HUNTINGTON AVE.—212

MME. FORREST, 82 BERKELEY ST. Palmist and Card Reader. Hours, 9 to 9.

MME. FOSS—Boston's leading gifted medium, 10 years' success in affairs of life. Daily 9 a.m. to 9. 1039 Wash. st., bet. Dover and Castle sts.

W. H. HUNTINGTON, PSYCHIC PHYSICIAN, investments, law, 154 Boylston st.; tel. Ox. 1336.

MME. PALMER, ASTROLOGIST and Card reading; know thyself. 1688 Washington st.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

Published Daily and Sunday at 80 and 82 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

BRANCH ADVERTISING OFFICES.
DISPLAY AND CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING FOR PAPER RECEIVED AT 225 5th AVE., NEW YORK; 1321 BRUNSWICK BLDG., NEW YORK CITY, OR 302 ASHLAND BLDG., CHICAGO.

NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING CO.

Entered as second class matter, June 4, 1907, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass. Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

Published Daily, Sunday, Five Cents. Terms: Postage included for the United States and Canada (except Boston).

Daily only, one year	$6.00
Daily, six months	3.00
One month	.50
Sunday only, one year	2.50
One year	3.50
Six months	1.75
Daily and Sunday, one year	8.00
Six months	4.00
One month	.70

On foreign subscriptions add postage at rate of 1 cent per daily and 5 cents per copy Sunday.

Male Help Wanted.
10c a line of 7 words. 20c display.

GILCHRIST CO.
REQUIRE SEVERAL Experienced Toy
—AND—
China Ware Packers
Apply at once to Employment Bureau, 8th Floor

BOYS—Colored boys wanted; STUDIO JEWELRY CO., 141 Tremont st.

BRICKLAYER—Foreman, experienced, on large work; steady job; good references required; Boston and vicinity. G 244, Boston American.

COLLECTOR—And salesman wanted. 2129 Washington st.

ELECTRICIAN—Wanted, good man on house wiring and repairs. T. J. Kelly, 22 Bicknell st., Boston.

MACHINIST—Wanted at INSULATED WIRE FACTORY, Bay st., Dorchester.

MILK ROUTE—Wanted, on milk route; honest and temperate; about $24, room and board, on Weston road, Wellesley. Address Box 1, Newton and Weston, Mass.

SEWING MACHINE ADJUSTOR—Wanted; HARVARD KNITTING MILLS, Walnut st., Waltham.

SHAPER HAND—Wanted; must be first-class; steady employment. 200 Boston American.

SHEET METAL WORKERS—Wanted, 50 first-class men for cornice and skylight work; also 50 Mechanics or Helpers; STERLING BLOWER Co., 30 Dartmouth st., cor. Tremont st., Boston. Telephone, Mass.

SHEET METAL WORKERS—NEW ENGLAND HEATING AND VENTILATING CO., 928 Main st., Providence.

WAITER—Wanted at once. Write to PETERS HARMONY HOUSE, Foxboro, Mass.

WATCHMAN—Wanted, with best references. Address T 205, Boston American.

Male Help—Miscellaneous.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL
Day and evening classes; practical instruction; $5; cars to let for highway cases; road test; we are the high powered school; a position or money guaranteed by new method; day or evening classes now forming. RADIOR & HALL, 71 Clarendon st., near Clarke st.

Learn Automobile Driving
AND REPAIRING at our school; the most successful school to Boston; REPAIR COURSES FREE to all driving graduates; see us or send stamp for particulars. Don't waste time elsewhere.
BONNEY & GREIG,
222 COLUMBUS AV.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL
AUTO driving lessons, $1 each or 6 for $5; the only school in Boston with cars to let for road work; we secure more licenses and place more men in position than any school else in New England; unlimited repair course, $15; home guaranteed; day or evening. WRITE, see us or send stamp for particulars. Don't waste time elsewhere.
BONNEY & GREIG,
222 COLUMBUS AV.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL
AUTO driving lessons, $1 each or 6 for $5; the only school in Boston with cars to let for road work; we secure more licenses and place more men in position than any school else in New England; unlimited repair course, $15; home guaranteed; day or evening. WRITE, see us or send stamp for particulars. Don't waste time elsewhere.
BONNEY & GREIG,
222 COLUMBUS AV.

Wages, Room, Board, Railroad Ticket
FURNISHED by steam railroad contractor for excavating, while working into and leaving Washington at Boston; 1,000 men wanted; 10 hours daily; special meeting for particulars, this evening, Washington at Boston; Tremont Temple HALL.

Learn to Drive an Automobile
IN 8 lessons. MR. REID, 274 W. Newton st., Boston. Telephone Back Bay 6000. Instructor of E. M. C. A. Auto School. Open evenings.

200 Men Wanted This Week
TO LEARN to drive an automobile in our shop; practical instruction, day or evening; $25 per week guaranteed; we have cars to let; AUTO SCHOOL, 80-87 Church st., Boston.

AMBITIOUS man to represent us; good salary and commission; $1,000 a year; no experience necessary; we train you; write for particulars. Address Publishers' Syndicate, 121 Haverhill st., Boston; free catalog; always open.

ENGINEERS, firemen, others; $100 month; mass more pay; get one now; individual instruction; locomotive, stationary, electricity; position guaranteed; free. HAWLEY ENGINEERING SCHOOL, Huntington av.

I MADE $50,000 in 3 years with a small mail order business; will show you how to do the same; tells how. HEACOCK, 3102 Lookout, N. Y.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEN—Several railroads in Boston electric, $80 to $100 monthly; age 17 to 35; experience unnecessary; interview 9 a.m. Room 1, 2d floor, Scollay sq. entrance.

CASH—Salary loans; 4 per cent. to 6 per cent.; also mortgage loans on city property; usual legal rates; strictly confidential. Bonner & Dow, 252 Devonshire st.

MONEY to loan on furniture and pianos, 181 Tremont st., rm. 23, 1st. 7th.

Business Personals.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

MARRIAGE PAPER, Dec. Cupid's Monitor, with names, addresses, photos and descriptions, 10 cts. for 25c; no other fee. Box 2203A, Boston, or at 572 and 574 Washington st., Room 1, Stairway No. 10 Dover st. and 46 Howard st.

$10—Course of lessons; thorough, complete, inexpensive course in chiropractic; actual adjustment; diploma granted; terms easy. Call or write PALMER COLLEGE, 711 Schmidt bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

MARRY at once; 10 cents; latest list 10c. HUB CORRESPONDENCE CLUB, Newtonville, Mass.

Printing.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display

1,000 BUSINESS CARDS, $1; 3,000 circulars, $1. B. BRIGHT, 24 Bromfield st., Boston.

Talking Machines.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

TALKING MACHINES and records, all makes, bought and exchanged. ROSENS, 3 School st., op. 1 Sight.

Wines and Liquors.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

ABSOLUTELY STRAIGHT whiskey, 4 full measures, $2.8 qts. or gal. $2 full gal. jug. THOS. KNOWS & SON, 59 So. Market st. Est. 100 years.

Astrology.
40c a line of 7 words. 60c display

Clairvoyant—Spirit Medium
$1.00—NOW FREE—$1.00

HERBERT LORENZ was born with a strange power to help others. He is willing to satisfy the idle curious, but to advise, console and help men and women in trouble, sickness and suspense concerning the affairs of life. He tells you by name and tells the object of your friend's love, affairs of business, social and financial condition and exactly what you wish to know. Advice concerning divorce, business, speculation, investment, insurance, changes, lawsuits, partnership, lawsuits, separations, wills, deeds, mortgages, patents, claims or collections, letters answered, sent to S. sally and Sunday. No sun.

316—HUNTINGTON AVE.—212

MME. FORREST, 82 BERKELEY ST. Palmist and Card Reader. Hours, 9 to 9.

MME. FOSS—Boston's leading gifted medium, 10 years' success in affairs of life. Daily 9 a.m. to 9. 1039 Wash. st., bet. Dover and Castle sts.

W. H. HUNTINGTON, PSYCHIC PHYSICIAN, investments, law, 154 Boylston st.; tel. Ox. 1336.

MME. PALMER, ASTROLOGIST and Card reading; know thyself. 1688 Washington st.

Male Help Wanted.
10c a line of 7 words. 20c display.

Girls Wanted
For the holidays. We require a large number of girls for inspectors, space people and packers. Apply to MR. WRIGHT, Main Building, street floor, rear.

Jordan Marsh Company

GILCHRIST CO.
Require several experienced
EXAMINERS
Must be over 14 years old. Bring school certificates. Apply at Employment Bureau, 8th floor.

SALESWOMEN
Wanted at Once
BUTLER'S
APPAREL SHOPS
Washington and Winter Streets.
Apply at Employment Office
9th Floor.

EXAMINERS and CHECK GIRLS
Must be over 14 years of age and bring school certificate. Apply, Dept. 42 once.
HENRY SIEGEL CO.

VAMPERS,
U. S. TIP STITCHERS
AND
TOP SEAMERS.
APPLY GEO. E. KEITH CO., 288 A st., South Boston.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS,
Fancy Packers and Bow Makers.
JOHN W. CHOOS CHOCOLATE CO., 80 North st.

YOUNG COLORED GIRL
AS STENOGRAPHER; steady work. Apply TOURAINE CONFECTIONERY, 146 Tremont st., near A., 8th floor.

TWO GIRLS,
2 GIRLS—Wanted to sell candy; brunette preferred; call early. 47 Purchase st.

GIRLS WANTED.
FAMILIAR with housework. At MRS. MACDONALD'S, 1 Gloucester st., Boston. Interview 9 to 11 a.m.

ADVERTISING SOLICITOR — Young woman or lady who have had some experience soliciting advertising, and who can furnish references as to character and ability, and who will make Crescent Training School, 80-87 Church st., Boston.

STEAM ENGINEERING — Learn this paying profession; day and evening classes; all branches; special attention to those preparing for state examinations; diploma granted; terms easy. Call or write for catalog. Crescent Training School, 80-87 Church st., Boston; free catalog; always open.

ENGINEERS, firemen, others; $100 month; mass more pay; get one now; individual instruction; locomotive, stationary, electricity; position guaranteed; free. HAWLEY ENGINEERING SCHOOL, Huntington av.

I MADE $50,000 in 3 years with a small mail order business; will show you how to do the same; tells how. HEACOCK, 3102 Lookout, N. Y.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEN—Several railroads in Boston electric, $80 to $100 monthly; age 17 to 35; experience unnecessary; interview 9 a.m. Room 1, 2d floor, Scollay sq. entrance.

RAILWAY MAIL clerks wanted, $800 a month; fares allowed; questions sample; coaching free. FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, Dept. 160 W, Rochester, N. Y.

RUBBER WORKERS and clerks carried 57 hours; raised to 60 hours; 10 per cent. increase; if you cannot call send two 2-cent stamps for particulars. GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO., Boston.

USE your spare time to build up a mail order business of your own; we furnish the plans and a start in profits; if convenient, particulars free. MAIL ORDER ADVERTISERS EXCHANGE, Buffalo, N. Y.

WANTED—An experienced demonstrator and canvasser to take charge of the sale of a new household article; $3,000 per year and expenses to right party; exclusive territory; no capital required; original lines. This enterprise is backed by over $5,000,000 corporation; only those who can show evidence of an unusually large business. We desire to secure the services of a gentleman who will give special training to juvenile subscription lines. This is a rare opportunity for a gentleman who can qualify for a really high-class position. Address, for interview, giving full address and commission basis, Box 1, 220 Boylston st., Boston, Mass. Telephone Oxford 1, 240, Boston American.

WANTED—Ambitious young men to become traveling salesmen and earn while they learn; write for free booklet; NATIONAL SALESMEN'S TRAINING ASSOCIATION, Chicago, New York, Kansas City.

7000 GOVERNMENT JOBS OPEN—Write for list. FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, Dept. 140W, Rochester, N. Y.

WOMEN to crochet edgings for machine; also hand embroiderers; stamp for reply. E 249, Boston American.

Employment Agencies.
12½c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

ENGINEERS—2nd-class, for positions in city and country. Call 9 to 10 a.m. 1 Beacon st., room 1. CHAS. F. RAYMOND, 224 Washington st., Boston.

FRANK W. BOYD EMPLOYMENT OFFICE—Removed to 43 Portland st., Boston; roundsman and laborers wanted.

MISS KING'S, 629 Washington st., Capelle Building and South house girls; work by day or week.

WOMEN—For Great Northern Paper Co., market farmers, milkers, teamsters. WURF, 53 Portland st.

Female Situations Wanted.
5c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

DAY WORK—Would like to clean ladies' apartments. Address A. B. ABBOTT, Dedham, Mass.

DAY WORK—Neat and clean colored girl would like 2 d. or general work in a small family in or around Boston; can give best of references. 17 C. W. 20 Holyoke st., Boston, Mass.

DRESSMAKING—Plain sewing, experienced, wants to care for mornings, or laundry work home or in family. 20 Union Park, room 2, 2d floor, Boston st., top floor.

HOUSE WORK—Colored woman wants day work or general. 18 Sawyer st., Rox.; tel. 4225-R.

NIGHT WORK—Wants work by night by day or week; 15c hour. 92 Vernon st.; tel. 2178-R Hen.

PLAIN SEWING—Wants work by day or week, $2.50 per day; tel. 1760-I Dor. 316 Savin Hill av., Dorchester.

DRESSMAKER—Plain cutter, experienced, wants work by the day. Address B 24, Boston American.

LAUNDRESS—Colored, would like work to take home; good washer and ironer. 27 Myrtle st., Boston.

LAUNDRY—A private colored woman, laundry work at home or by the day. Call or write 10 Hammond st., top fl. DUDLEY.

MORNING WORK—Neat colored girl wants work by the day or week; 15c hour. Call 2295-W Tre.

SEAMSTRESS—Experienced; neat, reliable and willing, wants position for the winter in private family; write, stating wages. LILLIAN REED, Box 1561, Wakefield, Mass.

SEWING—Soft, evening work; also remodeling and repairing; 15c hour. 27 Myrtle st., Boston.

WRITING—Lady with young son would like copying to do at home. E 295, Boston American.

Stoves and Furnaces.
25c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

STEAM AND WATER HTRS., radiators, for sale at auction Wed., 2 p.m., 1472-M Tremont st., cor. Ruggles. J. GRAY, 53 Hanover st.

SIZE 10 HEATER for large room or store, No. 7 range, nearly new, and cheap; also parlor stove. DOWNER, 93 Anderson st.

Pianos and Musical Instruments.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

PIANO PRICES STAY DOWN
$5 DOWN
$1.00 A WEEK

We have respectfully declined to enter into any agreement with the Piano Trust and fake storage houses to raise the retail prices of pianos during the Christmas season. In many cases, to successfully compete with the Trust, we have marked down the prices of the best instruments.

In our long fight with the Piano Trust and fake storage concerns we have proved to you and time again that if we want the confidence of the public we must keep faith with the people. We will allow no agreement to raise prices to shake the faith and confidence that people have in us.

Any information tending to show conspiracy on the restraint of trade in Piano Trust agreements or that shows misrepresentations by fake storage concerns will be welcomed by us and rewarded, as in the past, as strictly confidential.

Frederick Piano $175
NEW AND GUARANTEED—$300 VALUE
STEINWAY UPT. $175
KNABE UPT. $85
WEBER UPT. $85
CHICKERING UPT. $95
KNABE UPT. $95
STEINWAY UPT. $95
HALLET & DAVIS UPT. $95
KRANICH & BACH UPT. $70
HALLET & DAVIS UPT. $95
WEBER & POND UPT. $95
HALLET & DAVIS UPT. $95
HAINES BROS. UPT. $105
CHICKERING UPT. $95
STEINWAY UPT. $95
STEINERT UPT. $95
FISCHER UPT. $95
FISCHER BABY GRAND $95
FISCHER UPT. $90
MASON & HAMLIN UPT. $95
H. P. MILLER UPT. $85
MARSHALL UPT. $95
MARSHALL UPT. $95
MARSHALL UPT. $95
SHERMAN, CLAY & CO. UPT. $95
MERRILL UPT. $110
BENNETT UPT. $95

PLAYER PIANOS FROM $150 TO $450
ROXBURY PIANO STORAGE SALESROOM CO.,
2418 Washington St., Boston
NEAR DUDLEY TERMINAL.

LOWELL PIANO BARGAINS
237 CENTRAL STREET.
The Lowell Branch of our business will now and take notice on the celebrated Frederick Piano and most of above instruments.

Charles S. Norris, Pianos.
181 Tremont Street
NEXT TO METROPOLITAN, MASONIC TEMPLE.

KRANICH & BACH upright and grands; highest honors wherever exhibited; sold on easy terms; second-hand pianos, $75 up; rented, $3 month.

IVERS & POND $240, Henry F. Miller $135-$260, McPhail $140, Chickering $175; several slightly used Cable-Nelsons, $225 to $300; Fischer, $250 to $350; these are good bargains; rarer in every way than second-hand pianos; Aeolian Pianola $450.

COMPANION—Young girl, 15 to 17, companion to care for invalid lady; must be fond of children. Address

FRIEND HIRE—Height exact girl wanted at once, good position and good pay to right girl. Apply 620 Boylston st., Room 1, 2d floor.

LAUNDRY HELP—Experienced; hot work folder; apply, WHITE CROSS LAUNDRY, 154 Cedar st., Somerville.

WAITRESS—Wanted, Grammar grade, $700; TEACHERS' EXCHANGE, 120 Boylston st.

WAITRESS—At once; experienced; apply, 10 Temple pl., Boston, or 1 Bow st., Somerville. Between 7 and 11, at 564 Washington st., Boston, 3d floor, front.

WAIST FINISHER—Wanted, experienced, good wages; steady season to right party. Apply 120 Mass. av., rm. 403.

Female Help—Miscellaneous.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

CHORUS GIRLS.
READY FOR ENGAGEMENT. Apply Friendship Hall, 694 Washington st., Tuesday morning.

HOUSE SEWER WANTED.
MAKE 2 seams; good sewing and sewing plain work; steady work wanted for Boston and Brockton; New England States and Canada; any ordinary sewing machine; all home work; no canvassing; no dull season; state how much time you can have; no postals; send apply and test coats for copies of samples, etc.; returned if not satisfactory. HOME SEWERS, 1071, New England Sewing Dept. A, Rehoboth, Del.

GIRLS and young women wanted to learn millinery and dressmaking. McDOWELL'S, 59 Temple st.

GIRLS—Wanted, 2 experienced operators on full cash waists. J. J. DESCLAURIES, 43 Winter st.

LADIES—$10 weekly easily made at home. Send 2c stamp for particulars. Supply Co., 1 Lawrence st., Dept. 1, Malden, Mass.

LADIES—Wanted, 2 experienced operators on full cash waists; write for free books. Rm. 33, Herald bldg., Boston.

MONEY weekly for spare time; $60 per month. Position examinations soon; write immediately for free list of positions. FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, Dept. 618 W., Rochester, N. Y.

WOMEN to do spare time piano, clock and mail work, $25, $15 weekly, $4 per week residence. 29 Cliff st., Norwood.

TAILORS MACHINES, records and supplies bought, sold and exchanged. ROSENS, 3 School st., op. 1 Sight.

BEAUTIFUL cash, upright piano, used two months; a bargain. 686 Bulfinch st., Boston.

PIANO for sale; $82 worth for $40. 1 Fairfield st., Boston. Telephone Back Bay 7000.

Music.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

Pianos Tuned & Cleaned $1
WORK guaranteed. PROF. BERRY, 569 Dudley st. Highest references. Tel. 2881 Fay, exp. extra. Emerson, McPhail, Chickering and Mehlin pianos a specialty.

PIANOS TUNED $1
WORK GUARANTEED—PROF. HALL, 206 Huntington av., Boston; 25 years' exp.; Chickering, Kimball, Hallet & Davis; highest ref.; tuning, $1; tel. 1400 Back Bay.

Clothing.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

The Wage Earners' Friend
Marks & Chester
105 Dudley St., Cor. Dudley Sq.
Tel. 1400 Roxbury.
27 YEARS OF HONEST DEALING.
WE SELL ON CREDIT. YOU PAY WHAT LITTLE MONEY YOU CAN SPARE.
$10 suits now MARKS & CHESTER'S
a genuine bargain, largest variety in New England; $15 suits, slightly worn and made over, equal to clothing made by leading tailors; suits from $1.50; overcoats from $1.50; coats and vests from $1.25; coats and vests from $1.25; fitted coats and vests, $2.50; pants from 75c; coats and vests, $3.50; fitted coat and vest in Boston open evenings till 9. Saturdays 11.

KEEZER 149 WASHINGTON ST., 2d floor, Dartmouth st.; the one and only tailor in Boston that tells you what it costs; second clothing; also full dress, Tuxedo and Prince Albert suits at $5; overcoats, $3; open Saturdays to 10; phone 774, 916.

SLIGHTLY worn Fall and Winter suits and overcoats, $5 to $15; tailor-made; $25 to $35; also fur-lined coats, $15 to $25. Pleasant st., cor. Park st.

SLIGHTLY worn Fall and Winter suits and coats; dresses, coats, coats for sale or to let from $1 up; also evening and full dress suits. 1 Bowdoin sq., cor. Cambridge st., 2d floor.

WOMEN'S and men's hats re-let. WILLIAMS'S DRESS SUIT PARLORS, 38 Boylston st.

Women's Specialties.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

SPECIAL SALE.

$3 Feathers..$1.98
$5 Feathers..$3.98
$10 Feathers..$4.50
Feathers curled 15c

PEARL FEATHER CO.,
7 Temple Place, Room 15.

Ladies' boaver, velour and fur hats reblocked to latest model and made like new; also ostrich feathers dyed and curled. Ladies' cafe connected. 1105-1107 Washington st., 543 Garland st.

Furniture.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

WE BUY, sell, exchange and move furniture, safes, stoves, carpeting, merchandise of every description. CHARLES LEVY, 1049 Washington st., Roxbury; tel. 4500-3.

WE BUY every description wanted by private party; also pianos, if reasonable. Address B 23, Boston American, stating where to call.

SOLD FEATHER BEDS bought; highest cash price paid. AMERICAN FEATHER CO., 235-237 Friend st.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES paid on all kinds of furniture. GROSS & SON, 58 Hanover st., Roxbury.

Wall Papers.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

R. KUHNERT, 1049 Tremont st., paper hanging; $1.75, painting $1.50; whitewash, two rooms, $3.

S. A. MASON 2 Burbank st.—Cleaning of all kinds, personal painting whitewashing and tinting.

Machinery and Tools.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

MACHINERY moved by C. BOWEN, 2 Bosson st., cor. Rudkey st., Boston.

Furs.
15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

FURS remodeled, repaired, relined; muffs found, $1; furs for sale. TAYLOR'S, 83 Boylston.

Hotels—Where to Dine—Cafes.

M. H. LYONS & CO.
CHOP HOUSE. Steaks, chops, lobsters. Music. Ladies' cafe connected. 1105-1107 Washington st., 543 Garland st.

Furnished Rooms to Let.
12½c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

NEW HOTEL ST. CLOUD,
667 TREMONT ST.
QUIET, beautiful rooms, private baths; $1.50, $2, $2.50 per day; $8, $9, $10 per week; also elegant suites; excellent cuisine; Sunday chicken dinners 50c; week-day table d'hote 35c. Just below Massachusetts Theatre.

PEOPLE'S PALACE HOTEL,
COR. WASHINGTON and BRADDOCK sts., 287 rooms, steam, hot, running water, tel. and cold baths, 25c, 35c and 50c nightly.

HOTEL WARRINGTON TO BOSTON
Overlooking the Charles River; beautiful new apartments, single rooms and suites; modern improvements; large outside rooms and attractive parlors; telephone, elevator and agency of late opening will rent very reasonable; rates $20 to $30 per month; transient trade solicited; by week or day; every apartment; open all day, evenings and Sundays.

HOTEL TOURAINE, 70 Tremont st., rear entrance 29-35 Albion st.; free Dickering 175 rooms with or without baths; rates reasonable; running water in rooms; $6 up per day, $2 up week; families accommodated; 2 and 3 connecting rooms; tel. Ox. 2780.

HOSPITABLE looking girls to rent newly furnished rooms, private family, all home comforts; reasonable. 2 RAE TRIPP, 1255 Washington st., Boston.

FOR best bargain in furnished rooms in Back Bay call 276 West Newton st., suite 2, 2 doors from Huntington av.

FURNISHED sunny rooms, best location, house heating and otherwise, $1 up. WILLIAMS, 306 Dartmouth st.

APPLETON ST., 64—Rooms, steam heated; to let with board; private family; couple or gentleman.

APPLETON ST., 91—Front parlor, suitable for 2 gentlemen; 2 connecting rooms; $5 per week each.

APPLETON ST., 116—Newly furnished rooms to let by day or week; gentlemen only.

BERKELEY ST., 62—Newly furnished square room, with private bath; suitable for 2 gentlemen.

CHARLES ST., 108—Large front parlor, light housekeeping; also single room; $3.50.

CLARENDON ST., 50—Furnished suites, with and without baths; also single rooms; $3 up.

COLUMBUS AV., 275—Newly fur. rooms, steam heat, hot water, tel.; $3 up; transient trade respectfully solicited. Tel. Ox. 1270-J.

COLUMBUS AV., 419—Large sunny room for business couple, $5; piano, $. h. Bell 6.

CONCORD SQ., 1—Furnished sunny rooms for housekeeping; respectable parties only. Tel. Ox. 2040-M.

DARTMOUTH ST., 113—Clean, well fur. front room, $3 per week; $1.75 per day.

DENMARK ST., 5, back Symphony Hall—Newly furnished rooms, $3 up; write 766 Washington st.

DORCHESTER—Generx av., 421; large sunny room, suitable for 2; also single room; $2.50 per week.

DWIGHT ST., 9—Large front parlor, open fire place, back parlor, large front room, running water; $3.

GREENWICH PK., 19—Well furnished rooms; housekeeping.

HUNTINGTON AV., 144—Suite $1 look at elegant, large, sunny corner parlor; piano; suitable for 2.

JOY ST., 7—Large sunny room, $2 and $3 per week. Inquire of MRS. SMITH.

MASS. AV., 602—Select rooms for transients and table board; steam heat, elevator service. Tel. Ox. 1270.

REGENT SQ., 5—Off Regent st.; near Dudley st. terminal; sunny rooms, $1.75.

ROXBURY—9 Fountain st., off Regent, 2 or 3 furnished rooms for housekeeping; range, sink and gas.

SHAWMUT AV., 825—Square room, suitable for couple, $3.50; also single room, $2.50.

SHAWMUT AV., 841—Nicely fur. large sunny room, bath floor, h. & c., $; and c. water; tel. Ox. 2040-M.

SHAWMUT AV., 1—Large sunny room, front, for housekeeping; cook stove, $3.50.

SOMERVILLE—19 Warren pl.; large furnished front room with privilege of light housekeeping.

TREMONT ST., 1127—Sunny rooms, 1 flight, $3 per week; single, $1.50; steam heat, ninety floor.

TREMONT ST., 612, 626—Elegant, warm, large suites, $3 per week; single, $2.50; $1, $4.

UPTON ST., 7—The Angelus, comfortable for two; steam heat, hot water, convenient rooms; reasonable.

WEST ST., 35—Clean, newly furnished front dining room, housekeeping; $3.50; tel.

WEST NEWTON ST., 229—Beautifully furnished room with fireplace, bath floor, also nice single room; $3.

WEST BROOKLINE ST., 139—Side and square rooms, $1.50 up; 2 connecting, $3.

WEST NEWTON ST., 230—Steam heated flat, 5 rooms, bath; $30; also single room, $3; hot water; t

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON DECEMBER 10, 1912

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, DECEMBER 10, 1912.

Largest Circulation in New England, DAILY and SUNDAY.

A King and Queen Skating

What Do You Think About the King?

This is a picture of the King and Queen of Spain skating.

The photograph was taken on the King's private lake in Madrid.

The way to look at a picture is to THINK about it as you look.

What do you think about this King?

If he were not a King how much of a chance would he have to own a private lake, rule a nation or get his picture in a thousand newspapers!

He would probably be running the elevator in a second class Spanish hotel.

When you look at this King of Spain, and realize what he has stood for, you understand a good deal about the condition of unhappy Spain during centuries past.

Unhappy the country that depends for its guiding mind ON THE ACCIDENT OF BIRTH.

It is better in this country, for while our "guiding minds" are quite often picked out by organized money, organized money at least tries to select somebody of fair intelligence, so as not to offend the people.

This little King of Spain, at least, wants to be a good King. And he has personal courage.

That is something.

But Spain will begin to grow, as Portugal has already begun to grow, only when kings are put to work or politely pensioned, and the intelligence of the people is allowed to come to the top.

Christmas That Makes Thousands Miserable

You Who Read This Newspaper, and Other Buyers of Christmas Gifts, Can Free Many from Suffering AND AT THE SAME TIME HELP YOURSELVES.

Copyright, 1912, by American-Journal-Examiner

Tens of thousands of women and girls and men are worn out by the intense strain of Christmas work BECAUSE THE PEOPLE HAVENT SUFFICIENT CONSCIENCE TO CONSIDER THE EMPLOYES IN THE STORES.

Men and boys that do the packing of parcels must work late at night BECAUSE THOSE THAT LIVE COMFORTABLY WILL NOT TAKE THE TROUBLE TO DO THEIR SHOPPING EARLY IN THE DAY.

This Christmas season, which ought to mean happiness for all, means suffering, fatigue, overwork, loss of sleep and injury to health in thousands of cases.

Use your influence to impress upon your friends their duty to those that work to make the Christmas season successful.

It is an intensely important season to all of the people.

At this time of year, merchants sell the products that hundreds of thousands of workers have been creating for months past.

When you do your buying at the stores now you are not handing your money to the merchant who runs the store.

You are giving the money to that merchant that he may pass it on to the manufacturer and thus pay for the salaries of those that create the goods. The merchant's share is comparatively small. The share of hundreds of thousands of workers is the great part.

Remember, for your own sake, that shopping early in the day when the stores are not crowded, when the air is good, when the clerks are not so tired, makes your work easier and healthier.

Remember, for the sake of the women that work, for the sake of the harassed merchants trying to satisfy the public, for the sake OF COMMON DECENCY, that shopping early in the Christmas season and early in the DAY is a duty that no good citizen should neglect.

Remember, also, to keep your temper, be good natured, HAVE CONSIDERATION FOR THOSE THAT SERVE YOU.

Remember, that the man or woman whom you question has been answering thousands of questions that very day. Remember, that while YOU may be very intelligent, and very polite, the person to whom you talk deals all day long with many that have less intelligence, and are not at all polite. Be patient, good natured, CONSIDERATE, even if you happen to find a tired girl or harassed man a little short in temper.

You like others to help YOU, so you ought to want to help OTHERS.

It costs very little to say "Thank you," yet that "Thank you" to commerce is what oil is to the axle and the wheel.

Remember, "it's the voice with the smile that wins."

You might just as well go through the world quietly, kindly, gently and with a smile, as elbow and push and struggle and complain.

Give others a chance, set a good example. Be useful, considerate, A COMPASSIONATE atom in the great crowds that put a heavy load upon the store workers at this Christmas time.

Admiration

By HAL COFFMAN

Music of Bells Touches the Whole Gamut of Existence on This Earth

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

EVERYBODY whose soul is not dead to the human sentiment that is in the sound of bells will sympathize with the desire of the San Francisco people to borrow the "Liberty Bell" from Philadelphia during the great Pacific exposition.

There is probably no other sound-producing instrument that man has invented which is so intimately associated with all the best and deepest feelings of humanity. Church bells, wedding bells, alarm bells, sleigh bells, bells of joy, bells of sorrow, bells of patriotism, bells of devotion, bells of welcome, bells of victory, bells that proclaim the passing of the dead and the coming of new beings into life, bells that toll of home and awaken the tenderest sentiments of early life —bells touch the whole gamut of existence on this earth.

Once Napoleon, after his great victory at Marengo, was walking alone on a Sunday evening at Malmaison, meditating on his contemplated reconciliation with the church, when the bells in the neighboring village of Rueil began to ring. "I was deeply moved at that sound," he said afterward, "so vividly did it bring back to me the images of early days. If it be thus with me, how must it be with others! I know, now, that in re-establishing the church I am gratifying the wishes of the vast majority of the people."

Think of the famous bells of the world, of the part they have played in history, and of the memories that they awaken. To say nothing of the Liberty Bell, which every American regards as sacred, would London willingly part with "Big Ben" from its Parliament House, or Moscow with its "Tzar Kolokol," the great bell of the Kremlin, which weighs 180 tons? What would the people of Cork say if it were proposed to deprive them of the "Bells of Shandon," that "sound so grand on the pleasant waters of the River Lee," or the cockneys of Cheapside if someone were to deprive them of the sound of "Bow Bells," whose music turned Dick Whittington back to become Lord Mayor? What would Paris be without the wedding bells of Sainte Clotilde, or the bells of St. Germain l'Auxerrois, which sounded the knell of St. Bartholomew's eve?

Even the many superstitions that have been associated with bells only serve to exalt their human interest. In former times the sound of bells was believed to be capable of stilling the winds, of dispersing storms (on the principle of vibration, perhaps, like the "hail cannon," so widley used today in the vine-growing districts of France and Italy), of driving away demons, of warding off lightning, and of comforting the dead.

All these notions are summed up in those resounding Latin verses which are sometimes engraved on great bells:

Resounding Latin Verses Sum Up These Notions

"Funera plango, fulgura frango, sabbata pango, Excito lentos, dissipo ventos, paco cruentos," and which have been freely translated as follows:

"Death's tale I tell, the winds dispel, ill-feeling quell.

ONE HUNDRED WAYS TO EARN MONEY AT HOME, a 50-page booklet by Mabel Barclay Ury, will be sent postpaid to any address upon receipt of ten cents in stamps to cover cost of mailing and handling. Address Boston American Promotion Department, No. 5 Winthrop square, Boston.

Bells Share Quality of Their Sound with Nothing Else.

There is a peculiar quality in their sound that belongs to nothing else. They stir the imagination with unrivaled power. Musicians find that the harmonics of a bell differ from those of all other musical instruments. The "strike note" and the "hum note" of the bell have no precise equivalents. Their strange vibratory power seems to affect the cells of the brain like no other sound.

The sleepless sea, the storm-clouds break, the Sabbath wake."

The making of bells is an extremely ancient art, and every people have had them in one form or another. They have always been closely associated with religious observances, as they are still. In the earliest times of the Hebrews the garment of the high priest was decorated with golden bells. The Koran of Mohammed says that the trees of Paradise are hung with bells, which are rung by a wind proceeding from the throne of God.

There is a science of bells. They cannot be made indifferently of any metal that comes to hand. Long experience has demonstrated that the best bell-metal is an alloy, usually composed of about twenty parts of tin to eighty of copper. But the proportion is varied according to the tone that it is desired to impart, and to the size of the bell, the force of the stroke, etc.

Depth of Bell's Tone Increases With Its Size

The depth of tone increases with size. A thick "lip" is regarded as essential to produce the best sound. Much depends, also, on the precise shape of the "barrel," or drum, of the bell. The casting must likewise be perfect in order to have the best results. Many bells possess individual peculiarities, which cannot be imitated or precisely produced. They vary like the organs of human speech, and their voices are their own.

Nervous people sometimes make serious objections to the ringing of bells in towns, claiming their sound with other objectionable "noises." No doubt there are cases in which there is too much ringing of bells, but it would be a sad and colorless city that had no bells! It would be deprived of the most exquisite and effective means of expressing publicly its sympathies and its rejoicings. There are even people who object to sleigh-bells as mere noise. Well, they have evidently never lived in the country, or taken a moonlight ride over the snow-crusted hills, when even the stars seem to twinkle in harmony with the music of the bells, which is the nearest approach on earth to that of the spheres.

Hearst Says Republican Party Is Un-American

Organization That Confuses Majority Rule with "Mob Rule" Was Repudiated by Voters, He Explains, Because Leaders Lost Faith in the People.

(From the New York Press.)

On Saturday evening Mr. Frank Moss made a speech at the Young Republican Club, in which he discussed the recent disaster to the Republican party.

Mr. Moss' speech was illuminating, not perhaps so much on account of what he meant, but at least on account of what he said.

Mr. Moss spoke with sorrow of the great defection of the radical or popular vote from the Republican party at the late election.

He paraphrased the farmer's description of an automobile, and said that the Republican party reminded him of a "pair of pants" walking down the street without anything inside of them.

Then Mr. Moss continued his speech, and in the course of it made another noteworthy remark. He said that he did not believe in the recall of judges, and that the reason he did not approve of this idea was because he did not believe in "hurrying the courts over to mob rule."

There is a lesson in these two paragraphs of Mr. Moss' speech which Mr. Moss teaches to the discerning, but which he himself and most of the Republican leaders, seem too obstinate and opinionated to recognize, even in the face of the educational experience of the recent election.

Why does not Mr. Moss realize that there may be a very definite connection—a certain consecutiveness of cause and effect—between the two paragraphs in his speech?

Why cannot Mr. Moss see that the reason there are no popular legs in the "pants" of the Republican party is because of the unpopular, un-Republican, un-American actions and opinions and expressions of the leaders of the Republican party?

Perhaps it is useless to attempt to approach or affect the mind of the old-fashioned reactionary Republican. That mind is hard set in the grip of his prejudices. It is like the skeleton of some extinct animal buried in the stratum of a geological period that is past. It is like one of the fishes hidden in the darkness of the Mammoth Cave—a fish which has been so long without light that it has lost the means of detecting the light if ever a ray should reach it.

But Young Republicans have as yet the eyes to see and the ears to hear, and I would like to place before them some plain facts in contradiction of Mr. Moss' sentiments.

The initiative, the referendum, the recall, direct primaries and the other items of the progressive program are only exercised in practice through the political expression of the will of the majority, and the majority of the American people is not a mob, and majority rule is not mob rule.

The whole government of this American nation is based on the principle of majority rule, and the whole idea of majority rule is based on confidence in the wisdom and intelligence and patriotism of the mass of the people.

If you, Mr. Moss, and many other Republican leaders consider majority rule "mob rule" you naturally hesitate to allow a majority of American citizens the same control over their public property and public employes that all individuals are accustomed to their private business.

Therefore, you object to the referendum and the recall.

If you Republican leaders believe that the majority is a mob and that majority rule is mob rule, you naturally object to a free expression of this majority rule in the nomination of your candidates.

Therefore you oppose direct nominations and popular primaries.

Therefore you hold packed conventions.

Therefore you nominate men that the people do not want and reject the men that the people do want.

If you Republican leaders are convinced that majority rule is mob rule, you naturally oppose the unhampered operation of that principle in politics.

Therefore you have depended in elections upon the power of money, the pull of political machines and the sinister secret influence of the privileged interests.

Therefore you have been guided by the selfish shrewdness of the favored few and not by the wisdom and the judgment and the patriotic spirit of the majority of the people.

Therefore you have been disastrously and deservedly defeated.

Mr. Moss and gentlemanly leaders of the Republican party in general, the reason there are no popular legs in the Republican pair of "pants" is because the people have no confidence in the patriotism and capacity of the Republican party.

And the reason the people have no confidence in the Republican party is because the leaders of the Republican party have no confidence in the patriotism and capacity of the people.

It was not Mr. Roosevelt who defeated the Republican party at the late election.

It was not Mr. Wilson who defeated the Republican party at the late election.

It was the well-considered determination of the competent and conscientious voters of this nation to repudiate a party which had repudiated the people, to rebuke a party which had ceased to serve the people, to depose a party which had lost faith in the people.

The first great leader of the Republican party led his party to a splendid and supreme success because he had an abiding and impelling and inspiring faith in the worth and wisdom of the people, in a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

You Young Republicans have heard that final phrase fall so often from the lips of shallow and insincere politicians that it has become almost a meaningless commonplace.

Imagine what those words meant to Abraham Lincoln, and what they should and would mean to you if you heard them for the first time, uttered with all the fervor of conviction and, inspiration by the man who not only gave freedom to the slaves, but restored popular liberty and civic conscience to the nation, and established the eternal right of the majority to rule—by the men who not only retained our territory undivided, but preserved the principles and purposes of our republic undefiled.

It is impossible to conceive Abraham Lincoln referring to majority rules s "mob rule," and the difference between the Republican party of Lincoln's day and the Republican party of today is exactly as great as the difference between the ideas and utterances of Lincoln and the ideas and utterances of the Republican leaders of today.

There will never be any popular legs in the Republican pair of political "pants" until there is a change in the character of Republican principles, until there are Republican leaders who do not believe that a government of the people, by the people and for the people is "mob rule."

The Republican party and the nation need leaders who, like Lincoln, have confidence in the capacity of the people to regulate all functions of government, to control all public officials and to direct the destinies of this great nation for the best interests of all.

When the Republican party can furnish such leaders it may hope to regain its place in the public confidence and esteem.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

If Santa Claus Were Poor

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

I'LL bet when Mister Santa Claus was just a kid like me
He got his reg'lar presents off a reg'lar Chris'mas tree;
I'll bet he had a big, fine house to stay in through a storm,
An' shoes an' overcoats an' clo'es that kep' him good an' warm;
Because, if he had been like me, I know that he'd be sure
To make a visit every year to children that are poor.

If he could see our baby now that never had no toys,
Perhaps he'd hold some presents out on other little boys
That got so many every year, an' leave just one or two
To give the kid a chance to play like other babies do;
But I don't s'pose he'll do it, 'cause he never knowed the way
Things are with kids whose Chris'mas is like any other day.

That drum I seen downtown today I do not need so bad,
An' it's the same with other things that I ain't never had,
But gee! my little sister! it is tough to hear her cry,
Because she cannot have no doll, an' I can't tell her way;
I guess it's no use worryin', fer that don't help at all,
Because this feller Santa Claus was rich when he was small.

He never had to stand outside a great big lighted store,
A kind of holdin' back the tears an' feeling mighty sore,
To see them guns an' trains o' cars an' thinkin' 'bout the fun
That other kids was going to have while he was havin' none;
I wouldn't wish a man bad luck, but when I'm blue an' cold,
I wish that he was poor like me when HE was nine years old.